Republican Announcements. For Jury Commission. A. O. EBERHART, of Butler twp.

Meeting of County Committee. The members of the Republican County Committee will meet in Butler, on Saturday, March 21, 1903.

CURRENT EVENTS. The 71st Congress of the United States expired by limitation and adjourned yesterday.

The people of this country have become alarmed during the past few years at the rapid accumulation of its wealth in the hands of the few.

President Roosevelt appears to be satisfied with the outcome, but at the same time, it is a curious fact that so many of the people are so anxious to see the President re-elected.

The President had to contend with a Senate composed of wealthy men, most of whom are probably in the position of Mr. Quay.

American literature is developing both in quantity and quality. The figures for 1902, just announced, show that 7888 new books were published in this country during that year.

The "historical romance" has become the most popular form of story, and of all that have ever been written in and of this country none excel Dr. McCook's "The Lattinners."

Authors of popular books make money, but, as an exchange remarks: "Because a few books sell enormous editions there is a general impression that the circulation of the average book is small."

On Wednesday of last week Governor Penneycker sent in his first veto. The veto was applied to a bill of Representative Mansfield, of Beaver.

The House was on its dignity that morning. The Senate had passed a resolution withdrawing from the Governor the right of appointment.

The State cash box is not, just at present in danger, for between it and the demands upon it stand the House and Senate appropriation committees.

The evidence accumulated by a Commission, lately appointed by the government of Saxony, to inquire as to the causes of longevity, is somewhat surprising.

On Tuesday last Senator Tillman of South Carolina threatened to block the Naval Appropriation and General Deficiency bills until his state's claim for $17,245 was paid.

The two new U. S. Senators from Delaware, one an Adickes man and the other a regular, were sworn in and took their seats, Tuesday. That state has been unrepresented in the Senate for four years.

On Tuesday the bill appropriating $20,000 to purchase a site for a public building in Butler passed both Houses, and now awaits the President's signature.

"Filibustering" was in the air in Washington last week. The Democrats of the House tried it on Thursday, their grievance being the attempt by the Republicans to amend Representative Butler's bill on the subject of the Louisiana Purchase.

The Montana Legislature has a bill before it licensing gambling, on the local option plan. The legislature of Arizona and New Mexico would probably license gambling on Sunday, and the state of the U. S. Senators to the highest bidder on Monday.

Our entire country is studying the best and latest methods of doing our work. If you are thinking of having some work done in this line I am sure you will be well pleased if you have it done at The Butler Book Bindery.

A SUNDAY MURDER.

Sunday evening Karl Paine, chef at the Standard Hotel on Fairground avenue, and Eugene Clifton, waiter, quarreled over an order for supper.

After threatening each other Paine pointed with the carving knife he was using to cut meat to the throat of Clifton.

The police were notified at once. Clifton was taken to his room, put on his coat and overcoat and led through the back kitchen door.

The Changeling Child.

The Scientific Explanation of the Change Formerly Attributed to the Fairies.

In folk lore stories there is frequent mention of changelings—children who were changed by fairy influence.

Some loving wife and proud husband found their child weak of body, and sometimes weak of mind.

It seemed impossible that love could bring such a child into the world.

The doctor said it was called a fairy change, a child substituted by the fairies for one whom in their envy for its loveliness they had changed.

We hear no more of fairy stories. Stern science says that healthy and lovely children are born to healthy parents, and that when the mother in her days of waiting and anticipation is nervous, anxious, sleepless and generally fretful, her child will be weak and nervous.

How reasonable this is. The child can have no strength while the mother does not give it, and how can the weak mother, who has not enough strength herself, have anything to spare for her babe?

THE FAIRY GOD-MOTHER is a very pretty invention. But the real fairy god-mother is the natural mother.

It is the very question for women, as the mother to blame because she is nervous, because her appetite fails and her strength wanes, because she is sleepless and despondent?

Yet a woman's health is practically in her own control. If she is weak she can be made well.

When I wrote to you in March, asking advice for my child, my friend says Mrs. Ella Reynolds, of Guffie, McLean Co., Ky.

"I was expecting the baby's health to be better, but it was sick all the time. Had been sick for several months. Could not get anything to stay on my stomach, not even water."
