LOCAL AND GENERAL. Anybody wishing to buy bonds will please inquire at this office. Buffalo Bill had large audiences in Butler notwithstanding the rain.

—Foliage destroying worms are doing greater damage this year than ever before. —The hotel Co. of Tarantum had an interesting exhibit in Floral Hall, last week.

—The moral of the attempted murder of the President is that—"The Anarchists must go." —The Pittsburg Expo. opened last Wednesday evening with Sonsa's hands and an immense attendance.

—The Butler Branch of the West Penn R. R. is said to be on the program for a complete reconstruction. —Sixteen State citizens are preparing to erect a $2,000 academy building, and expect its equipment to cost several hundred more.

—Butler has some outrageously bad sidewalks, especially on the job being streets which have been overlaid by the floods this year. —The West Penn railroad is building a new bridge over the Buffalo at Monroeville. The old covered wooden bridge had been condemned for three years.

—Philadelphia tried to sell some three pound bonds a few weeks ago and failed, but the Butler School Board sold $4,000 worth, last week, and had offers for as many more. —One of Buffalo Bill's big wagons stuck in the mud just as the show left Tuesday night, and in front of the street car barn. Cars could not get past the wagon and therefore missed many nickels.

—The street car line was tied up from Sunday afternoon until Tuesday morning by the breaking of the main shaft on the engine which generates their power at the Butler L. H. & M. plant. Many intended visitors to the Park were disappointed Sunday afternoon. —The Compulsory School Law. I wish to call attention to the new compulsory school law which closely connects parents, pupils, teachers, directors and superintendent.
