mine themselves. WM. B. MILLIGAN. Newville, July 20, 1837. CERTIFICATES.

Having purchased and tried one of the Threshing Machines and Horse Power, manufactured by W. B. Milligan, I can safely say that I fully realized my expectations. It runs at least one horse-lighter, and the horses walk about one fourth slower, and threshes more grain in the same time than any one I have yet seen.
WILLIAM GRACEY.

Newton, July 8, 1837.

W. B. Milligan—I willingly certify to the utility of the above machines, yours being the third Threshing Machine which I have had put up in my barn, besides having seen eight different ones in operation, and I can safely say, that in my opinion, yours surpasses any thing I yet have seen for light and slow running and for expeditous work.

JACOB MYERS, JR. West Pennsboro', July 17, 1837.

I have threshed upon the machines manufactured in Carlisle, and on most if not all the different kinds of machines in the county, and can say without hesitation that those manfactured by W. B. Milligan run much lighter, the horses walk much slower, and threshes more grain in the same time than threshes more gram, any I have yet tried.

SAMUEL GALBRAITH. Newville, July 12, 1827. Mr. Milligan—having for my own satisfac-tion tried one of your Clover Machines last winter, I took one half of my chaff to the clover mill, which turned out ten bushels, of which I gave one bushel for toll, the other half I shelled upon your machine in one day at home, and had twelve bushels and one fourth of clean seed,

DR. W. EVANS MEDICAL PREPARATIONS

S the enjoyment of health depends on pre in a healthy and vigorous state, through the operations of which the body receives its growth, its nutrition, and its support. It can no longer be astonishing that when these viscera are deranged and cannot perform their proper functions, the whole system should suffer and become disordered. The blood is made from the contents of the stomach; has its red color and vitality given to it to the action of the lungs, and as it performs its duty in circulations through the veins and arteries, has its yellow or billious excrement, which may be fermed its refuse or worn out sediment, collected and discharged by the liver. These viscera, then, are the antimonial mechanism or apparatus by which the blood is manufactured and preserved; and it is therefore obvious that the state of these should be the first consideration of the physician. Now there are various causes that will affect and derange these organs with which by an other tract of the name of Joseph Thornburg, bounded South by the last described tract, West by a first described tract, and allowance.—Also, one other tract of the name of Michael Ege, containing 405 acres in the name of the manufactured and the react of wood-land, and the react of wood-land, warranted in the name of Michael Ege, containing 405 acres in the name of the manufactured and the react of wood-land, and the react of wood-land, warranted in the name of Michael Ege, containing 405 acres in the name of the manufactured and the react of wood-land, warranted in the name of Michael Ege, containing 405 acres in the name of Thomas Thornburg, bounded South by the last described tract, we shall be the react of wood-land, warranted in the name of Michael Ege, containing 405 acres in the name of Michael Ege, containing 405 acres in the name of West by the last described warranted in the name of Joseph Thornburg, bounded South by the last described tract, West by Miler and Love and the name of Michael Ege, containing 411 acres, 28 perches, and last the proper warranted in the name of Michael Ege, containing 405 acres in the name of Thornburg, bounded South by the last described tract, we shall be the first consideration of the proper warranted in the name of Michael Ege, containing 411 acres, 28 perches, and last the proper warranted in the name of Michael Ege, containing 411 acres, 28 perches, and last the proper warranted in the name of Michael Ege, containing 405 acres in the name ty, and funeral retinue of other evils. Is the blood to blame for this? Intemperance, by inflaming the cuats of the stomach, and leaving it in flacid, prostrate weakness; and an undue quantity and continuance of purgative medicines by producing the same effects, will put this organ almost out of use for digesting wholesome solid food, and thus impoverish the blood and the whole system. Is the blood to blame for this?—Again, with regard to the Lungs, it is well known, that a slight cold, occasioned by damp feet or by a current of air, will inflame the bronchia, all dawn through the bronchia, all down through the branching air tubes of the lungs, and create either excessive mucuums, or that dreadful insidious disease, Consumption, with pustules_and_suppuration_of_the_lobes, which, though timely remedies may prevent, no earthly skill can cure. Is the blood of the fair and bloomng victim to blame for this? So the liver, when climate, sedentary habits, intemperance, or other prostrating causes have withered away or paraly sea it with distention, becomes unable to carry of the bile from the circulation, and instead of discharging it through the gall bladders, leaves it to come through the gall bladders, leaves it to generally the skin in jaundiced and sallow fluids, and to rush upon the stomach in irregular and excessive quantities. Is the unfortunate blood to blame for this? No! these vital organs are never affected by the blood, until after the blood has been affected by them; they are the makers and masters, and it is merely their work and their passive agent,

Knowing this to be a sound and demonstrated fact in science and experience, Dr. W. EVANS' system of practice is in faithful accordance with it. Ite alms to keep the Stomech, the Lungs, and the Liver in vigorous and regular action, as the three great fountains of health and life. For this purgreat fountains of health and life.
