When Insurance Commissioner Durham was shown this statement he said: 'I concur with Senator Quay."

Many hours before Quay was visited by Elkin, the latter was informed by a mutual friend that the Senator urged him to withdraw for the reason that his nomination would jeopardize Penrose's candidacy for re-election to the United States Senate by the coming State Legislature, and would imperil the party in a number of Congressional districts also. Quay's message added that, should Elkin persist in the race, the Senator would feel obliged at an early day to make a public statement of his reasons for urging the withdrawal. After a long conterence on this message, Eyre announced that Elkin had "gone too"

Mr. McCall, who had almost forote her. Mr. McCall, who had almost fore her. Mr. McCall, who nnounced that Elkin had "gone too far in the fight to quit." Elkin sent word to Quay that he could conceive of no conditions demanding his withdrawal, and his name would go before the convention, irrespective of what might be its action. To a friend he added:

"I decline absolutely to withdraw from the contest. I will be a candidate if I get only 10 delegates." The Pittsburg "Gazette" approves

Quay's course and the "Dispatch" thinks the situation has been "somewhat The "Times" reviews the situation and ends its editorial this way "The fact cannot be gainsaid that the present political situation in Pittsburg and Allegheny county is the sole and moving cause of Mr. Elkin's downfall, if that downfall is to be accomplished He is to be made the victim of a sit uation which he largely helped to bring about, and to add to the bitterness of his fate the men whom he helped and the men who were his most active and earnest coadjutors in the work are now those who have turned was re-elected County Chairman by a to rend him. ### Sunday's Post. Mortgage Burned

One of the most happy events in the history of the Butler U. P. church was the burning. Tuesday evening, of a mortgage which has encumbered the church property at McKean and Jefferson streets for the last 12 years. In order to redeem the mortgage and destrooit, it was necessary during the past 12 months to raise $3000. F. H. Bole was chairman of the committee which had this task in hand and successfully accomplished it, and he was Chairman of Tuesday evening's jollification.
