CURRENT EVENTS. In scientific circles the most talked of invention or discovery, at present, is which is declared by practical scientific en to solve all the difficulties of wire less telegraphy, thus making that sys and a menace to the great companies built up on the wire system. "It is difficult," says the Inquirer, "to explain to the ordinary person the workings of any part of this system. Fundamentally, the service depends on excitement by electricity of so-called Hertzian waves, which spread in all practically for at least three thousand niles, with sufficient force to affect instruments specially prepared to repeat urbances in a telephone cause similar disturbances at the other end of the wire and reproduce speech. The great ifficulty has been that the receiving instruments have depended on a mechan ical arrangement which works slowly and often faultily. The Hewitt invention is simple and effective. The reproduction does not depend largely on mechanical arrangement, but is-well, and no man is able to define it.

The suggestion has been made that Hertzian waves are broken atoms carried by the ether, and this accounts for the fact that the X-rays permeate much solid matter and that radium rays oken atoms are so small that they are estimated to weigh one four quadrillionth of a gram each. This seems like nonsense, but it is the result of the latest study of the subject. The imhese mysterious waves are made to serve the purposes of man in a commer-cial way. Wireless telegraphy is yet nas progressed far more in the few years it has been studied than did ordipary telegraphy in a similar period of commercial invention is exploded, We seem to be on the verge of discover ies which will make previous one Rail-less railroads, and flying machine that will fly may be expected next and with such tremendous possibilities before us why should we worry over such trifles as Quay joining the Democrats, a South American blockade, or a pros-

WASHINGTON NOTES.

On Thursday last Senator Quay join ed hands with the filibusters against the ratification of the Panama canal bill claiming that he did so, not because he is opposed to the building of the canal but because he was wilfully deceived b some of the Republican leaders who called the conference of Republican Senators Tuesday afternoon. He said ified before that date a tangle might that they told him that unless the treasue which could readily become of in- ty was ratified before March 4th the option of the Panama Canal Company would lapse and that the United State ould not again be in the same favora ble position for purchasing the proper ty. They told him the company would ask $60,000,000 when they well knew the President that very day had wired the Panama company that its proposi tion was accepted and that by such ac eptance there was no need for hurry in ratifying the treaty. Upon these representations he was in duced, he claims, to consent to laying the statehood bill aside temporarily, so as to permit the executive sessions nec essary to wear out the opposition Senator Morgan of Alabama to the Canal bill. On Friday the Senate was tied up i

When it is learned that there are between three and four hundred jobs paying more than $900 a year in Pittsburg alone the total reaching well over half a million, and these outside the police, fire and white wings branches, and the Controller's office, some conception may be had of the motive behind the stress of the late campaign in those cities. A Tale of Life.

What is my ambition?
The morning sun is bright,
My heart and hope alike leap high
And life is all delight. What is my ambition?

The sun stands high at noon, I must achieve some purpose, I can't commence too soon. What is my ambition? The sun is evening red.
The day is past and life is done,
Ambition—it is dead.

My Love.

My love has eyes of richest blue, And in their depths I see Myself reflected, and I know That in her heart I be As truly set; just as I am, Without one fault co And any virtue that I have All, all for her revealed.

My love has lips so ruby red, so set like Cupid's bow That streams of love from their rich depths Continually doth flow. And back of these are pearly teeth, And back of these a throat, Where dwells ecstatic melody

In sweet seraphic note. But better than her bonny e'en And lips that do enthrall,
My love's a mind for all mankind,

A heart aglow for all.

There dwells the generous thought that can
O'erlook the faults in me.
There wells the song that speaks he

Of love for all that be. And would you ask me why she's fair And loved by all who know? Look to her heart, and there you'll see That selfsame love aglow. For all the love that's showered on her. And all the balm for pain,
