March 13, 1839.

Owing to a disappointment in the receipt of paper, we have been unable to issue our paper this week on the regular publication day.

PETITIONS FOR REPEAL OF LICENSE LAWS.—It is earnestly requested that any petitions which may be in circulation through the county, for repeal of the License Laws, be immediately left at the Drug Store of Mr. Samuel Elliott.

MEMORIAL FOR THE DUTCH.—Person Molineux, who has again become a Minister, writing home to some of the "faithful" in old-Herky, says— "Prince Metternich, the Prime-Minister, is very polite, and so are the members of the corps diplomatique—all are greatly pleased and surprised at my German. The truth is, I speak it as well as the best of them; the Vienna dialect is worse than any you hear in America."

ARE WE READY FOR WAR?—The British Navy contains 90 ships of the line, more than 100 frigates, 50 steam vessels and minor craft amounting to more than 1000 sail. Our Navy contains 11 ships of the line, 16 frigates, a large portion of them not fit for immediate service, 16 sloops of war, 9 schooners, and a couple of ladders. Some of these are building and some repairing. Add to these facts, that our whole Atlantic coast, from Maine to Texas, is unfenced. First, empty, and the little army we have elsewhere employed, and then say—are we ready for a war?

NEW-YORK SPIRIT OF THE TIMES.—This excellent journal has again been greatly enlarged and improved, and is now really the very best production of its kind in the world. It appears to be the great aim of the Editor of the "Times" to distract all competition, & make his paper worthy the patronage of the Sporting public throughout the union. The "Spirit of the Times" is devoted to the Turf, Field Sport, Literature and the Drama, and the editor appears theroughly conversant with the duties of his station. The first number of a new volume just reached us, and is accompanied with splendid engravings, viz.—A fancy portrait of Augusta, a "Sylphide," and a sketch of the celebrated "Black-Mr. We." We heartily wish friend Porter success, and will do every thing in our power to aid him in increasing the circulation of the "Spirit of the Times."

GENTLEMEN who may wish to patronize a work of this description, may have an opportunity of examining a specimen number by calling at this office.

TAXING BAUCONISTS.—We learn from the Harrisburg Intelligencer, that a petition praying that a tax be laid on bachelors over twenty-four years of age, was presented to the House of Representatives a few days ago. It purported to come from single ladies of Somerset county. The fair petitioners represented the treasury of the State to be in a weak condition and urged the taxation of bachelors as a mode of redressing it; winding up with a declaration that they themselves wanted husbands. The House laid the petition on the table. Some of the members were for granting the prayer on the ground that bachelors are a proper subject for taxation. The bachelor members argued, that "Married men, be it said, compose celibacy a luxury." For the parts, whether celibacy be a luxury or not, we are in favor of the law proposed, if it would encourage or rather enforce matrimony. Too many flowers wither, or stalks fall in our country.

MR. H. GREELEY, the talented and industrious editor of the New-Yorker, alluding to the pecuniary embarrassments of editors, eloquently observes to some of his patrons:

"The Intelligencer of Scranton.—If those of our subscribers who continue to withhold funds from us have earned, and just dues, could only be made to realize the heavy expenses, light profits and multiplied care, anxiety and losses attendant upon a weekly newspaper, it would be really think they would longer delay a remittance of the trifling amount which stands staring opposite their names on our books. If such men are poor and honest, why do they choose to perplex and embarrass us by gross remissness? Why not pay what you owe, and discharge the paper, if you cannot afford to receive it? If on the other hand, there are other poor and dishonest, why condescend to swindle those who are poor?"

We have taken the liberty to transfer the above to our own columns, as it applies with great truth and force to a number of individuals who have been for years troubling us. We desire them to read it.

The Carlisle Herald and Expositor.
