—The New York tunnels are getting lots of advertising just now; but just wait till the Pennsylvania begins crawling through the mile of soft mud under the Hudson.

—A Butler girl, fifteen years of age, has been found who refuses to let herelders encase her in corrects. Give her a crown of laurel. Are there not more of the same metal?

—The rewards now offered by the Councils of New Castle and the County of Lawrence for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of John Blevins aggregate ten thousand dollars.

—T. A. Morrison has harvested over 3,000 tons of ice from 10 to 12 inches thick—the finest they ever put up, free of snow or slush. J. A. Richey has harvested about 800 tons of the same.

—A box social and literary entertainment will be given in the St Clair school—the new school in Centre twp.

PILISBURG Orchestra.

The two concerts this week. Friday evening and Saturday afternoon, will by many be considered to have the best program of the season. Not only does Wagner dominate the list as a composer but the soloist, Madame Schumann Heink, is one of the great dramatic singers of the day, and perhaps is the most popular artist that comes to Pittsburg. This will be the only concert appearance this season of Madame Schumann-Heink, and as she has not decided to come to this country next year it may be the last opportunity to hear her.

One of the principal successes of the New York theatrical season of two years ago, was A Colonial Girl, which achieved a record of 200 nights run. It is generally conceded by far the most acceptable play of the Colonial period yet written. When it was originally produced in New York it created a veritable sensation. A Colonial Girl is the joint work of Mrs. Abbey Sage Richardson and Miss Grace L. Furniss, who have given the stage so many successful plays. A Colonial Girl will be given at the Grand in Pittsburg, the week beginning Mon. Feb. 3.

Shall woman propose? "She shall not—if she respects the unwritten law on that subject. But she may make some very strong hints when her best fellow calls to see her. She can tell about the loneliness and hollowness of her life; how she yearns to toss aside the frivolities and the follies of girlhood and the vagaries of new women; how she loves to do housework and to start the fire early every morning, etc. A cold-blooded proposal from a girl to a young man is decidedly awkward for both, but strong hints are always in order."
