APPLE CROP.

Marked Shortage In the Yield and American Agriculturist verifies pro vious reports of a poor yield of winter apples and a marked shortage in the apple crop. Leading states, according to this authority, will have only 20 to 40 per cent of last year's big cropmany important sections say only 15 to 30 per cent. Quality is fair and choice fruit bound to command high prices. The shrinkage in the apple deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow check, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' is a crop of the United States this year i all the more pronounced, coming as it does after the unusually heavy yield of last season. The west, excepting California, which promises a good outturn, is relatively worse off than the eastern sections comprised by New York and New England. In view of the pronounced restriction in the crop of the last two districts this year this statement is of great significance Moreover, it is apparent that the qual-

the western commercial apple produc-ing states, presents a lamentable re-port. Some authorities well posted with regard to the general crop of the state claim the output of winter ap-ples will not exceed 20 per cent of an average. A large proportion of the best winter fruit in Michigan has been contracted at a range of $2 to $3 per barrel, free on board, for No. 1 fruit In some sections growers have sole mixed ones and twos at $1.50 to $2.50.

There appears to be little complain of the color of 1905 apples in the east, ut the size and quality are not wholly but the size and quality are not wholly desirable. Prices cover a wide range, according to the method of selling. Strictly fancy No. 1 apples have brought $2 to $2.50 per barrel for fruit on the trees. Free on board sales range from $3 to $3.25 and in some instances very choice apples at still better prices. Where buyers take fruit as it comes from the trees, irrespective of grade, prices show a range spective of $1.25 to $2 per barrel.

The export movement during the coming winter should prove liberal, provided the shortage in our home crop is not so great as to force prices beyond an exportable basis.

one cold, rainy day in November and fairly beamed with comfort as the warmth enveloped him. Outside the rain was turned into frozen sleet as it came in sheets at intervals all day. He felt it was good to be able to have the fire and the time to sit by it. His wife remarked, "I should think you would put in the cows." "Well, I must," was put in the cows." "Weil, I must," was the reply. "I am very comfortable, and I hate to start." Some hours later he happened to think of them, but it was pouring, and he waited fill it stopped before going out. The cows were drenched to the skin and stood in any corner, which offered protection. They corner which offered protection. They had suffered cruelly, and the man was you want pure liquors for your truly sorry. In the morning his milk can was only half as full as usual, and his receipts were too small to mention. One of his best cows still continued to tremble and refused to eat. After a and when month of trouble she ceased to give nothing milk. One of his helfer calves, which stop him. he had reared with considerable care, caught a hard cold, and he sold her for almost nothing. Two hundred dollars at the least calculation was the price he paid for that bit of carelessness. This was a "pocket sorrow," and he will not forget it .- Ohio Farmer. The beginner in goose raising should procure his breeding stock in the fall. They will not breed well unless given some little time to settle down and beome accustomed to their new home Old geese are more reliable for breeding purposes than young birds. The former are the best layers, and the those produced by the young birds. A neighbor has used the same females for breeding purposes for eight years with good results, but the ganders should not be kept longer than three or our years. Three geese with one gander is about the right proportion. Fannle M. Wood in Ohlo Farmer.

More than half of the farmers o England of 200 years ago owned the land which they cultivated, but at the present time the representatives of this class are very few, so few indeed that the word "farmer" means "tenant farmer" ip England. TILE DRAINAGE.

Conditions have a great deal to do in

To those purchasing photos enabling one to solve the problem of of groups or views, 8x10, at tile drainage. Where the fall is not 50c each, to the amount of $10 great it frequently happens that gumbo I will present free a fine 20x40, land is too wet to tile out in the spring, exact reproduction that will and because of this such land can washing and not fade usually be drained to much better adaway. No bum work, but a fine permanent Bromide en-vantage during the summer or fall months. On the other hand, there are soils that are just a little too dry in fargement, fully guaranteed. the fall, not furnishing enough water to guide the workman in regulating FISHER, the fall, so that in this case spring tiling might be done more satisfactorily than it could be done in the fall. However, when it comes right down to scientific tiling there is little need of having water in the soil for the purpose of making the fall right, as it usually pays where land is nearly evel to put on an instrument and dig drains according to rule. We appreciate the fact that this is contrary to he notions held by many persons who have had experience in digging ditches, an iceman, a coalman and a policeman but nevertheless it complies with the view of all engineers. A Good Thing That Lasts. It so happens that we are putting a few carloads of tile on our own farm this fall—October and November. Some of the drains will have to be put on land that has always been a little wet for farming purposes, and as soon as the drains are down this fall the plow will be put in and the land partly prepared for a spring crop. We find that there is a little more time to do this kind of work in the fall than there is in the spring, and where land is very soggy it quickly dries out sufficiently, if it is properly tiled, so that it may be plowed in the fall, thus again lessen ing labor in the spring. If one can obtain the use of his drains for a month or two in the fall the tendency is to make the soil just a little more drains will act somewhat more freely in the spring than if they were newly put down. Unlike almost everything else on the farm, a good tile drain be-comes more useful with age, and the sooner it is in the sooner will the owner of such land be benefited, not only by its immediate action, but by the increased value that comes from its effect in making a soll more porous .-

Iowa Homestead.

In Some Cases He Must Possess Scien-tific Attainments. Following the resignation of Dr. Salmon, who was for twenty years head of the bureau of animal industry there have been various expressions of opinion in the press as to who and what his successor should be, and the call has been largely for a "practical stock man." Farm and Ranch, which devotes much attention to live stock matters, comments upon this view as We have no inkling of just whom we have no likiling of just whom the papers raising this demand have in view, but in our judgment Secretary Wilson will select a competent man for this position and one in whom the eat trade of this country and of the who knows.

The practical man in this case is one having scientific training in microscopy, anatomy, physiology and sani-tary science. A man unfamiliar with these highly important branches of science would be as a "mere notch on a stick" when planning and operating the vast work which Dr. Salmon has built up and advanced beyond that of any similar institution in the world's history. Probably 90 per cent of the money expended, the men employed and the publications issued by this bureau are and must remain substantially scientific.

Meat inspection service and the aintenance of the quarantine are highly practical matters, but this en-tire administration depends completely on the information and observations of scientists. To place at the head of this great work, now so close to the pockets of our stock men, an illiterate, an unscientific chief means short shrift for the incompetent who might be per-suaded to accept the position; but, worse than this, it would result in the repudiation of the bureau in this country and in every foreign country now receiving American shipments of meat

Killing a Robin. lieve that killing a robin will bring bad luck. According to ancient belief, the storm cloud was a huge bird. The Arabians represented his wings as measuring 10,000 fathoms. This bird lived on worms, the latter being the streaks of lightning accompanying storms. The Germans remodeled the fiction by creating the god Thor, whos bird was the robin. Consequently t kill a robin first meant death by light-
