CORONER. DR. W. B. RYAN, Butler. DR. WALTER S. PATTERSON, Butler. DR. RAYMOND A. THOMPSON, Butler.

Having announced my name as a candidate for County Auditor, with business matters more than I had anticipated so that my personal affairs would suffer in case I withdrew from the contest, extending my sincerest thanks to my many friends for their encouragement.

Withdrawal. On account of ill health and inability to make a canvass, I have decided to withdraw from the race for the County Auditorship, with thanks to my friends for their professed support.

A Card. I wish to say to the voters of Butler county that having had the grip and then taken a relapse, I was not able to make much of a canvass. So I take this method of asking my friends to do all they can to help me make the nomination for Register and Recorder.

A CARD. It having been reported in some parts of the county that I had withdrawn my name as a candidate for Prothonotary in the Republican primaries on next Saturday, I take this means of informing the voters that I not only have not done so but never thought of doing so, and will continue to make every effort to secure the nomination for said office.

POLITICAL. The primary campaign ends next Saturday, at 7 P. M.—the voting beginning at 1 o'clock. There are excellent men in the field for every office, and as the majority of Republicans are actuated by honorable motives, having in mind the good of the public service and the merits of the candidates, we can expect an unobjectionable ticket— one that will command the united support of the ballot at the election.

The ballot box is the source of all authority in this country; the primary is the preliminary step for the selection of a party ticket, and if every Republican in the county will go to it and poll, next Saturday, and select his candidate with due regard for their merits as men and claims upon the party, we need have no fear of "combines," scheming politicians or ward-leaders.

The Ohio State Convention met at Columbus, yesterday, with 1,100 delegates present. Sec'y Taft presided, and he praised Roosevelt's administration but did not refer to the late flurry over canal supplies.

At Harrisburg, yesterday, the Democratic State Convention nominated W. E. Berry of Delaware for State Treasurer, and John B. Head of Greensburg for Superior Judge.

AMSTERDAM county Republicans polled six thousand votes at their late primary. On Tuesday Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia dismissed his Superintendent of the Police and Fire Departments, on account of the part they took in the lease of the Gas Works; engaged Judge Gordon and Elinor Ross as counsel, and prepared for war with the city bosses—a war that will probably be fixed for the Legislature to rip out the Mayor is already talked of in Harrisburg.

DURING the past three months half a million people have died in India of "the plague."

The next Republican primary for this county will probably be fixed for an earlier date than "the last Saturday in May," but there is no advantage of a late date, and that is that it affords ample time to ventilate any attempted unfairness, like the present "combine."

The arrest of Marcus Drann, secret agent of this Government, at Budapest is explained. He was sent abroad shortly after the Roosevelt dinner at "Little Hungary," where he presided, to investigate the charge that Antrix was sending her papers and news articles to us. He by the way, under instructions from President Roosevelt, and it was said in Washington that disclosures to be made in his forthcoming report will be startling. Facts already ascertained show that more than half the nations of Europe are emptying their articles and mail upon us. Emigrants are "checked" by the State and sent back, and a small sum of money to enable the supposed immigrant to pass through Ellis island. More than one million foreigners passed through the gates of that receiving depot last year.

THE BRITISH House of Commons refused to listen to a speech by the Colonial Secretary, Monday night, and adjourned in disorder.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, on Monday, reiterated his intention to call Congress into session October 16, to consider railroad rate legislation.

THE grafter is doing great work in Philadelphia these days. The 75-year lease of the city's gas-plant, voted by the Council, a few days ago caused a riot in the Council Chamber.

POSTMASTER General Cortelyou is determined to keep postmasters from taking a hand in political affairs, and a circular letter, defining the duties and privileges of these servants of Uncle Sam will be issued by him.

REGARDING that Canal order, President Roosevelt is quoted as saying: "I wanted to hit the monopolies between the eyes, and I guess I did, judging from the tone of the remarks we have been hearing since that order. Perhaps some of them will not want to put all their feet into the trough after this."

ELEVEN of the fastest sailing vessels on water, running from a single-mastered yacht to a full-rigged ship, started from Sandy Hook, last week, for the Lizard on the English coast, competing for the prize offered by the Emperor of Germany. The distance is about three thousand miles.

It is hardly possible now to keep track of the anti-monopoly movements in the Western States, Missouri, for example, has just passed a maximum freight rate bill, Wisconsin is making a determined effort to force the railroads within her borders to terms; South Dakota is thinking of going into the manufacture of binding twine to defeat the trust, and Minnesota a legislator is considering the advisability of a State factory to turn out harvesting machines. Add such cases as these to what Kansas is doing in the matter of oil refining, and we have indications of the country which may give the monopolists some uneasy moments.

The excitement caused by the action of the Canal Commission in buying a few thousand dollars worth of steel for foreign manufacture, "temporarily in a depot." The purchasing agent of the Canal Commission reported to it that certain firms in the United States were holding up the commission for fear of the loss of the contract. The commission reported the matter to Sec'y Taft, who, after consulting with the President, told the commission to buy where they could get best. This meant to the trust of $800,000 worth, in their hands to assure the government that it will be necessary to go abroad for building material, but that they stand prepared to deliver all the steel, pig iron, paint and other supplies required at prices equal to the lowest to be found in foreign markets, and that under the matter—until they try it again.

School Notes. Dr. Crawford of Meadville will preach the baccalaureate sermon in Meadville Theatre, next Sunday evening. The High School graduating exercises will take place in the Meadville Auditorium, Thursday evening. The Alumni Association will banquet in First M. E. church, Friday evening.

Oil and Gas Notes. The Market—Remains at $1.29, in spite of the gasher's 1000 bids, a day. Summit twp.—Vance, Franz and Kennedy have located a well on the John Gilliland. Clearfield—The Maloney Oil Co. well on the Frank McBride is doing 35 barrels of oil. The Co. have made another location. Adams—Euler & O'Brien have another good well on the Staples, said to be doing 50 bids, a day. Saxenburg—Mike Pagan is drilling for gas on the Williams, and has 500 acres in that vicinity; Galagan & Co. are drilling on the Miller heirs on the same tract. The Miller heirs own Co. on the Jas. Hogenbaum. Penn—Parker & Toomey on the Treason, near the Erie, has a well. Parker—Stewick has a gasher on Shakerly heirs on Beat Creek, below the Pump station, said to be doing 100 bids, from the 100-foot.

ACCIDENTS. Michael Kochan was crushed to death by the fall of steel plates at the Carlsberg Brewery, in Philadelphia, he was 22 years of age and a foreigner. Guy, son of Eugene O'Donnell of W. Penn street, climbed a willow-tree, last Saturday, to see the ball game. The tree was rotten, broke and fell 30 feet. He was made unconscious by the fall and was thought to be seriously injured, but recovered soon after being taken home.

At 2 o'clock last Sunday morning the train of a passing train, on the way from Clearfield to Bellefonte was stopped at the foot of the Allegheny mountains on the Allegheny River. The train was wrecked 12 years ago, and there, under the starlight, memorial services for those who were killed were held to-day.

The 1,000 people connected with the show and six bands participated in a grand parade on Monday night, on a touching address, after which the mountainside was banked with flowers. The animals were paraded on a neat unearthy din by their shrieks and cries, which were answered by strange animal sounds. The parade was upon the country as near that they could be seen, although their species could not be recognized. It is thought they included bears, lions, tigers, and other animals.

Too Many Potatoes. There are surprises in all branches of business, and the cold storage people, who invested in apples and potatoes last fall, appear to have been running on a high sea. The potatoes are now a dispatch from Presque Isle in the State of Maine, conveys the intelligence that more than 3,000,000 bushels of potatoes are a grand one and I am only too glad to say so.

Judge Albion W. Tongue of Mayville, N. Y., Administrator of the estate of Bordeaux, died last Sunday of acute pneumonia, which resulted from an old wound. Judge Tongue was an eminent lawyer, and his death under his condition afterward improved and it was believed his recovery was probable.

He was a veteran of the Civil war, and an editor and lawyer in North Carolina, after the war, he was known as "The Fool's Errand," published in 1878, and followed by "The Fool's Errand," published in 1879, and followed by "The Fool's Errand," published in 1880. He was a member of the "Black Eye," "The Veteran and His Pipe," "Letters to a King," "With Gauge and the 'Facts of the Case.'" "Marvle Eastman, Christian Soldier." "An Outing With the Queen of the Hip-Roofed House." He wrote extensively, also, on the law and finance and for some years was editor of "The Continent," a periodical magazine published at New York and Philadelphia. He wrote, too, "A By-stander's Notes," an editorial paper, and the Chicago "Inter-Ocean." He was editor of the Denver "Times" in 1878, and in 1880 he edited the "Inter-Ocean," where he had his home thereafter.

THE System Lays on Good Rich Blood. People Who Lack the Proper Quantity and Quality of Blood Fall Victims to Every Disease. That's Prevalent.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills.

The blood is the medium through which every vital force is supplied with the material it feeds upon and rebuilds itself with. Take away that material and the system starves, color, appetite, steadiness, energy, vigor, vitality—all are lost and a condition of mental and physical prostration sets in. This condition Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills positively cure by restoring to the system the material it needs for its own support.
