Ex-Senator Shoup of Idaho, a former citizen of Armstrong county, is here accompanied by a number of prominent Idaho Republicans, among, whom are Judge D. W. Stonerod, Mr. Shonp's successor on the Republican National committee, and George N. Ifft, editor of the Pocatello Tribune. Mr. Ifft is a former well-known Pittsburg newspaper man. The delegation is here looking after Idaho patronage, several important Federal offices having to be filled soon—Washington correspondent, Pittsburg Times.

POLITICAL.

United States senators were elected Kentucky. In the Buckey state. Joseph B Foraker, Republican, was elected to succeed himself; in the Blue Grass state. James B McCreary, nocrat, was elected to succeed William J Deboe, the present Republican senator; in Maryland, Arthur Pue Gor-senator; in Maryfand, Arthur Pue Gorman, Democrat, has been elected to succeed George L. Wellington, Republican Mr, Gorman re-enters the senate after four years' absence.

At the meeting to be held in Pittsburg, Saturday, of the Congressional committees of Butler and Westmoreland counties, it is said that the latter will insist that each county be given a delegate to the Congressional Convention for each 2000 Republican voters, and although Butler county is much the smaller of the two we think its Republicans would prefer the popular vote of the district.

At a meeting held in Pittsburg, Tuesday, another unsuccessful effort was made by representatives of Washington, Beaver and, Lawrence counties to arrive at some agreement on the method to be employed in nominating a Republican candidate for Congress in the Twentyfourth district. compromise in sight.

Lawrence suggests that it will accept a modified popular vote system by which the larger county will not have too great an advantage. The plan is to divide each county into 15 districts, as compact and equal in size as possible, the divisions to be made by the respective county committees. The voters will then designate by popular vote their first. second and third choice for Congress, and the candidate receiving a majority of the votes for first choice is to be the nominee.
