When one of the men who stood aside for John M. Greer ten years ago took him to task for his treachery now, he was informed that "no young man could afford to take the office of Judge Butler county for but one term."
"But," said the other man "We are inter for yourself," replied Greer.

As we have find one or more Gre in office here almost continuously for thirty years, besides one or two in Washington, would it not be a good idea, (for a time at least) to allow them to "shinter" for themselves.
