DR. W. EVANS MEDICAL PREPARATIONS

S the enjoyment of health depends on pre-serving the complicated functions of the TOMACH, LIVER, INTESTINES, & LUNGS, in a healthy and vigorous state, through the operations of which the body receives its growth, its nutrition, and its support. It can no longer be astonishing that when these viscers are deranged and cannot perform their proper functions, the whole system should suffer and become disorder. ed.—The Mood-is made from the contents of the stomach; has its red color and vitality given to it by the action of the lungs, and as it performs its duty in circulationg through the veins and arteies, has its yellow or billious excrement, which may be termed its refuse or worn out sediment, collected and discharged by the liver. These viscera, then, are the antimonial mechanism of inparatus by which the blood is manufactured and paratus by which the blood is manufactured and preserved; and it is therefore obvious that the state of these should be the first consideration of the physician. Now there are various causes tha will affect and derange these organs with which the blood has nothing whatever to do. Thus the stomach may be utterly debilitated in one moment, by affright grief, disappointment, heat of wholly unable to digest its food. Is the blood to blame for this? A NERVOUS ACTION of long ontinuance, will produce settled DYSPEPSIA with head-ache, bile, mental and physical debili ty, and funeral retinue of other evils. Is the blood to blame for this? Intemperance, by inflaming the coats of the stomach, and leaving it ting the general elections within this in flacid, prostrate weakness; and an undue commonwealth," passed the 15th day quantity and continuance of purgative medicines, by producing the same effects, will put this organ almost out of use for digesting wholesome solid-food, and thus impoverish the blood and the whole system. Is the blood to blame for this?-

> though timely remedies may prevent, no earthly skill can cure. Is the blood of the fair and blooming victim to blame for this? So the liver, when climate, sedentary habits, intemperance, or other prostrating causes have withered away or paralyskill can cure. Is the blood of the fair and blooming ing victim to blame for this? So the liver, when climate, sedentary labits, intemperance, or other prostrating causes have withered away or paralyzed it with distention, becomes unable to carry off. the bile-froin the circulation, and instead of distantion, becomes unable to carry off. the bile-froin the circulation, and instead of distantion in the skin in jaundiced and sallow fluids, and to rush upon the stomach in irregular and excessive quantities. Is the unfortunate blood to blame for this?—No? these wital organs are never affected by the blood, until after the blood has been affected by them; they are the makers and masters, and it is merely, their, work and their passive agent,

"Knowing this to be a sound and demonstrated for in science and experience, Dr. W. EVANS' system of practice is in faithful accordance with it. He aims to keep the Stomach, the Lungs, and the Liver in vigorous and regular action, as the three great buntains of health and life. For this purpose fee prescribes his beautifully, efficacious AP. Efftent FILS (acknowledged by medical men who have analyzed and recommended them, to be equal to any in the world) in cases which require the cleaning of the stomach and bowels and his celebrated CAMOMILE or TONIC PILLS, in cases of nervous irritability, stomachic weakness, or general debility. A vast majority of human diseases having their origin in the general symptom of the principal viscera with the nervous system; he thus seeks disease in the most subtile fibres of its roots, instead of vainly hopping to exting health and between the definition of the heart, loss of Appetite, Heart-burn and Heid-ande, Restressing the region of the stomachic weakness, or general debility. A vast majority of human diseases having their origin in the general symptom of Dyspepsia, will vanish as a natural consumeration of the heart, loss of Appetite, Heart-burn and Heid-ande, Restressing, Heit-magneting from a clear from the process of perspiration in some to represent the county of Cumberland in fect in science and experience, Dr. W. A CONTRAST, All intions, from the remotest ages, have had ships, but Columbus only found out the way to America. Before the time of the great Spanish navigator, people were only engined to puddle about the shores. Just so with the Life Medicines. It is but two years since I first ventured upon an unknown ocean, and I have discovered the precious object I was in search of—IIEALTH. Vegetable medicines were indeed known when I confinenced my search, but their use was not. By the use of them, I have not only passed from, the dejected invalid, to the hale, hearty and active man of business, but, comparatively speaking, I have renewed my youth. I can thus, with confidence in my own experience, advise with my fellow-citizens. Does the reader want proof that the VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES are suitable to bit own case? I have on the at my office, 516 ffront way, hundreds of letters, from some of the most respectable ditzens of this my native land, volontary offered in testimoly of the virtues of A GOOD VEGETABLE LIFE imbert. Vezetable Universal Pills. Science should contribute to the Comfort, Health and Happiness of Mankind." On the eighteenth of May, 1835, these now ruly celebrated Pills were first made known in truly celebrated Pills were first made known in the United States, although in Europe they had been previously before the public nearly a century. The American public naturally viewed them with suspicion, but as on triaf they were found what they professed, it was soon displaced by the greatest confidence. The following circumstance, illustrative, of the "dignity of the press? and at the same time, of the liberality with which its conductors are rewarded for their toil. was told us by the editor of a country paper in the State of New York, We vouch for the truth of the story, and give it in our friend's own words .- Mobile Adv. I didn't make much by this .-owed the tailor twice as much as he owed me-the shoe maker brought me in his debt-the barber poked his bill for shaving in my face—the blacksmith had mended the frisket of my confounded old Ramage-the tinner had a charge for soddering a roller mould—the grocer for luc and molasses -- and, in fine, I dis-

"Nothing now remained but an appeal o my country subscribers. This I made. and, fortunately, most of them ready to pay-but in such "currency" as would astonish even these latter days. Shin plasters are nothing to it. One said he had situate in the borough of Carlisle, containing 60 agreed to pay in wood, and added, pointing to the woods, there it is, help yourself.' Another promised me a load of pumpkins the next week. One offered House, plastered. Soized and taken in execution me a pig for a year subscription: and, as as the property of John Main. And to be sold I was a 'whole hoe' editor. I closed with I was a 'whole hog? editor, I closed with. the offer immediately. But a new difficulty arose. There were two of the pigs, and the owner could not think, he said of seperating them—they would be sure to pine away and die. 1 suggested that Ife should let me have them both, and I would give him credit for a year's subscription in advance. This he refused, but proposed that I should take one pig for the year's subscription, and help him get in his hay, two days, for the other. This I agreed to do. Never did poor devil work harder, or sweat more profusely than I durng those memorable two days.

"Well-I got through, at last; borrowed a bag, put a pig in each end, slung itacross my sholder, and started home. -I had five miles to walk, and before I reached half way, the bag became unfied -out slipped the little piggling, in that end -cocked up its tail and ran for dear life. I dropped the bag and started in chase .--Over the fences, through bush and briar, Notwithstanding the suspension of specie fiedge and ditch, we had it—side and ayments; Notes of all solvent Bankswill be side, as Major Downing says; only the pig. a little head. At last, I gave up in deapair, and sat down on a log to suminate EMORY & Co. No. 2, Calvert st. Bair, upon the dignity of the press, and the ingratitude of pigs and democrats."
