John Cleland celebrated the 63d anniversary of his birth, Friday. For a dozen years past he has made his home with his son, D. L. in Butler, and during all that time he has been suffering from paralysis of his legs from the knees down. He formerly lived at Portersville, and at Hadley and Sanjour in Mercer county, and by trade was a blacksmith.

S. P. McCalmont, the millionaire proprietor of Franklin who died last week, delivered his most effective temperance lecture perhaps after his death. By the provisions of his will, filed for probate in Mercer county, his property as of his children who indulge in tobacco, liquor or narcotic drugs in any form shall be sold to the highest bidder to the hands of his executors and the proceeds thereof shall be given to the widow who shall divide the same with those children who are abstemious from liquor, tobacco or narcotic drugs.

"Pe, coffee and conversation," said Senator Platt, of Connecticut, "are the three ingredients that constitute a good dinner."

"And the greatest of these is conversation," commented a companion.

"No, pie is the greatest," corrected the Senator. "It excels conversation in that it always comes to you with a point to it."

When the sunlight glistens on the dewy lawns in the morning you'll be safe in cutting hay that day; and on the other hand when the chickens mound the fences, and begin picking themselves, look out for rain. The crows, when they are on the ground, are bright during the last four days of last week, and some of this, and the hay crop of the county has been put up in good shape; but the wheat—what there is of it—is late and the oats will not be ready for a week or two.

Part of the Penn St. paving was torn up last week in order to remedy a defect in engineering. When the street was paved a large stone sewer or drain was built across it, but a six-inch pipe was allowed to pierce or run through it. This pipe caught the debris and clogged the drain and the heavy rains flooded some back yards. The trouble was not located until after the drain through the back yards had been uncovered; and hence the change in the location of the gas pipe, made last week at great expense to either the borough or the Gas Co., which will probably be followed by some suits for damages by the property owners.

REWARD—While Robert Green was in swimming, last week, between the sea house and the Kittanning bridge, he lost his silver open-face watch. A reward will be paid for its return to 215 McLean Ave. by James Green.

The new Rules of Court provide for one new docket, and four new terms of Court.

The three negroes who confessed to assaulting Mrs. Elsie Biddle of Baring, Pa., were sentenced to 4 years each in the State Prison at Trenton, after a record-breaking trial. The three men arrived at Trenton at 1:15 p. m. less than half an hour later they had pleaded guilty, been given the extreme form of justice and were on their way to Trenton to begin their long sentence.

A tramp who says his name is Cochran is in jail, charged with assaulting Mrs. Mary Shaffer of Clay twp. He is alleged Cochran stopped at the Shaffer home and asked for food. Finding no one at home but a child, he overpowered the woman and chloroformed her.

An hour or two afterward Mrs. Shaffer was discovered, unconscious. When revived she was hysterical.

Morgan T. James is under arrest in New York, for passing a check for $31, drawn on the First National Bank of Slipperyrock, Pa., on a steward who became suspicious of it and had him arrested. Then searched at the police station a number of checks were found in his pocket aggregating $18,500, all drawn on the First National Bank of Slipperyrock, Pa., and signed by John Gardner, the checks all being made payable to Morgan T. Charles M. George, formerly of Clearfield twp., this county, was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter, in the light of the Criminal Code, last Friday, for the killing of Geo. W. Downing, at Natrona, last April, but was recommended for mercy. George, and the Downings boarded at the same place, and Downing suspected George of being criminally intimate with his wife.

George said the trouble started through an imaginary wrong he was alleged to have committed. He said Downing had been drinking, and came to the Union Storage Co. where he changed George's face and threatened to kill him. Downing is alleged to have said: "I am going to make you take a drink with me, then I am going to kill you anyway." The witness took the drink at a nearby saloon. That evening he went to his home, with a bottle of beer, and met the witness, who ordered him to remove his coat, saying he was going to kill him. George said Downing then ordered him to get on his knees and then forced him in the face. The next witness saw Downing was over him with a large knife in his right hand. George said he then threatened to kill him if he did not revolve and would use it if he did not revolve him, to which Downing replied, "I don't care if you have a dozen revolvers I am going to shoot you."

George then got his revolver from his pocket and fired twice, Downing falling over on the floor dead. The witness said he did not know where the bullets entered the body, as he did not see any where.
