Piles

In order to prove to you that Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for any form of itching, bleeding, or protruding piles, the manufacturers guarantee a cure. You can use it and if not cured get your money back. Mr. Casper, Weldon Colours, Michigan City, Ind., says: "I work hard and lift a great deal. The strain brought on an attack of piles. They itched and they protruded and bled. Nothing helped them until I used Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment. That cured them." See a box at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

BAD STOMACH MAKES BAD BLOOD.

You can't make sweet butter in a foul churn. Every farmer's wife knows this. Your stomach churns and digests the food you eat, and if foul, torpid or out of order, your whole system suffers from blood poisoning. You will have foul breath, coated tongue, bad taste, poor appetite and a whole train of disagreeable symptoms. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is not a liver-cleanser, but a blood-purifier, being entirely free from intoxicants, is a great regulator and restorer of the stomach, liver and bowels.

"About a year ago I was ill with blood poisoning," writes Mrs. Emma Lewis, 38 Walter Street, Buffalo, N. Y. "I had what seemed to be a small cold some on my lip. It became very angry in appearance and began to spread until it covered my face. It was a frightful sight and could not so outside the house because of my appearance. I used a blood medicine which did not give me any relief. Then I began to take your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I was greatly benefited with the first bottle and after taking the second bottle was completely cured. My blood was cleared. My complexion is clear and fresh and I have felt better this year than I did for some time before. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is certainly a most remarkable medicine."

"Don't accept a substitute for a medicine which performs such cures and which has a uniformly successful record of nearly forty years' credit. It's an article worth your intelligence for a dealer to try by over-persuading you to buy it. You'll find in its stead some inferior article with no record to back it up. You know what you want; it is a business to meet that want."

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY. In copies of Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 500,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away $50,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give away $50,000 worth of them. Will you be one of the beneficiaries? If so, send only 25¢ in mailing only for book in your own name. Address Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Qualities with a French Polish.

These are disadvantages attached to wealth when one was not born to it or is slow in getting used to it. One that Mr. Quidley found, says London Ancestry, was that the chef always sent up the menu written in his own language, French, to which the master of the household was a stranger.

"I should like to know what the menu was for once," M. Alphonse," said Mr. Quidley to his chef on one occasion. "Let us have the menu in English to-day."

"Oh, monsieur," was the reply. "It is not my duty, but I will do it so if you feel gif me za dictionnaire."

A small but select party came to dinner that evening and were met with the following bill of fare:

Soup at the tail of the calf.
Salmon in curl papers.
Chest of mutton to the sharp peak.
Potatoes purged.
Ducks savage at white sauce.
Charlotte at the apple.
Turkey at the devil.

Quidley and Mrs. Quidley agreed afterward that they had never presided over a more hilarious dinner party.

Just For Toothache.

The blade of a digging hoe was supported horizontally on two bricks and a fire kindled on the ground beneath it. On the middle of the hoe was put a small tin of the neck of a red fruit variety of eggplant, and over this was inverted the half of a cocoon shell having a hole in the top. A piece of bamboo was stuck on to the shell over the hole by a lump of clay. As vapor issued from the bamboo tube the patient inhaled this by placing his lips to the top. Then he spat into a bucket of water, and the vapor inhaled the vapor. After a quarter hour's treatment the patient and a friend said they could see the "toothache worm" in the water.

And here's a modern Chinese recipe for "painless extraction."

Cook well the bones of a rat, pulverize and apply to tooth. If it is fore-ordained that the tooth is to come out this will bring it; if not, it will become more firmly fixed than ever.—Siamatra Straits Budget.

His Evident Estate.

"When I come into my landed estate I'll bet nobody will put me out," said a philosopher after listening to a tale of woe by a friend who had recently lost his place in the country through the foreclosure of a mortgage.

"Why, I didn't know you owned any real estate."

"I don't now, but I am very positive of having some later on. It will be a very snug retreat, too—absolutely private, although in a populous neighborhood. There will be several other advantages, too. It will be free from taxes, and I'll be exempt from jury duty."

"Isn't that fine! I congratulate you, but I could inherit something like that. Where is your place?"

"The grave."

The other man said nothing further about the injustice of foreclosing mortgages.—New York Herald.

The Saw of the Mosquito.

The bill of the mosquito is a complex instrument. It has a blunt fork at the head and is apparently grooved. Working through the groove and projecting from the angle of the fork is a lance of perfect form sharpened with a fine level. Beside it the most perfect lance looks like a hand saw. On either side of the lance two saws are arranged, with the points directed upwards and the teeth well defined and keen. The backs of these saws play against the lance. When the mosquito alights, with its peculiar hum, it thrusts its keen lance and then enlarges the aperture with the two saws, which play beside the lance until the forked bill with its capillary arrangement for pumping the blood can be inserted.

The sawing process is what grates upon the nerves of the victim and causes him to strike wildly at the sawyer.

Economy of Heat and Health.

The average humidity in artificially heated houses is about 30 degrees; the average temperature, 70 to 74 degrees. It has been found by conclusive tests that a room with a humidity of 60 degrees and a temperature of 65 degrees seems warmer and more comfortable than a room of 72 degrees of heat and humidity of 20 degrees. Dr. Henry M. Smith says that if a room at 68 degrees is not warm enough for any healthy person it is because the humidity is too low, and water should be evaporated to bring the moisture up to the right degree. In other words, water instead of coal should be used to make rooms comfortable when the temperature has reached 68 degrees. As water is cheaper than coal, the rule should become a popular one.—Chicago Tribune.

Needed No Introduction.

"It goes sometimes to know a little of the family history of your clients," said a business woman the other day.

"It would have saved me from making a blunder if I had known the relations that formerly existed between two men who met in my office. Their business was practically of the same nature, and as I was obliged to leave them together for a few minutes while I attended to some other matter, I thought it would be more agreeable if I introduced them. They responded rather stiffly, but I put that down to temperance and went into my inner office. When I returned in a quarter of an hour later the younger man dispatched his business as quickly as possible and got out. The other said: "I was not aware that you were acquainted with my ex-brother-in-law."

"Brother-in-law? I asked stupidly.

"Yes. My sister got a divorce from him last summer."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Schools in France.

The French system of education is intensely national. Its plan is exactly the opposite from our own school system. With us the local community controls the primary schools. In France the local community has no voice in the matter. The French system is the most centralized, the most strictly regulated, the most autocratic and the farthest removed from democratic ideas of any school system in existence.

The exact uniformity of the schools is almost unbelievable. The minister of instruction, sitting in his office in Paris, can tell at any moment just what table of La Fontaine each child of a certain age throughout the whole of France is reciting. Teachers are not allowed any latitude at all. The result is to leave both teachers and scholars almost completely lacking in mental originality.—F. A. Vandervip in Scribner.

Sporting Reporter.

It is doubtful, said a biographer, if any reporter ever surpassed in delicacy the reply made by an East Indian servant of the Lord Dufferin when he was viceroy of India.

"Well, what sort of sport has Lord — had?" said the viceroy one day to his shikari, or sporting servant, who had attended a young English lord on a shooting excursion.

"Oh," replied the scrupulously polite Hindoo, "the young sahib shot diving, but Providence was very merciful to the blais!"

This story calls to mind one told by the writer of some reminiscences of Sydney Smith. On one occasion the celebrated physician, Sir Henry Holland, told the witty divine that he had failed to kill either one of a brace of pheasants that had risen within easy range near Smith's house.

"Why did you not prescribe for them?" came the quick reply.
