

TICAL

tyler, President of the United States.

As, by the Providence of God, Mr. Tyler is now elevated to the highest political honor within the reach of an American citizen...

For the satisfaction of our readers we will attempt to furnish a general outline of President Tyler's history...

Mr. Tyler was born in Virginia, about the year 1786 or 1787. He is therefore near 54 or 55 years of age. His father was an American patriot of the Revolution...

John Tyler (now President) was graduated with honor at William and Mary College in Virginia. Soon after he reached the age of 21 he was chosen a Delegate to the Legislature of the State...

While Governor, General Lafayette was on his visit to this country, and Gov. Tyler welcomed him to the Old Dominion...

At the expiration of his constitutional term as Governor, Mr. Tyler was elected to the United States Senate...

Who was a member of the Senate, namely Jackson to the Presidency, and for some time thereafter was a supporter of his administration...

Having served out his term in the Senate of the United States, he was re-elected to that elevated station in the winter of '32, '33, and continued there until he received instructions from the Virginia Legislature...

He was afterwards again elected, we believe, a member of the Virginia Legislature, where he served two seasons.

He was unanimously nominated by the National Convention at Harrisburg, (Dec. 1839) a candidate for the Vice Presidency of the United States...

Mr. Tyler has always been urbane and courteous in his manners—moderate and self-controllable in his passions—and possesses an amiable and benevolent heart...

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

The circumstances under which Governor Tyler has been called upon to assume the office of President of the United States—without the opportunity of preparation to execute its duties...

This Address by the President to his fellow citizens is so concise and explicit that any attempt of ours to elucidate it would rather serve to confuse than to make clear the reader's perception of its prominent points...

them in even stronger relief than we find there. Thus we learn from the Address of President Tyler, as in the absence of any such address we should have inferred from our confidence in his known patriotism and Republican principles...

and in deciding upon the adoption of any such measure to the end proposed, as well as its conformity to the constitution, to resort to the fathers of the great Republican school for advice and instruction...

These principles will find favor in the heart of every true Republican and patriot. Rigorously adhered to and practised upon, they will carry any administration through in triumph.—Madisonian.

JOHN TYLER. The following, which is the closing paragraph of his eloquent letter of resignation to the Legislature of Virginia...

JOHN TYLER. I am gentlemen, your fellow citizen.

To the People of the U. States. A RECOMMENDATION.

When a Christian People feel themselves to be overtaken by a great public calamity, it becomes them to humble themselves under the dispensation of Divine Providence...

The death of WM. HENRY HARRISON, late President of the United States, so soon after his elevation to that high office, is a bereavement peculiarly calculated to be regarded as a heavy affliction...

JOHN TYLER. Washington, April 18, 1841.

DEATH.

Of the President of the United States. A new and extraordinary event has come to darken the annals of the country.

cial qualities. His sudden loss comes upon the nation as an event, full of regret, full of profound themes for moralizing upon...

From the Baltimore Patriot. JOHN TYLER. With the Albany Evening Journal, we may say, what in substance was said in this paper, previous to the issue of his recent highly satisfactory address to the people of the United States...

It is indeed a sudden, most unexpected, and extraordinary event. The confederated republic of the United States has now been in operation for 52 years—during which time it has seen nine Presidents elected in succession—most of them old men—five of them serving eight years each—and yet not one of them has died in his Presidency except the last.

Who does not recollect the noble, high-minded and patriotic conduct of John Tyler when instructed by the Legislature of Virginia to resign his office...

JOHN TYLER. I am gentlemen, your fellow citizen.

JOHN TYLER. I am gentlemen, your fellow citizen.

JOHN TYLER. I am gentlemen, your fellow citizen.

To the People of the U. States. A RECOMMENDATION.

When a Christian People feel themselves to be overtaken by a great public calamity, it becomes them to humble themselves under the dispensation of Divine Providence...

The death of WM. HENRY HARRISON, late President of the United States, so soon after his elevation to that high office, is a bereavement peculiarly calculated to be regarded as a heavy affliction...

JOHN TYLER. Washington, April 18, 1841.

DEATH.

Of the President of the United States. A new and extraordinary event has come to darken the annals of the country.

EXECUTION OF A MURDERER. From the Baltimore Sun. The Confession.—The Extraordinary Resuscitation.—John White, convicted of the murder of Messrs. Gwatin and Glenn, on board a flat boat, on the Ohio river, was executed at Louisville, Ky., on the 8th inst., a little after six o'clock in the morning.

After hanging about twenty-two minutes, he was cut down and conveyed away, to be experimented upon by Philosophers and Anatomists. He was an excellent subject for experimenting upon, as the execution was such, that no disorganization had taken place.

The poles of a powerful Galvanic pile, which had been prepared for the occasion, were immediately applied to him, and to the unutterable joy of all present, with the most perfect success.

JOHN TYLER. I am gentlemen, your fellow citizen.

JOHN TYLER. I am gentlemen, your fellow citizen.

JOHN TYLER. I am gentlemen, your fellow citizen.

JOHN TYLER. I am gentlemen, your fellow citizen.

To the People of the U. States. A RECOMMENDATION.

When a Christian People feel themselves to be overtaken by a great public calamity, it becomes them to humble themselves under the dispensation of Divine Providence...

The death of WM. HENRY HARRISON, late President of the United States, so soon after his elevation to that high office, is a bereavement peculiarly calculated to be regarded as a heavy affliction...

JOHN TYLER. Washington, April 18, 1841.

DEATH.

Of the President of the United States. A new and extraordinary event has come to darken the annals of the country.

His system was critically examined, and though he was pronounced to be perfectly alive, it was announced by Dr. D. that he could live but a few minutes, for congestion of the brain, which had not yet happened, was rapidly taking place.

Other experiments were tried upon him, which, together with the one I have imperfectly sketched, will be put before the public in a few days in a more minute form.

FROM MEXICO.—The New Orleans Bulletin of the 1st instant contains some intelligence from Tampico, Campeachy, and Toluca, brought by arrivals at that port.

FROM TEXAS.—Dates from Texas to the 2d inst. have been received at New Orleans. From the papers before us, we clip the following paragraphs.

It was reported in Texas, and believed, that about 8000 Mexicans, with 20 pieces of artillery, were at Mier and Camargo, and were making preparations for a campaign against the Comanche Indians...

The British brig Frances, Joseph W. Fox, sixty days from London, with an assorted cargo of merchandise to Frankland & Co., and thirty-five passengers, was towed into Galveston by the steam ship Savannah.

Altered Bank Notes.—Druid & Co., of New York, have patented a desideratum in bank not engraving, to wit a means of preventing alterations from a low to a higher denomination.

Profitable Railroad.—The most profitable Railroad in the United States is that from Utica to Schoenectady, the capital stock paid in of which is $1,500,000.

Mitchell, the forger, was last seen on board a steamer going down the Ohio, bound Texas-ward.

An Incident in the life of a Christian. We learn that in the course of a sermon delivered on Sunday last, by the Rev. Mr. Brainard, he stated that about two years ago, a friend of his, who was preaching in the broad valley of the West, requested those present who desired to receive the prayers of the congregation, to stand up.

TEMPERANCE DEPARTMENT. PLEDGE OF THE CUMBERLAND COUNTY TEMPERANCE SOCIETY. WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, DO AGREE, THAT WE WILL NOT USE INTOXICATING LIQUORS NOR TRAFFIC THEREIN AS A BUSINESS; THAT WE WILL NOT PROVIDE FOR AN ARTICLE OF ENTERTAINMENT, OR FOR PERSONS IN OUR EMPLOYMENT, AND THAT, IN ALL SUCH CASES, WE WILL DISCOURAGE THEM BY OUR THROUGHOUT COMMUNITY.

Mr. Editor.—The following cut from our Eastern paper, it will be perceived, is from a source which places its statements above all suspicion.

CLEANER. What ardent spirits has done, in ten years, in the United States. 1. It has cost the nation a direct expense of six hundred millions of dollars.

TO MY CREDITORS. Take notice that I have applied to the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Cumberland county, for the benefit of the Insolvent Laws of this Commonwealth...

PROCLAMATION. PENNSYLVANIA, SS: In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

DAVID R. PORTER, Governor of the said Commonwealth. To PAUL MARTIN, Sheriff of the County of Cumberland, Esquire, SENDS GREETINGS.

WHEREAS a vacancy has happened in the representation of this State in the House of Representatives of the United States, in consequence of the death of William S. Ramsey...

Tuesday the 4th of May. for a representative in Congress, occasioned by the death of the Hon. William S. Ramsey.

PAUL MARTIN, Sheriff.

Middermuster Factory. The Subscribers return their thanks to their customers for the liberal patronage they received from them the past year, and would inform them and the public generally, that they have again rented the above Factory near Papertown, 8 miles south of Carlisle, where they intend Manufacturing from the 1st of March.

CLOTHS, Sattinets, Flannels, Blanketing, Stocking & Carpet Yarn. ALSO, Carding, Weaving, Fulling, Dyeing and Dressing of all kinds; which will be done in the very best manner and at the shortest notice.

Wood, Corn and Oats will be received for Subscription at this Office.