The Flood.

Nearly all the railroads of this section were placed in distress by high water and landslides, Monday, caused by the melting snow, and the heavy rains of Sunday.

The Connoquessing was over its banks, and street-car travel on the west side was suspended for a time.

The flood in the Allegheny river was augmented by the breaking of the ice-gorges at Oil City and Parker, and the water was higher at Kittanning than it has been for forty years.

The lower part of Kipton was under water, and so were the West Penn tracks at Lane, and at points between Tarentum and Montrose.

The people of Springdale, Allegheny Co., had a serious time of it, the new dam causing the water to rise before known, the lower part of the town was flooded, some property was washed away, and people who lived near the river sought shelter with their friends on higher ground.

The people of the lower parts of Allegheny and Armstrong counties, and the lower part of Westmoreland, and moved perishable property from cellars liable to be flooded, and in some places moved to the second stories of their homes.

The water reached its highest at Pittsburgh, Monday, at about 9 P. M. and began receding. As that time there was 71 feet in both rivers, while the highest mark is 33 1/2 feet for Feb. 6, 1884.

The Parker gorge was dislodged early Sunday morning and shortly after 3 o'clock that afternoon the great ice packs went tumbling over Henry's Island dam. It was an imposing sight and with some noise of Sunday filled the air that swept up the river, tempered by the warm spring sunshine, caused a wondrous mist to rise above the fields of crumbling ice, and riding over the crest of the turbulent flood was a rainbow that looked like a fantastic floating arch.

All day Monday the bridges over the river were crowded with people watching the flood.

There were some washouts on the Northern division of the B. & O. but everything is expected to be in working order, by this evening.

TONOPAH, Nevada, two-hundred and forty-four miles from a railroad station in the scene of the latest gold excitement.

No Poison Found.

Mr. Aeschman, the chemist, finished his analysis of the stomachs of Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Walker, last Saturday, and reported that he found no traces of poison in them.

The chemist who examined the stomach of Mrs. Stanford of California reported finding no poison in it though the bottle from which she took her dose of "soda" was full of it.

There is something peculiar about this poison business. An old physician informs us that strychnine and all reliable poisons are rapidly absorbed by the human body, and may leave little or no trace in the stomach.

Oil and Gas Notes.

The market is $1.30.

Adams O'Brien struck a good well on the Staples near Callery last Saturday. The well began flowing from the hundred feet and was shut down while tankage is being erected. It is estimated at 50 bbls.

Kansas—The Producers of Kansas met at Independence, Saturday, to organize a "two-years-war" with the Standard.

FIRES.

The Dancing Pavilion at the Park was discovered by burning, last Saturday, at about 9 p. m., and the flames lit up the town and the surrounding country for a time. The building burned very rapidly, and was soon consumed. The piano used at the Summer Theatre, and several boxes of books and other property were stored in it, and the total loss is about $10,000, and $2,500 insurance. As there was no fire in the building, and as it was locked and unoccupied, incendiary is suspected. It will be rebuilt.

The residence of Wm. M. Graham in Concord town, destroyed by fire last Saturday afternoon. The fire started on the roof, probably from a spark. The loss is practically covered by insurance.

Sabbath School Institute.

During the past few weeks a party of six workers under the auspices of the State Sabbath School association have been working in the State in the interest of Sabbath Schools, 46 committees will be held in all parts of the State on the 26th of March. A. D. 1905, the said John Campbell, president of the association, will be in the morning the various schools will be visited and their addresses will be given. A large number of the schools will be filled by members of the party and others in the evening, at 8:30 in the afternoon there will be a union meeting of all the schools in the Methodist church. The party includes a quartette of good singers, and is composed of Sunday school workers of known ability. All are invited.

Concord Township.

The White Shield Temperance League of Concord Sunday School renders a very impressive program, at its initial meeting last Sunday.

Among the removals of families this spring will be that of Chas. E. Tule to Economy, S. V. Brown to former farm of J. S. Murland; John S. Campbell to Grove City where Mr. Campbell has purchased property; and Claude Mayland to farm vacated by Mr. Campbell.

Nicholas and Magill are drilling on the farm of Peter A. Barnhart, and the South Penn. Oil Co. is working a well on the W. F. Murland farm.

A little child of Tony Montgomery after being very sick for a day or two quickly recovered after vomiting a piece of broken glass.

Samuel Currie, who died while undergoing a surgical operation, was buried at Concord Cemetery on Tuesday. The trouble was caused by a kick on the head some years ago by a vicious horse. Mr. Currie was a young man of excellent character and had many friends among his acquaintances.

Rudolph E. Barnhart has just purchased the farm formerly belonging to Peter Kammer. He expects to occupy the same as soon as necessary improvements are made to dwelling house and barn.

Mr. J. H. Morris, who has been sick for some time, suffering from a relapse on Saturday and is now very sick.

ACCIDENTS.

Harry Kelly of W. North St. was cut by a falling sheet of steel, at the Car Works, Friday.

Floyd Ramsey of Henfrew fell from a swing, and dislocated an arm.

John Logue of Renfrew was knocked off a bridge of the Rehold out a few days ago, by a passing train, and badly bruised.

The greatest disaster that happened in this country, this week, was caused by the explosion of a large boiler in the Grover & Co. shoe-factory at Brooktown, Pa. The boiler passed up through the four floors and the roof of the building, which immediately collapsed, and then took fire and burned. Of the four hundred employees, but 233 were accounted for after the fire, and fifty charred bodies were recovered next day, by a passing train, and badly bruised.

A BILL taxing crude petroleum five cents a bbl, and coal three cents a ton, was introduced into the House, Monday, and a Committee named by the oil and coal producers, here, has wired our Representatives to use all honorable means to defeat them.
