FARM·FIELD AND GARDEN

NESTS FOR HENS.

This Model Seems "to Take"—Has a Sliding Bottom.

The accompanying drawing is made from a model of my hens' nests that I used as an illustration in a poultry talk at our local institute. It seemed "to take," so I thought that a description of it would be of some interest, writes a correspondent to Ohio Farmer. The plan of the nest is original with me, and the idea is that it can be easily and thoroughly cleaned and also that it does not serve as a roosting place at night for the hens, as many nests frequently do.

The nests are made somewhat as follows: The bottom of one set of nests consists of a single board that rests on cleats or strips nailed on the upright end boards. The bottom can be removed at pleasure, drawer fashion, leaving the nests bottomless, so that the old nest material, dust and louse harboring filth all drop out. There need be no boards nailed on back of nests, as the wall of the building where the nests are placed serves as a back. I place my nests so that the bottom of the nest is two or two and a half feet from the floor, thus saving floor space. A 1 by 2 inch strip, fastened perch-like, about six inches in front of nests, is very convenient for a hen that wants to lay, as she can pass along on it until she comes to a vacant nest. A board of nearly the width and of the same length as the top and hinged to the lower edge of the top (this is not given in the drawing) can be laid back during the day, leaving the nests open, and let down at evening, closing the nests, and then the hens have just one place to roost, and that where they belong—on their perches.

FINE FORAGE.

The Rape Crop One of the Quickest Grown Green Feeds.

Perhaps no crop can be raised on the farm giving a larger quantity of feed in the shape of green forage than rape. Easy of cultivation, not only can several sowings be made in one season, but the same growth may be cut or fed off on the ground more than once. It is invaluable to the stock raiser. All kinds of live stock from poultry to cattle eat it eagerly and thrive on it. Rape may be either cut and carried to live stock on pastures and in yards or fed off on the ground where grown by folding live stock on the land.

The greatest value of the rape crop is the fact that it supplies a full feed of succulent food in a short time from sowing. From six to eight weeks are usually sufficient to make the crop ready for feeding. It may be sown broadcast, but gives best results if planted in rows or ridges and cultivated. The land should be well manured and a thoroughly prepared seed bed made ready before sowing. Rape will then grow right along, even during dry weather. In my experience I have got the best results by sowing in ridges under which a good supply of barnyard manure has been put.

In feeding rape care should be taken not to let the animals remain too long at first, and never let them have access to it when very hungry or if the rape is wet from rain or frost. Where sheep are being fattened on rape they should be looked to several times a day, as when they get heavy and get on their backs in low places they are unable to rise unassisted, and in such cases some perish, writes a New Hampshire correspondent to Country Gentleman.

Dodder in Alfalfa Seed.

The New York experiment station has recommended as the best and most way of cleaning dodder infested alfalfa seed that the farmers hand sift their seed. Dodder seeds, being much smaller than alfalfa, are easily removed by sifting through a wire sieve having twenty meshes to the inch. Unfortunately ready made sieves of this size are not readily obtainable at hardware stores. But a cheap, serviceable sieve for the purpose may be made by constructing a light wooden frame twelve inches square by three inches deep and tacking over the bottom of it a twenty mesh wire screen made of No. 32 (English gauge) round wire. Some hardware dealers do not carry such screens in stock, but they can easily procure it. With such a sieve a man should be able to clean from five to ten bushels of alfalfa seed per day.

Poisoning Cutworms.

The Oklahoma experiment station reports that further experiments in poisoning cutworms, which have been working on wheat and alfalfa, have shown the following mixture to be superior to spraying with paris green, as formerly recommended: Thoroughly mix while dry one pound of paris green and fifty pounds of wheat bran; make moist, but not sloppy, by adding water in which a quart of cheap molasses has been dissolved. Place this mixture in spoonful piles where the worms are working. It attracts the worms from the wheat and oats. It is also good grasshopper poison.

Presence of Mind.

Mme. Rachel, the great actress, was resting alone in her dressing room one night preparatory to going on the stage when a man suddenly entered and, drawing a dagger, said he was going to kill her if she did not at once consent to marry him. The actress saw at a glance that the man was mad and meant what he said. So with the utmost coolness she replied: "Certainly I will marry you. I wish nothing better. Come with me to the priest at once. I have had him come here for the purpose." She took his arm, and they went out together—to where there was assistance, of course, and the man was immediately put under arrest.—Philadelphia Record.

Deduction by Analogy.

"Mamma, I'm got a stomach ache," said Nellie Bly, six years old.

"That's because you've been without lunch. It's because your stomach is empty. You would feel better if you had something in it."

That afternoon the pastor called and in the course of conversation remarked that he had been suffering all day with a very severe headache.

"That's because it is empty," said Nellie. "You'd feel much better if you had something in it."—American Spectator.

Time For Weaning.

"I trust your honor will excuse me this time," said a habitual drunkard at the police court. "It is my misfortune—I am a child of genius."

"And what is your age?" questioned the magistrate.

"Forty-two years."

"Then it is time you were weaned. You'll have to do ten days away from the bottle."

As a rule people discover a man to be worth listening to only after he is gone.—Schonenhauer.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
Is a powerful, invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. The local, womanly health is so intimately related to the general health that when diseases of the delicate womanly organs are cured the whole body gains in health and strength. For weak and sickly women who are "worn-out," "run-down" or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office or schoolroom, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proven a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving powers.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womanly organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Cures obstinate cases. "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of "female weakness," painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus or falling of the pelvic organs, weak back, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration.

Dr. Pierce's medicines are made from harmless but efficient medical roots found growing in our American forests. The Indians knew of the marvelous curative value of some of these roots and imparted that knowledge to some of the friendlier whites, and gradually some of the more progressive physicians came to test and use them, and ever since they have grown in favor by reason of their superior curative virtues and their safe and harmless qualities.

Your druggists sell the "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" and also that famous alterative, blood purifier and stomach tonic, the "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

Drying preparations simply dry up dry catarrh; they dry up the secret which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid inhaling inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N.Y.

The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.
