Politics in Allegheny are becoming as warm as in Pittsburg. "It is now up to the people of Alle gheny to choose between a reputable and honorable citizen and a rascally clared Judge Elliott Rodgers, of Common Pleas court No. 2, at an enthusiastic meeting held by the Republicans of the Eleventh ward, Allegheny, Tuesday night. Judge Rodgers delivered an address to the large crowd which assembled in Schwerd's hall, on McClure ave. An effort made by members of the Citizens-Democrat party, headed by clared Judge Elliott Rodgers, of Com-Citizens-Democrat party, headed by George W. Bottles, who has been promsed the captaincy of police under James G. Wyman in the event that the latter is elected city recorder, to secure an indorsement of Mr. Wyman, inspired the speech of Judge Rodgers, which was animated throughout.

Among the Democrats, who hold their primaries on Saturday of this week (the 17th), the chief interest seems to centre in the contest for the nomination for Burgess, between Col. I. G. (Charley) Smith, the millionare, and present Burgess; Major William Ken-nedy and ex-Chief of Police, Robert Ray.

For the Republican nomination, which occurs the Saturday following (the 24th), several citizens are named The office is one of honor and responsi bility. Mrs. Amelia Campbell, wife of John S. Campbell, died suddenly at her home early Friday morning. She had been a sufferer from organic heart disease for several years, but seemed to be much improved for a few days previous to her death and was able to attend to her household duties in her usual manner. She retired in good spirits Thursday night, was awake at midnight and at 5 o'clock her husband awoke'to find her in her death struggles, which were of brief duration. Mrs. Campbell led a noble life which was the embodiment of true Christian character that was made prominent by her manvacts of filial affection, love and hospitality. Of a most cheerful and sunny disposition she imparted unwavering and constant happiness to her home. She was a daughter of the late John A. Campbell and sister of Thos. M. Campbell of Niles, O., W. H. of Hooker and James I. of Magic. Her husband and daughters, Mrs. Wm. B. McCandless of Euclid, Mrs. Clande Murtland of Baldwin, Miss Daisy of Slippery Rock Normal College, and Deiphi, at home, survive her. She was in her 59th year at death. Obituary.

EX-GOVERNOR D. H. HASTINGS. Former Governor Daniel Hartman Hastings died at his home in Bellefonte last Friday morning. He had been il but a few days. A severe cold, which daysloved into playing and proposed in developed into pleurisy and pneumonia, was the cause of death. He went home from Philadelphia Sunday and refused the entreaties of his family that a physician be summoned. The ex-Governor, however, believed that his illness was of no consequence and that he ernor, however, believed that his illness was of no consequence and that he would soon be well again. He seemed better on Thursday, but a sudden change came over him that might, and he died next morning. The popularity he gained by his work at Johnstown, immediately after the great flood made him Governor, and his record as Governor was good, but his administration did not suit Quay, and he retired from office out of favor with the state machine.
