Thanksgiving.

'Let the people, O God, confess to Thee; let all the people give praise to Thee—the earth hath yielded her fruit.' Psalm LXVI, verse 6.

This is the day set apart for that purpose, and we should "manfully acknowledge our shortcomings" in good faith to overcome them. We are threatened not by foes without. The Republic is safe from external enemies. Our dangers are from within. The foes from whom we should pray to be delivered are "our passions, appetites and follies"; against these we need always to contend, and wage unceasing warfare.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Those Congressmen who are already in Washington for the session that begins next week are all "in the air" regarding the rebate bill. It will take a clean cut bill to prevent discrimination without interfering with competition.

President Roosevelt has removed from office Wm. S. Lish, the assistant United States treasurer at Philadelphia, for "negligent and inconsistent effort to evade the civil service law, and to obstruct the action of the commission, for keeping relatives upon the roll and making one appointment from purely political motives."

The Cabinet at Washington at present consists of Secretary of State, Elihu Root; Secretary of the Treasury, Leslie M. Shaw; Secretary of War, William H. Taft; Secretary of the Navy, Charles J. Bonaparte; Secretary of the Interior, Ethan A. Hitchcock; Secretary of Agriculture, James Wilson; Secretary of Commerce and Labor, Victor H. Metcalf; Attorney General, William H. Moody; Postmaster Gen. G. B. Coryell.

Congress meets next Monday. No flowers will be allowed on the members' desks, this year.

There are signs of retrenchment and economy in the departments at Washington that are said to astonish the old standbys who are acquainted with the way things have been done at the capital in the past.

The Prevention of "Colds."

Now that the season for "colds," coughs and neuralgic pains is upon us, the careful student on the subject of preventive measures will guard him against the "eager and nipping air" that may prepare the way for a winter's sickness. At the present adoption of his environment is the main settled point of his defense.

Another fragment destroyed his temple. He was carried to the house of Mrs. Shearer nearby, and medical assistance came to him in remanding him to bed till yesterday. He is 42 years of age, and has a wife and three children.

Walter Branton, of Grove City, Pa., was struck by an engine and died from his injuries. He was 68 years old and leaves a wife and five children.

ANOTHER mutiny is on in the Russian army and navy; this time in Sebastopol; where the red flag was flying last Saturday.

Governor Pennypacker, Major General Charles Miller, Commander of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, and the members of the Governor's staff will depart from Harrisburg, tomorrow to attend the dedication of the Pennsylvania Avenue bridge at Chantico.

The dedication at Andersontown will take place December 7, in charge of the Andersontown committee, which General J. D. Walker, Mayor of Pittsburg, is chairman. The judges of Andersontown will be invited to the ceremony.

On Sunday, Nov. 25, Mrs. Anna Bradley, aged 86 years.

Mrs. Bradley lived with her daughter, Mrs. Mason.

VOUGHERS home in Brain, Nov. 25, 1905. Harry, son of John Vough, aged 21 years.

His death was caused by pneumonia.

BORLAND—At his home in Butler, Nov. 25, 1905. David F. Borland, aged 73 years.

M. F. Borland had been in poor health for some months. He lived in or near Butler all his life, was well known and highly respected by many of our citizens.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Anna Borland, and son Linn, manager of the Zimmerman Dry Goods Store; Charles, with Ritter & Rockenstein; John S., a printer, and wife.

David Freeman Borland was a son of William Borland one of the very earliest settlers of Butler county. His farm was about two miles directly west of Butler. Here he cleared the ground and built a house, and raised a large family, the late James Borland, Mrs. Abner Bartle, Mrs. William C. Glenn, Mrs. Ellis Russell, Mrs. Thomas Shearer, Mrs. Anna Borland, and others.

He is noted for his integrity, good character and good citizenship.

Obituary.

McCALLISTER KUHN.

Action of Post No. 539, G. A. R., on where our comrade and neighbor

John McCallister Kuhn, has finished his earthly enlistment and has answered the mandate of our Heavenly Father to appear for the last great call, there.

Resolved, That as in the death of Comrade Kuhn this Post has lost a faithful and genial member and the community an honorable and upright citizen.

Resolved, That we extend our sincere and heartfelt sympathy to the widow and family of our deceased comrade.

Resolved, That these resolutions be signed on behalf of the Post, to be given to the widow of the deceased and that they be published in the county papers.

ROBERT ADAMS, Adjutant.

NOV. 25, 1905.

CARD OF THANKS.

The family of McCallister Kuhn extend their sincere thanks for their kind words and feelings for their kindness during the illness and death of their husband and father.

Mrs. S. A. Kuhn,

F. M. Kuhn,

Mrs. Jessie L. Coulter,

Rev. Dr. T. Kuhn.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Quite a number of the members of the Grace Lutheran congregation met at the church, Tuesday evening, Nov.

25, 1905, and marched to the home of the pastor, Rev. J. C. Nicholas, to celebrate the birthday of their pastor.

A dainty lunch was served, the evening was very pleasantly spent and all repaired to their homes wishing the happy couple many more such happy occasions.

NASAL CATARRH quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Creme Balm, which is agreeably aromatic.

It is a simple nostril wash.
