Sr. Joseph's Chunch. The corner stone of a new Catholic church of this name, was, on Monday week, laid in the lot between Willing's alley and Walnut street, Philadelphia, on the site of the old St. Joseph's church, the first building for Catholic wor ship erected in this province under the proprietary government of William Penn. We learn from the as the first temple in which the hymn of thanksgiving was chanted to the God of armies, in the presence of tatives of France and the United States, for the bless- early candle light, for the purpose of makings bestowed upon the infant republic in her struggle for right and liberty... In consequence of these reminiscences of by-gone years, the place for laying the corner stone of the new church was thronged at an early hour with persons to witness the ceremony; but, owing to the rain, it was announced that the address would be delivered in St. Mary's church, whit- Cumberland County Lyceum. dress would be delivered in St. Mary's church, whither a large portion of the company repaired. The priests, preceding Bishop Conwell, all in their clerical dresses, and accompanied by the customary youthful attendants of the altar, went in procession to the church, where an eloquent address was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Ryder; sonior pastor of St. Joseph's After the address, the procession returned to the site of the proposed edifice, and, after the priests intonated one of the psalms, the corner stone was laid by the Rev. James Ryder in the presence of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Conwell. In the corner stone, were placed coins, pamphlets of the day, small notes, &c. &c. with a seroll, upon which was inscribed, among other mata scroll, upon which was inscribed, among other matters, the year of our independence, the names of the PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.-We learn from the Baltimore American, that the annual Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Mary land, convened at Centreville, in Queen Ann's county, on Wednesday the 30th of May, and was organized by the Rev. Dr. Johns, of Baltimore, as its President. The principal business of the convention was the election of a bishop to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Bishop Stone. After various unsuccessful ballotings were taken in the clerical branch of the convention, a committee of eight was appointed, composed equally of clergy and laity, with instructions to ominate to the convention the names of two clergymen for the office of Bishop. The committee accordingly reported the names of the Rev. Dr. Eastburn and the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, both of New York, with the understanding that the one who received the few- in trust, and on interest.
