

There's many a cause for headache. Men are not often troubled by headaches. When they are it is generally due to bilbusness or indigestion. But women ave headaches which seem peculiar to heir sex, frequent nervous throbbing eadaches. Does it not seem as if such eadaches peculiar to women must be at ice related to womanly disease? Womwho suffer with diseases peculiar to e sex do not realize the drain of vital ength and nerve force they undergo a consequence of disease. It is this lich causes the familiar headaches of k women.

as a consequence of disease. It is this which causes the familiar headaches of sick women.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures such headaches by curing the cause—irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration or female weakinflammation, ulceration or female weakinflammation, ulceration or female weakings. "Favorite Prescription" invigorates and tones up the entire system, encourages the appetite, quiets the nerves and gives refreshing sleep.

I was troubled with congestion of the uterus and female weakness for five years," writes Mrs. Robt. Kerwin, of Albert, Hastings Co., Ont. "Was so weak and nervous I could hardly do any work. "There seems to be a mistake here.
We are taught that if a person falls into the water he must save himself into the water he must save himself or drown, but we are not taught that if he does save himself he is at liberty to lick half of China in revenge."

"I thought his point well taken," laughed the colonel, "and I stopped my score at five and went down to change into dry clothes."—Boston Globe.

Apple Trees For Beauty and Fruit. Apple trees are so beautiful, even when bare of bloom and fruit, that they should be grown in pleasure gardens, like illacs and laburnums. Tennyson speaks of orchard lawns, and nyson speaks of orchard lawns, and there is no reason except bad taste why they should not have a real existence. The gloom of the fir tree, magnificent no doubt in its own northern forest, is mere incongruous dreariness when it is dotted about a suburban lawn. Nothing will thrive under it, and often it will not thrive itself, but the expense with all the associated beau. and often it will not thrive itself, but the apple, with all the associated beauty of the countryside, gives us fruit and blossom and grateful shade. In the grass under it will grow daffodils, columbines, irises and many other plants, or it may be trained as a hedge to divide one part of the garden from another and with all these uses may still produce great crops of fruit. It would be a pleasant task for the subwould be a pleasant task for the sub-urban gardener with his half acre of ground to grow three or four choice apple trees with the care that others give to roses.—London Speaker.

The Palate Lock.

A woman who had solved the servant girl question by importing a buxom young colored girl from Virginia went out to give her orders for dinner one day and was astounded to see the negro sitting on the floor with her halr, or wool, standing out around her head in a black and shiny nimbus. Not hearing the approach of the mistress, the servant went on with her occupation, which was pulling first one curly lock and then another in a way that suggested that she had either lost a fortune or "got religion." The madam stared a moment and then exclaimed:

"For goodness' sake, Betty, what are you doing?"

The maid hurriedly scrambled to her feet and answered:

"Oh, nothin', ma'am. Saxony possesses one of the best regulated systems of forestry in the world. The forests of Saxony serve not only the purpose of giving the state a substantial annual revenue, but they add a thousandfold to the scenery of the country, thus attracting many tourists into those parts every summer. The most important feature of the forests, however, is the fact that they keep forever alive the fountains of water which spring from the highlands of the Erzgebirge and Saxon Switzerland. The forests furnish the material and the water the motive power to hundreds of pulp, paper and saw mills, which, in turn, give employment to

Sno√ In Venice.
"I saw Venice once under unusual circumstances," said a traveler. "At the time of which I speak that supply, smiling land was wrapped in snow Our folks were a bit surprised, but the natives were amazed. To the real Venetians snow is a thing they do not know how to deal with. Many persons remain all day in bed indulging in hot drinks and pass their time in doing nothing. The children, to their extreme satisfaction, are not sent to school, as the streets and squares are covered with snow. Those courageous persons who venture abroad only walk at the slowest pace. To cross a bridge is considered hazardous, if not foolbardy. St. Mark's square is entirely deserted Even the pigeons are invisible."
