cle does not believe there will be a reversal.

The result on its face is apparently that the common stock will suffer, because the plan involved reducing fixed charges to a large extent by lowering interest from seven to five cent. On the other hand, the stockholders remain in closer control of their property and there will be no bonus of $10,000,000 paid to Morgan & Co. for effecting the conversion, a process that ought not to cost one-tenth of that amount.
