$15 069 62 $28 183 71 by a correspondent for the Ohio Farmcap on top at D and a short piece of five-eighth inch rod, C, through a hole in the lower end. The top end also has top end of the three-quarter inch brace rod, E, which has a short double bend at the top, as shown, so as to hold firm-ly when in the position shown. For a gatepost I use a one and a quarter inch rod brace drawn at the top so the end will enter the three-quarter inch hole and place the brace on the other side of the post, forming a brace instead of a tension brace in the other style. Possibly a smaller cube of cement might hold, but I wished to make sure, so used a four foot cube. I have four of these posts which have been in use nearly four years, and they show no indication of moving or deterioration. The materials cost me about $5 each, which some may consider expensive, but for road-way or other places where a post will always be needed they are not expensive when durability is considered, for they may well be called everlasting.

Here's to the Average Farm Hen. Important factors in the production of a superior quality of poultry, breeds and strains and other conditions af-fecting poultry raising have been inrestigated at the Canadian experi mental farms, and the information gained in connection with testing and hatching eggs laid during the cold sea-son is summarized as follows:

The generous and gently stimulating rations given to the fowls kept in cold nouses did not seem to affect the strength of the germs of the eggs laid by them, as similar rations apparently did in the case of the hens kept in ar dificially warmed quarters.

Eggs laid in early December by the hens in artificially warmed houses showed a greater percentage of strong germs than did eggs laid by them later

Eggs laid by the same hens in early spring showed a satisfactory percentage of fertility, but the weakest germs. The most striking and gratifying results were obtained from the fowls which, like their parent stock, had neved known warm quarters. From fifty five eggs laid by these fowls in early spring-after laying well during the winter - forty-eight strong chickens were hatched. In contrast with this are seventeen chickens from fifty-two eggs laid by hens kept in warmed but comparatively limited quarters. Results were strongly in favor of the average farm conditions.

The cut shows a device that a Rural New Yorker correspondent has found convenient when running a crosscut saw alone. The standard, A, is 2 by 4 feet, and 10 feet 4 inches from the pin G. to the ground. The swing, B. is % by 2 inches wide and 7 feet 3 inches long. The guides, C, for B to play in are 3 feet 2 inches clear. The pitman D, is 4 feet long and 1 inch thick.

The saw is 6 feet long and project 4 feet 2 inches. The handle is set slightly slanting. The saw is bolted on to the side of the pitman. The forward two bolts have large washers. Two boards, E E, are halved together and tting the use of a small quantity at a nailed to the standard. They are about no. It is just the article needed in 8½ feet in length. The saw "carriage"

> The Buccaneers Originally buccaneers were peacefu English, French and Dutch settlers in the Spanish West Indies, and they received their name on account of their custom of drying their meat, in the Indian fashion, on a buccan, or hurdle. The Spaniards resented strongly the intrusion of these foreigners and made many attempts to oust them, but the buccaneers were a hardy set of men and crack shots with the musket, so they successfully resisted all the Spaniards' attacks and obstinately remained in the islands. What it was that caus-ed the buccaneers to abandon their comparatively peaceful mode of living and take to piracy it is hard to say. Possibly the constant harrying to which they were subjected by the Spaniards prompted them to retaliate; but, whatever the reason, their depredations soon rendered the passage of the word buccaneer has come down as synonym for robbery, murder and all

Polack relates an argument with a Whangaroa chief on the subject of can-nibalism, "If I do not eat my enemy when I catch him," argued the Maori, "he will not show the same self denial when he catches me. In short, what in nature is there that is alive that will not eat readily of its kind? There,' continued the subtle dignitary, pointing to a hawk, "the kahu will eat other birds, and the larger species will de-vour him." A hog passing by closed the argument. "Would you eat that Somewhere in the world life is at stake every minute of the day. Right at our own doors, perhaps, is going on a struggle as grim and fierce as any fight or flight on record. You hear the holow tearing cough; see the ooze of blood which tells of the wounded lungs; mark the emaciated body and hectic cheek, and know a life is at stake.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has saved many a life in just such a crisis. It cures obstinate, deep-seated coughs, stops the hemorrhage, strengthens "weak" lungs, and restores the emaciated body to its normal weight and strength.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery," and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

"I desire to send you this brief, unsolicited testiment I writes Rev. Deepnh H. Ferberman. ery," and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

"I desire to send you this brief, unsolicited testimonial," writes Rev. Joseph H. Fesperman, Barium Springs, Iredell Co., N. C. "in 1836 one of my daughters was suffering on account of a severe cough, heetic fever, wasting of flesh and other symptoms of diseased lungs. I promptly gave her Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with gratifying success, and she now enjoys excellent health. This experience caused me to recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to my neighbors, who, without exception, used them with favorable results."
