Can the Theater Fire Be Prevented?

The panic and horror of collision at sea, with the terrible roar of the engulfing water, is only exceeded by the most pitiful of calamities in the theater.

The question of theater fires has received exhaustive treatment abroad. Out of 516 theater fires of which we have record, 490 were burned in the hundred years, 1777 to 1877.

The average life of an American theater during this period was only about thirteen years, but fireproof construction has certainly doubled the life of the structures.

Mr. and Mrs. McCain have the sympathy of the whole community, and it is hoped that it will be in a substantial way, as their entire savings of $354 was consumed by fire.

J. N. Thompson intends to buy a cutter, the sleighing lasts sixty days, and he says he knows it will, for he had a moon far south.

My Old Home in Old Penn Twp. Today as I sit and ponder on the end of all my ways.

Again I thought of my mother, the long list of theaters destroyed by fire breaking out during a performance, and the numerous instances of fire breaking out during these performances, but which are put out before spreading.
