

THURSDAY, JANUARY 4, 1906.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Auditor's notice, estate of Ina Feigl, Scott, Executor's notice, estate of Elizabeth Scott, Ritter & Rokenstein's sale, National Biscuit Co., Administrators and Executors of estates to secure their receipts, books at the CITIZEN'S OFFICE.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Borough Announcements.

Subject to the decision of the Republic primary, Saturday, Jan. 27, 1906-2 to P. M.

For Burgess.

E. E. BELL.

J. B. BLACK, of the Fourth ward.

For Collector of Taxes.

ARCHIE W. DAVIDSON.

B. H. JACK.

D. L. MANDIX.

J. P. MCCLUNG.

Everybody out but father. And he'll be out soon, too. When shortly after New Year's the Christmas bills fall due. Mother, she went shopping. So did Sister Ann. Everybody worked poor father. The dear Old Man.

Spring chickens are wanted at the Fulton Fish Market. See ady.

The B. & P. Co. has ordered some new coaches and Pullmans.

The Stogey House in Zelienople lately changed hands for $15,000.

Thomas McGarrick of Butler will build the new Besse bridge piers.

The P. R. & C. Co. has out on all passes, and is now after the switches.

The Phillips machine shops on E. Cunningham St. are being enlarged.

Have you noticed that each day is least 24 seconds longer than its predecessor.

Butler had eight kinds of weather on the shortest day of the year—just like Kansas.

Have you seen the new, noiseless match? You drop one and it lights—lights upon the floor.

The coal miners of Butler county drew about $100,000—semi-monthly wages, last Saturday.

Butler county has another labor case on hands—this time from the Zelienople bath-tub works.

The steel ties are a success and the Besse has ordered more of them. This will save many a good tree.

The holiday travel was immense. The local railroads handled about ten thousand passengers in Butler.

Prospect is having telephone poles and wires put up throughout the town by the Independent Telephone Co.

On Monday the stock and business of the Jacob Boos grocery store was sold to Charles Miller, who is now in charge.

Supt. D. Dixon has appointed his collectors of vital statistics. Those for this county will call upon you and ask questions.

1906 was ushered in in Butler, last Sunday night by a great noise which began immediately after the clock struck twelve.

The Butler Savings and Trust Co., Butler County National and Farmers National Banks all declared 3 per cent, quarterly dividends on Monday.

It is estimated that the foreigners of Western Pennsylvania sent three millions of dollars to their former homes in Europe for Christmas presents.

A young couple furnished public subscription Sunday afternoon by billiard and cooling for an hour or more in an upper window of one of our hotels.

The Western Allegheny is to be completed to New Castle by March 1st, and then we are to have two passenger trains daily, each way—Butler to New Castle.

The Otago-Genarians held their regular monthly meeting in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, last Saturday; and they have invited all the ladies of the county over 80 years of age to join with them.

The tax payments, last week, were heavy, but on account of the delay in having the books ready last July, the 5 per cent will not be added to last year's taxes until next Monday week, the 15th.

The factories of this county produced thirty-two million square feet of plate glass, last year, and the demand is so steady that prices advanced 3 per cent during the last four months of the year.

While Mrs. Mary Bogan and her son were attending the funeral of her daughter, Mrs. Jennie McClain, at Avon, Dec. 30th, a fire broke out at Benleva was mysteriously burned with all its contents.

The Saturday before Christmas was the busiest day Santa Claus has ever had in Butler. The receipts of several of our stores for that day exceeded two thousand dollars, and the receipts of one of our express offices—which are now the wholesale liquor stores of the town—ran over four thousand.

Some of our teamsters have been bragging about the tremendous loads they can haul and have hauled; and if you take notice to one of them along the way you can conclude that the good offices of the Humane Agent, or agent for the prevention of cruelty to animals is called for, instead of braggadocho.

That new road law ought to have been advertised and ventilated three months ago, but it has just been discovered. Our legislators should not persist in hiding their light under a bushel—surely some simple and inexpensive way can be found for promptly informing the people of the import of all their Acts of general interest.

The Valvaine Oil Co. completed its purchase of the Henry Green farm in Summit twp., last week, and also purchased 25 acres of the old Judge McCandless tract from S. C. McCandless of Pittsburgh, which gives them 105 acres in all, and a frontage along both the B. & O. and B. & E. railroads, and on which, it is said, they propose building a refinery. The Valvaine is an independent refining company, has pipe lines from West Virginia to Warren, this state, has three refineries in operation, and for some reason pays 10 cents a barrel more for Penna. Crude Oil than does the Standard.

Your dollar will do double duty at Ritter & Rokenstein's great sale of men's and boys' wear.

If a saving of 25 to 50 per cent is any object it is up to you now to attend Ritter & Rokenstein's great sacrifice sale of men's and boys' wear.

LEGAL NEWS.

NEW SUITS.

Rose D. Walther vs George Walther, petition for divorce, cruel and barbarous treatment alleged.

W. H. Fleming vs A. L. Vensal summons in trespass for $500 for slander. Fleming states that while he was acting as foreman for Charles Goerman on some carpenter work at the Thomas McGarrick house at St. Joe he discharged Vensal at Goerman's request and Vensal then called Fleming several things that were not nice. A capias was issued for Fleming and bail required.

NOTES.

Reports of viewers in the case of Mrs. Ellen Elliott vs B. & O. R. R. awarding damages for land taken in Allegheny twp. and in the case of Katherine Pfeiffer, against the same railroad, pending for $30, have been approved by the court.

Eighteen of the bridge building companies of Ohio have been indicted by the grand jury of Henry county, Ohio, for conspiring to keep up prices, contrary to the anti-trust law of that state.

Judge Shaffer of Allegheny county lately sentenced two negroes to sixteen years each in the penitentiary for highway robbery, and shooting with intent to kill.

A prisoner in a Missouri penitentiary fasted from Thanksgiving to Christmas.

Geo. Cramm, said to be from Columbus, Ohio, spent the holidays in a cell in the Butler jail—supposed to be a bad case of jimjams. He's better now.

The following presented petitions for attachment and were sworn in as creditors of the United States Bank at Julian Kronicke, Salvatore Polano, Giuseppe Polano, John Bungar, Eugene Plummer and Domingo Nevado.

The equity case of Thos. Painter, Dr. E. Painter, et al vs Peter Painter, Dr. L. M. Halstead, Miss M. L. Buckley, et al was continued until March term.

Henderson Surrena vs Mercer twp. was argued by County Detective Hoon, Saturday after a chase across Venango, Marion and Washington twps. Several cases against Mrs. Yvett Farnam of Venango twp. whose house was burglarized some time ago, made information before Judge Galbreath.

Squire Keck charged Surrena with the crime. Surrena had evidently been warned of the approach of the officer, which accounts for the flight. It is alleged that Surrena had a party of a number of robbers which have occurred in the northern part of the county.

Surrena was held for Court by Justice Keck after a hearing, Monday, and bailed for $1000. A neighbor of Surrena went to the bank, showing him a certificate of deposit for $1000. Later, District Attorney Walker learned the bona fide owner of the money was owned no real estate. There then was a race to get out another warrant and arrest Surrena again before he could get away. Sheriff Detective Hoon got after a run as he was boarding a Bessemer train.

The case of Mrs. Annie Maloney vs Noble Montgomery, stated for the opinion of the Court to determine if Montgomery was liable for the payment of rentals under a certain clause in the Hedrick oil lease, was argued before Judge Galbreath, Saturday.

The equity case of E. E. Straman, John Henry and others, minority stockholders of the Clark Coal and Coke Co., asking for a receiver, was called Friday and continued after some of the witnesses had been heard on account of Clark taking sick during the hearing.

The equity case of J. H. Negley vs Butler Street Railway Co. was heard Friday and continued after the parties previously agreed upon by the parties.

County Treasurer Dixon paid Treasurer J. W. Hutcheson of the Bar Association $468.23, being one half of the money paid for collection of the liquor laws during the past nine months. The money goes to the Court library.

Sheriff Campbell received $1749.97 from the County Commissioners for their final settlement Saturday for taking care of prisoners, transportation of prisoners, etc., during the last quarter of 1905.

Sheriff Campbell on Monday received $1000 for the jail and office equipment and fixtures, and nine prisoners, as follows: John B. McLaughlin, Paul and brother, Charles J. Snyder, Hypolite Burgeois, Henderson Surrena, Emil Fisher, George Richardson and John Mininger.

Gov. Herrick of Ohio pardoned two life-tenure prisoners, for a Christmas gift.

The Hamilton vs W. S. Wick equity case, to prevent the closing of a driveway from Monroe St. to the bottle works, was argued Monday.

The hearing of the equity proceedings of J. M. Burners vs the directors of the National Liquid Gas Co. of Zelienople was continued before Judge Galbreath, Tuesday. One of the disclosures of the hearing was that the indebtedness of the firm increased from $480 to $100,000 on $7,200 in November. After hearing all the evidence Judge Galbreath refused to appoint a receiver and dismissed the case with costs. The case is to be appealed.

The equity case of the Iron City Mfg. Co. asking for an injunction on the part of its former employees, members of the Iron Molders Union, was heard yesterday.

C. C. Pillow, H. H. Boyd, Robert D. Stevenson, R. C. McAbby, J. N. Mantz and Milton Shanon were appointed viewers to assess damages on petition of Lochrie Bros., who are building a lateral railroad to their coal mines in Washington twp., to assess damages done by their lines.

The will of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Pizer of Hooker has been probated, Robert Adams executor. The real estate goes to her son, Henderson, and the personal estate is divided equally among her children.

W. L. Bower was arrested at the B. & O. station on Tuesday evening on a charge of aebd made against him by his wife.

At the meeting of the Supreme Court in Philadelphia, Judge Stewart took the oath of office for the regular term, twenty-one years. The Court affirms the lower court in the Massett vs case, but insists case has been compromised and settled; and also affirms the lower court in the case of Millman Bros. vs Keweenaw.

In the Somerset County liquor case the court decides that applicants for license have a right to amend their applications after filing.

Little vs C. D. & P. Telephone Co., the $4,250 damage case, was affirmed.

Charles Redic, aged about 24 years, a son of Oliver Redic, formerly of Allegheny twp. Butler, but now living elsewhere, and Philip Brothers, who are in jail in Clarion, charged with being parties in the murder of John Pickard, who was killed by a blow upon the head at the Weston Col. Hotel, near Montevideo about two weeks ago and whose body was then thrown into the river.
