Tax assessed by School Directors,
Probable receipts from other sources, 15:20.7

According to these estimates the same additional tax as last year, will leave a balance in the Treasury out the 1st of June 1842 of about $362,00, a sum which in the opinion of the board, ought always to be on hand to meet any unexpected demands or losses. The board are aware (in presenting their estimates) of the weight of taxation at present bearing on us, and the probability of a considerable addition in another year, to meet the interest on the State debt, and the question has been referred to a committee of the board to examine and report whether any charge could be made in the general expenses of the school system, without materially deranging the plan.

manifest advantage of the public.

The Apprentices Library, association and contributors have transferred to the School district their Library, reserving the use of it to the Apprentices of the Borough under suitable regulations, believing that this disposition of the books under the circumstances, of the Society, would best answer the intentions of the founders, and subserve the public good. Arrangements are in progress for obtainin the services of a Librarian, and opening the same: and this may ultimately form the basis of a public library, much wanted in our to xn.
