SAN JOSE SCALE.

A Pest of the First Class and How By Dr. JOHN B. SMITH, New Jersey experiment station.

The San Jose scale infests nearly evthe garden, although it is not equally lestructive on all. It seldom occurs on blackberries and raspberries so as to be injurious. On all fruit trees except cherry and quince it is destructive. The winter is passed in the half

Reproduction is there is ample justification, over a thousand minion examples be-fore the season closes. Reproduction is usually most active in September, and throughout that month larvae occur in misconception and unjustifiable exabundance on infested trees. It is the pectation. Ignorance in this direction season at which spread is most general. The crawling larvae get upon anything, including the backs of beetles and tempts to sell to farmers improperly the feet of birds, and are carried con-informed cultures of soil bacteria ad the feet of birds, and are carried considerable distances. An insect that atplants, that breeds so abundantly and that has no natural enemies to keep it practicable to inoculate it for wheat or in real check is of course a pest of the potatoes or melons, and, while it first class, and so all gardeners have

This sort of work is feasible in gardens that are under constant superviston and in such places the insect can be almost completely cleaned out in a single season. The new forms of petroleum made soluble in water will be most effective aids in this sort of cam-

It is much easier, to say nothing o eing more humane, to dehorn calves when they are young, preferably when from three to four days old. Clip the hair away from the button, take a stick of caustic potash wrapped in some material to protect the fingers, moisten one end with water and rub gently over the button until the skin becomes slightly raw and smarts a little. In a few days a scab will form, which will soon disappear, and, if the work is properly done, will leave the calf without horns. One application is usually enough but in case the horn start again the application can be re-peated. Care should be taken that e of the caustic potash runs down over the hair to injure the eyes and skin. In case the horn's break through the skin before the caustic is applied i will probably be necessary to use a little caustic potash can be rubbe BORDEAUX MIXTURE.
