

CARLEISE.

Tuesday, January 9, 1838.

The People's Candidates. FOR PRESIDENT, WM. H. HARRISON. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, FRANCOIS GRANGER.

Democratic Antislavery Candidate for Governor, JOSEPH WITNER.

On motion of James H. Graham, Esq., John J. Myers, William M. Porter, and Frederick E. Daily, Esqrs. were admitted to practice law in the several courts of this county.

The New Year.

In consequence of our columns being crowded with other matter, we were obliged to issue our last number without the usual New Year's greeting. Our patrons must not therefore infer that we did not or do not wish them all the happiness during the present year which it is possible for frail mortality to enjoy.

Our thanks are due to the Hon. CHARLES NAYLOR, of our National Legislature; Hon. JOHN SEWAGEANT, Hon. LEVI MERKLE, Hon. GEORGE HARRISON, of the State Convention; and to the Hon. CHARLES B. PENROSE, of the State Senate, for valuable public documents.

Our readers will pardon the absence of the usual variety of our paper—we have excluded much interesting matter to give place to the speech of the Hon. CHARLES NAYLOR in the halls of Congress. We believe that this noble effort will commend itself to the head and heart of every well-wisher of the prosperity of his country.

It could have been well if Charles J. Ingersoll, of "My Memory," had been present when this stirring speech was made. It contains sentiments which would have gratified nobly on the ear of one who declared "that if he had lived in the days of the revolution, he would have been a TORR," and who afterwards had the audacity to offer himself as a candidate for an office of honor and trust—and who is now preaching his Tory Loco Foco doctrines in the State Convention.

It will be remembered by our readers that President VAN BUREN, in his late message to Congress, stepped so far out of his proper limits as to give the United States Bank of Pennsylvania a knock out because it paid out the notes of the old Bank. As a pretty commentary on that part of his message, the National Gazette says that the Government is now paying the members of Congress one third in specie and two thirds in those same unlawful, abominable notes.

Military Meetings. We have received the proceedings of several meetings held during the last week in the upper end of this county, in favor of different persons who are candidates for military honors.

On motion of James H. Graham, Esq., John J. Myers, William M. Porter, and Frederick E. Daily, Esqrs. were admitted to practice law in the several courts of this county.

The Mammoth Sheet.

The first number for 1838 of Alexander's Weekly Messenger may with much truth be so called. It is an immense paper, decidedly the largest we have ever seen. Its first page is embellished with 20 portraits of distinguished public men, among which we notice those of "Clay and Calhoun," representatives of their "living, breathing originals." Captain Marryatt's celebrated novel, the "Pillar," has been condensed expressly for its columns. It contains a correct and authentic list of counterfeiters, and Dröken Banks, and the rates of exchange of all the Bank Notes of the United States.

Philadelphia Saturday News. When this valuable "Weekly" commenced its career, many gloomy anticipations were felt respecting the issue. It was thought a hazardous affair to attempt to rival its contemporaries who had started in the race so long before it, and had already gained so large a share of patronage.

The literary contents of the "Saturday News" are always of the first order, and contributed by some of the most talented writers of the day—and the entire Editorial Department is conducted with consummate ability.

The New-York Mirror. We have just received the last number for the year 1837 of this popular periodical. It is enriched by a faithful and beautifully engraved likeness of our distinguished countryman Washington Irving.

Geonora. The Legislature of this State, the Union and Administration by a large majority, have virtually condemned the Sub-Treasury scheme. Resolutions approving of that expedient came up for consideration in the Senate on the 19th inst. and were laid on the table for the session: Yes 40, Nays 30.

Political History. The following item we extract from the New-Yorker: "The act chartering the late Bank of the United States was passed in 1816—in the House of Representatives by a majority of nine. Of eight members from South Carolina, John C. Calhoun, William Lowndes, and five others (all but one) voted Yes."

On motion of James H. Graham, Esq., John J. Myers, William M. Porter, and Frederick E. Daily, Esqrs. were admitted to practice law in the several courts of this county.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH, RIGHT OF PETITION, AND LIBERTY OF THE PRESS.

Chancellor Oxenstiern said to his son, when he was sending him to a Congress of Ambassadors, and the young man was expressing his diffidence of his own abilities for such an employment, "Go & see with your own eyes. Quam parva sapientia regitur mundus!—What a small portion of wisdom governs the world."

A perusal of the late proceedings of Congress has brought to our recollection this anecdote of the celebrated Oxenstiern and son. The father was desirous of informing his inexperienced son that wisdom and intelligence are not necessarily connected with high office—that even Ambassadors, whom the multitude are too apt to view as Solomons, may be fools.

The Resolutions of both Houses of Congress, denying to citizens the right of petition, and to members the freedom of speech, are unparalleled in the history of official stupidity, folly, and knavery. These resolutions are in direct violation of the fundamental law of the land.

On the merits of Abolitionism we have nothing to say. But this we have to say to Southern men and Southern members of Congress, and their laugh faced friends of the North, that if they wish to calm the public mind on the subject of slavery, they must give reason and argument to Abolitionists.

Friday 5th. The Senate having at length obtained a quorum, proceeded to business. Petitions were presented from the county of Union against the annexation of Texas to the United States. It is to be supposed that there are some of our citizens who are favorably disposed to this project, and therefore it is somewhat singular that no memorial in favor of the annexation of that province have yet come in.

Baltimore Market. Saturday, January 6, 1838. FLOUR.—In the early part of the week a tendency to a decline in prices was indicated and since then the store price has become uniform at $8 75, with but little doing.

Resolved, That all petitions, memorials and papers, touching the abolition of slavery, or the buying, selling, or transferring of slaves in any State, District, or Territory of the United States, be laid on the table without being debated, printed, read, or referred; and that no further action whatever be had thereon.

Resolved, That the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, that the resolution passed by the House of Representatives in Congress, as aforesaid, in violation of the Constitution of the United States, and derogatory to the interests and liberties of the people.

Resolved, That our Representatives in Congress be requested to use all proper efforts to prevent the adoption of any resolution, or the enactment of any law which could, in any wise, restrict or forbid the people to petition their representatives on all matters that may be the subject of legislation.

Resolved, That the Governor be requested to have a copy of the foregoing resolutions transmitted to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

Pennsylvania Legislature.

Correspondence of the Herald & Expositor.

EXTRACT FROM THE EDITOR, DATED HARRISBURG, JAN. 3d, 1838.

According to Mr. Crab's resolution relative to the temporary adjournment, both Houses assembled, or rather were to assemble, to-day. For as the event proved, in consequence of the want of a quorum, there was nothing done in either house.

On the next day (Jan. 4th) the Senate was still without a quorum, and consequently there was nothing done there. In the House a great number of petitions were presented, which consumed a greater part of the day's session, among others, against the annexation of Texas to the United States.

THE PRACTICAL FARMER. The third number of this very interesting periodical, published by an Association of Practical Farmers of Silver Spring, in this county, and edited by I. D. RYER, has just been issued.

From the Lutheran Observer, Baltimore, Md. "The number now before us is filled with a judicious selection of articles highly interesting and useful, especially to the husbandman. We are highly pleased with this effort, and from an acquaintance with the editor, I. D. RYER, we have no doubts the Practical Farmer will be deserving of the universal patronage of farmers."

referred to the committee on Internal Improvement.

Saturday 6th. In the Senate to-day a spirited debate was had upon the resolution of Mr. Darrah.

Mr. Penrose, addressed the Senate with his usual ability on the resolutions, but desired the further consideration of them to be postponed until the Senate was full, which was done.

The following persons were nominated for the office of State Treasurer: Mr. Lect nominated: Danl. Sturgeon, Fraley (City) John R. Walker, Darrah John Strohm, Barclay Alex. M. Piper, Harper Wm. Clark.

From the Lutheran Observer, Baltimore, Md. "The number now before us is filled with a judicious selection of articles highly interesting and useful, especially to the husbandman. We are highly pleased with this effort, and from an acquaintance with the editor, I. D. RYER, we have no doubts the Practical Farmer will be deserving of the universal patronage of farmers."
