TWO EXTREMES

A close student of Eyes will konw that it is neither necessary nor advisable to hold a newspaper or book at the tip of ones nose or at arms length when reading. But we see it every day. With children it is often called habit until the eyes give out or the child breaks down, then it is called Astigmatism, Hypermetropia. Heteraphoria or Myopia. It should be called criminal neglect. With adults it means overwork of the eyes, latent defect, or we're not so young as we used to be. In 75 per cent. of these two extremes glasses properly fitted will effect a cure. No charge for examination.
