-It is notorious that the confirmed practical joker is the least tolerant of okes at his own expense. He is never ble to see any fun in being duped. This adds much to the enjoyment of those who manage to trick him. On one of the big days at the Buffalo Exposition the hotels were forced to make new arrivals double up. A drummer who was an inveterate practical joker proposed to have a room and bed to himself. He suggested to his friend the clerk that should any applicant for half his bed prove persistent, he should be told that the drummer was just convalescent from small-pox. The drummer was aroused from the first deep sleep by a man getting into the bed. "Hold on there!" he cried; "didn't the clerk tell you I have smallpox?" "Yes," replied the new-comer, drawing up the covers, "but that's all right—I've got it myself!" With a yell the drummer leaped from the bed, seized his clothes, dressed in the hall and spent the night in a chair, longing for the morning he could get himself disinfected. In the morning he discovered that the other man was a joker himself. The drummer was infuriated by such shabby treatment.

Grand Opera in Pittsburg.

The fourth season of Grand Opera Pittsburg by the entire company om the New York Metropolitan ope-house is fixed for the four evenings from the New York Metropolitan opera house is fixed for the four evenings of April 14th. 15th, 16th and 17th and the afternoon of Wednesday. April 16. The entire company of artists, the full chorus and orchestra and the scenery used in New York, in fact everything will be transferred to Pitts burg for these five performances.

The Pittsburg season of opera is now the most brilliant one outside of New York although short. The reason of this is that Mr. G. H. Wilson, manager of the Pittsburg orchestra, who undertakes the opera season more for the love of it than for any other reason, guarantees the Maurice Grau Opera company its highest figure and in return he selects the operas to be given and the artists to be heard. The result is the best list of operas possible and such an array of artists for each as is not heard out of New York.

Fully 200 people will take part in the Pittsburg performances; the scheme of operas is as follows:

Monday evening, April 15th: Paderewski's new operator "Manara"

Tuesday evening, April 15th: Padere wski's new opera of "Manru." Wednesday afternoon, April 16th Wednesday evening, April 16th: "Lohengrin." Thursday evening, April 17th: Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro."

The Davis Sewing Machine leads all others, it is not merely to fill a column with an advertisement. I mean that no other machine is so simple! I mean that no other machine is so finely made! And that no other machine is so easily run! The "Davis" is polished like a watch; it will not kill a woman to run it; it will do more than double the variety of work, without basting, than any other machine can do. All other sewing-machine men acknowledge this, but says, "Our's is the cheapest." But I say that to buy a cheap sewing machine is not economy. The best is always the cheapest.
