FEEDING CONFEDERATES.

Lee's Soldiers Drew Three Days' Rations. There has been some controversy as to the incidents connected with General Grant's issue of rations to Lee's troops at Appomattox. General Michael R. Morgan writes to the Washington Post as follows:

Memorial Day

With M'KINLEY

In the country villages of Ohio Memorial day, or Decoration day, as it is more often called, is the biggest day of the year, said an old newspaper correspondent. Months in advance, sometimes a year, names are exacted from leading speakers, who are usually referred to by the country folk as big guns. It is not an uncommon thing for the governor of the state to make a Memorial day address in a town of a few hundred inhabitants. The towns that are so fortunate as to get a senator or congressman to address their people naturally look with haughty disdain on sister towns that do not have an orator with a judge, editor, lawyer or the village preacher.
