way. In the darkness they dashed into it, only to recede the next moment. "It's full of smoke!" cried the foreman.

"But Billy?" questioned Paddy. "He'll have to find his own way out. We can't bother with him."

"What is it, Billy?" asked Paddy. "I don't know," replied Billy. "I don't see anything but a lot of smoke."

FARM GARDEN A HANDY DUMP SLED.

A Convenience For Handling Manure. The illustrations show a dumping sled for one or two horses which an Ohio farmer considers a convenience for farm dirt and manure that will be appreciated by many.

MIXED FEEDING STUFFS. Farmers Can Educate Their Eyes to Detect Inferior Mixtures. Commenting upon a class of feeding stuffs bearing such brand names as "chop feed," "corn and oat feed," "mixed feed," etc., which are sold by a dealer to conclude that the mixtures are made up of corn and oats, Messrs. Jordan and Jenter of the Geneva (N. Y.) station say:

They have the appearance of being corn and oats because cornmeal or hominy feed and oat hulls are present. The grain portion of the mixture is made up of corn and oats, Messrs. Jordan and Jenter of the Geneva (N. Y.) station say:

Each Preserved in Water Glass. A solution of water glass is now commonly used for the purpose of preserving in experiments at the North Dakota station a 10 per cent solution of water glass acted so well that "at the end of three and one-half months eggs were still preserved in the first part of August still appeared to be perfectly fresh."

Curious Picture Frames. In many churches of Provence and Italy, especially those near the sea, votive paintings placed on the walls in accordance with the number of the faithful in moments of danger are often remarkable for their frames.

Two Views.

"It is hard to lose one's relations," said the scoldy individual with a morning band on his hat. "Hard," echoed the man whose check is good for a million. "Why, sir, it's simply impossible."—Chicago News.

FOLLIES OF FASHION

SARTORIAL VAGARIES OF THE CENTURIES THAT ARE GONE. Grotesque Styles That Reigned in the Time of Chaucer—Bainment of the Hair—The Hat—The Gown—Men Who Starched Their Beards.

It is a little gratifying to reflect that, however the man of today may compare with his ancestors of bygone centuries in physique and morals, his dress is much more moderate and inexpensive, even if it is less picturesque, than theirs.

Portuguese Hotel Clocks. It is the fashion for Portuguese clocks to strike the hour twice over. Heaven only knows why, for certainly the people are not so keen about the profitable use of their time that they require to be reminded thus of its flight.

Two Cruel Punishments. The gantlope, or gantlet, was military and naval punishment for theft. The man had to run the gantlet of a long file of his fellow soldiers, each provided with a switch, and to prevent the sinner going too rapidly and to make him stop, impelled by motives of friendliness or kindness, failed to strike hard, a sergeant walked backward, facing the sinner, with a halberd pointed at the latter's back.

Beating the Air. There are two curious things about cats that are not generally known. Yellow hairs, however few in number, always indicate the female. No male ever had the slightest tint of yellow. That is one curiosity, and the other is that a blue eyed cat is always deaf. To be sure, blue eyed cats are scarce, and it is possible that some deaf cats may not be blue eyed; but wherever you find a blue eyed cat that feline is absolutely incapable of hearing thunder.

POINTERS ON MANICURING.

When the nails are fragile, a little wax and almond rubbed upon them will strengthen them. It is better to use a little almond oil or cold cream will be found beneficial.

To remove white spots from the nails use a mixture of refined pitch and a little turpentine. The establishment at the foot of the next morning with olive oil.

For manicuring only a pair of curved nail scissors, a nail file, an orange stick, a manicure brush, a bottle of vasoline and a box of rose salve or nail powder are necessary.—Mary E. Walker, M. D., in Ladies' Home Journal.
