For Burgess.

E. E. BELL.

J. B. BLACK, of the Fourth ward.
For Collector of Taxes.

ARCHIE W. DAVIDSON.

B. H. JACK.

D. LARDIN.

J. F. McCLUNG.

For Justice of the Peace.

JACOB KROK, of the Fifth Ward.

Subject to the Decision of the Democratic Primaries.

Sales, Sales, Sales.

—Local politics are quiet.

—A woman is due to be hung in New Jersey, tomorrow.

—Nominations good for borough and township offices.

—It was cold Monday night, and the mercury stood at but 10 above zero next morning.

—There were some sleighs out in Butler, last Sunday for the first time this winter.

—Five Generals were killed during a late battle in San Domingo, and three are now left.

—One of the Democratic candidates for Burgess says, "We Germans will stand together, one by each."

—A 60-foot log on Fourth Ave. Pittsburg that changed length in 1895 for $1,200 is now valued at $1,200,000.

—Parts of Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska experienced a slight shock of earthquake, last Sunday evening.

—The Merchants Mutual Fire Insurance Co. of Butler issued 203 policies, last year, but not one assessment and are pleased with their success.

—The first work train ran over the elevated railroad on Duquesne Way from Union Station to the warehouses on the Point in Pittsburg, last week.

—One of the big hotels of Minneapolis burned early, yesterday morning, causing the death of ten people, and the loss of a quarter of a million of property.

—Martin Luther, or the Story of the Reformation, will be presented in the Majestic Theatre, by local talent, Jan. 30th, under the auspices of the Grace Lutheran church.

—One of the old soldiers who lately went up to Andersonville, Ga. located and dug up some money he had hidden in a bottle and buried on the prison grounds forty-one years ago.

—Some of the past-legislators will start for Harrisburg, Saturday, and the Harrisburg boarding-house keepers are ready to receive them with open arms and warming pans.

—The United States Civil Service Commission announces that an examination will be held at Butler, next Saturday, 20th, for the positions of clerk and carrier in the postoffice.

—The printers of this town and, presumably, all the smaller towns, are at present giving up ten per cent of their wages to support the printers of the cities who are striking for an 8-hour day.

—Our doctors are kicking on the new law regarding the registration of deaths; but as for that new law, few of our townships in the county is full of men anxious to give bond and perform all the duties of Supervisor, under it, for nothing.

—That was a funny thing that happened near the crossing of Main and Jefferson Sts. last Friday afternoon—the ringing of the fire bell scared a horse and he bounded into the street-car tracks and threw himself.

—The Butler Hospital had 10,979 "hospital days" whatever that is, last year, also 543 patients, 48 deaths, and 298 operations. The patients paid them ten thousand and some dollars, and it cost nearly $20,000 to keep the thing going.

—The new board of County Commissioners of Beaver county decided, last week, to advertise the sale of a $50,000 issue of bridge bonds by the county. The bonds will be sold Feb. 1. They will be 4 per cent bond, maturing serially.

—Last Sunday was Russian Christmas and though it was sorry day for them so far as their National affairs are concerned, there was considerable drinking and carousing among the colony in Butler, with some hearings before the Burgess next morning.

—Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis of Brooklyn lectured on the High School Alumni course in the Majestic Theatre, Monday evening. His subject was "Oliver Cromwell" and the lecture was one of the best ever delivered in Butler.

At one period about "Go on, go on," greeted the speaker. The next lecture will be by Hon. Charles Emory Smith, Feb. 1.

—A lot of farmers along the route of the Pittsburg and Butler Street railway, line south of Butler are said to be feeling bad over the way the new inter-urban line is being built. They gave rights-of-way about a fifth what they would have charged a steam railroad company, because they thought that the new line would be built on the surface and their farms would be injured but little. Now the work of track building is almost completed and the grading, cutting and filling is almost as heavy as that done on railroads, and the farmers feel that they have been easy marks.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

"SPANGLES"—JAN. 12.

Nothing more delightfully alluring and captivating than "Spangles; or The Wooden Horse," which will be presented here next Wednesday night, from its month's run at the Broad Street Theatre, Philadelphia, has been brought forward in recent times. The play has proven to be a highly diverting entertainment.

Prices $1.50, $1.00, 75c, 50c, 25c.

THE HOOSIER GIRL—JAN. 13.

"The Hoosier Girl" appeared at the Grand Opera House last evening for her first time in this city. Here, hoping she'll come back, may she come with "The Hoosier Girl" is sweet and pretty, with an atmosphere of the rural.

Prices, matinee 10c and 25c, night 25c, 35c and 50c.

"WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES"—JAN. 13.

This captivating farce comedy which adds thousands of friends yearly to its already long list of admirers at the Majestic, Monday evening, is known as the one play that has a laugh in every line. There isn't a dull second in the entire play.

"GIRLS WILL BE GIRLS"—JAN. 16.

The prettiest song that has been heard for many moons is "And that Little Girl is You," which is sung with unique light effects in Wm. A. Brady's production of "Girls will be Girls." All Leech and the Three Hebeads are supported by a good chorus.

If a saving of 25 to 50 per cent is any object in it, you may as well attend Ritter & Rockenstein's great sacrifice sale of men's and boys' wear.

Steffens to Write From Washington.

Lincoln Steffens, the famous writer on "Graft," whose stories of "The Shame of the States" and municipal corruption, are credited with being partly responsible for the overthrow of bossism in many cities, went to Washington a week ago on a new assignment—to follow the trail of municipal and State corruption to the National Capital. Steffens will write this new series of "Graft" stories from the seat of government, and for the first time his exposures will appear in the newspapers instead of in the magazines.

The Pittsburg Sunday Dispatch has secured the exclusive rights of the publication of this new series of "Graft" stories on this territory. The first article will appear next, Sunday, January 15.

Overcoats at your price during Ritter & Rockenstein's great sale.

Judge Mestreat put up a stout kick in the late decision of a majority of his bench, the Supreme Court, on the right to amend lease petitions, but the majority rules in this case, as in any other.

Dr. State of Parkers Landing has caused the arrest of Postmaster Turk of that place on a charge of malpractice and injury to life. The action is based on a portion of a letter alleged to have been written by Turk to Wm. Parker, in which Dr. State is accused of being intimate with a married woman, with having performed criminal operations on her at divers times, with having a bar at a certain place, and having been with two persons. This sentence is in the letter. He is a fine musician (musician State) and should be congratulated upon his achievements.

"Not guilty, but return the stolen bull and pay half the costs," was the verdict rendered by the Justice of the Peace at that heard the evidence before Alderman Ranney in the larceny by bailie charge brought by Mrs. Anna L. Ramsey against Mrs. Minnie Evans. Mrs. Ramsey accused Mrs. Evans of taking a broad bowl, worth $2. Mrs. Evans denied it.

By the decision handed down in the case of Silver et al vs Bush et al, from Armstrong county, the Supreme Court, again decided that gas and oil were not minerals and that in drawing a lease each must be named and not placed under the title of "other minerals."

Court convened Monday morning for what promises to be a three-week term. When the jury list was called the following were excused: Philip Burtner, on account of his age, 86; George Davis, Worth twp., on account of deafness; Hiram Gill, James Marsh, Joseph Holben and Jacob Schaffer for sickness; Clark Zeigler was excused for one week and H. O. Swartzlander for the term.
