But it is time our remarks were drawing to a close. We cannot conclude, however, without insisting upon a principle, the neglect of which, we fear, is a great hindrance to the success of the Temperance Reformation. It is not the signing of the Temperance pleige, but its observance that is to secure our object. The merely joining a Temperance Society will no more insure a man's preservation, than being a member of the visible Church of Christ on earth will entitle him to great Church of Christ on earth will entitle him to a seat Church of Christ on earth will entitle him to a sear in Heaven. The pledge is the profession of our fath, the joining a acciety is the confirming of our resolution, and the extending of our influence, but both will be alike ineffectual, without the strictest consistency between our profess our practice. Let not him not then, who has united himself to a Temperance Society, suppose that lies therefore perfectly safe. Let him beware of those temptations which have, in ma-ny instances proved too strong for the most serious promise, and the most sacred pledge. And in the endearments of the domestic circle, in the in the endearments of the domestic circle, in the high and canobling pleasures of literature and science,—and, above all, in the holy joys of a regenerate and purified heart, let him seek a happiness that shalf never cloy, but which shall survive when the frantic merriment of inebriation shall have been exchanged for "walling and gnashing of teeth." ### Correspondence of the New York Herald. Glorious Nows-Defeat of the Disorganizers.

The bill of abominations, thank God, is laid upon the table by a vote of 120 to 107. Huzza for the glorious 13! They have dared to throw themselves in the breach made in the walls of the Confirst."

Stitution by the disorganizers, and saved the country. What was the disorganizers, and saved the country. What was the disorganizer and saved the country. What was the disorgeneral for it? For it is upon του that the responsibility of such an event, if it comes, must gold and silver therefor. Without Mr. Calhoun's rest: upon you its dreadful consequences will fall.

Does any one shrink at the anticipation of such a question of policy as to the keeping of the public result? Let him remember that, if he do not personally aid in preventing it, the fact that it may those moneys should be, then it struck at the root of our prosperity and liberty. Then it became a bill of abominations, that will, in all luture times, stink in the nostrils of the freeman and the true stink in the nostrils of the freeman and the true American. Long may it lie upon the speaker's table! There-let it remain as the monument of a deep and dath conspiracy, against the social moneyed and political institutions of the U. States. But to the proceedings of this morning. This is no place to indulge in reflections upon the monstrous and wicked amendment of John C. Calhoun. Your intelligent and hundred thousand readers are fully capable of indepice for the House. Previous to this operation, Mr. Clarke of New York briefly stated his objections to the bill as destructive of the social, moneyed and political interests of the country, and said he would vote to place it on the speaker's table. The aves and mays were then taken, and a call of the house w. s ord ted. Two hundred and eighteen members answe ed to their names.

The doors were then closed. In a few minutes four of the absentees appeared. After several excuses which were received by the House, Mr.

In doing so, however, we must beg leave to se, arate this from other questions with which it has been unwarrantably associated, and which alone, in reality, most of the objections that are usually urged, have any bearing When, therefore, we maintain, that the suppression of intemperance requires total abstinence from fermented as well as, distilled liquors, as a beverage, we do not mean, and no one has a right to say that we

THE SUB-TREASURY SCHEME DE-

FEATED.
Our readers will learn with pleasure that Mr.
Van Buren's Loco Foco scheme of turning the National Treasury into an immense banking house, with its thousands of irresponsible agents and sa aried officers scattered over the country has been defeated in the House of Represents tives, by a majority of THIRTEEN VOTES, not-withstanding the New York conservatives were whipped into the service of the President. The vote stood, on motion to lay on the table.

107 For the Bill. Against it, 120

Majority against the Bill, 13
This result may be looked upon as the death-knell of the reign of Loco Focoism. It numbers the days of Mr. Van Buren. It declares that the set pire of power has departed from the hands of the National Administration, and that the Representatives of the People will not be the supple tools of a new dynasty to aid in the reign of new humbures. Reason has resumed her seat again in
