Wellington's Lecture Postponed.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 30TH Is the date now fixed for the lecture to be given by U. S. Senator Wellington of Maryland, in the Y. M. C. A. Hall in the interest of the Grace Lutheran church. The price of tickets is 25 cents and can be secured at the doors. Lecture at turn to us this year with a much opportunity, discard his buckskin breeches and attempt to dress like the breeches and attempt to dress like the white man. It is apparent to all that Mr. Indian is not as picturesque in the clothing of civilization as he is in full war paint and feathers. Major Gordon W. Lillie (Pawnee Bill), in relating his experience with the red man says: "Give an Indian money and he will buy a hat if he is where hats are sold and worn. The chances are that he never owned a head-covering in all his previous life, and let him remain in the brush he will not want it. But it happens that as soon as he comes East the brush ne will not want it. But it happens that as soon as he comes East he wants to dress like the people he sees around him, and, consequently, his value as an exhibit detracts as soon as he dons the garb of a white man." Few ne dons the garb of a white man." Few Indians are used after they have travel Indians are used after they have traveled one season, for it is next to impossible to make them stick to their own manner of costume. This is more especially so with the bucks than with the squaws, who seek to merely add color to their dress rather than modify style of garment. A squaw will dress her hair just the same as her parents did for centuries. Mr. Buck, however, wants his hair cut same as pale-face brother, and thus it is that every season Pawnee Bill has a new set of Indians for his Wild West, in order that his exhibit of Indians may be in all the fanhibit of Indians may be in all the fan
