

HERALD & EXPOSITOR. CARLISLE. WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16, 1841. FOR GOVERNOR, JOHN BANKS, OF BERKS COUNTY.

The absence of the editor of the Herald we trust, will be a sufficient apology for the barrenness of the editorial columns.

FOURTH OF JULY.—The last Volunteer contains a call for making arrangements preparatory to a party celebration of the 4th July.

WE have heard from several of our country friends, that the fly is doing much damage to the wheat crop.

COLD COMFORT.—During the melting weather we have had for the last two weeks, we have found nothing so refreshing as cold comfort in the shape of ice creams.

There seems to be a very serious flare-up between the Whigs and Antislavery of Allegheny county. The Antislavery have nominated an entire county ticket, and we presume the Whigs will follow the precedent.

The friends of Judge Banks, at Reading, have recently had an excellent likeness of that gentleman published.

Any person willing or desirous to take an agency for the sale of them in this county, may learn particulars by application to Charles Traxell, Post Master of the above named borough, or to the editor of this paper.

DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENCE. We adopt the following from the Boston Atlas.

On our first page our readers will find the first state paper, since Mr. Webster's accession to the Cabinet, that has been communicated by him to the public.

The communication of Mr. Fox has already been made public in part, and the further portion now produced exhibits nothing of particular interest, except the correspondence conveyed in the last paragraph.

THE BANKS AND THE REVENUE BILL. At a meeting of the Stockholders of the Bank of North America, held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, it was unanimously resolved to be inexpedient to accept the Revenue Act, of the 4th of May last.

provisions of the Revenue bill. The notes of a number of the banks issued under it are now in circulation, and pass freely among our citizens.

There are fifty banks in the Commonwealth. The law requires that the Governor should be notified on or before Saturday next.

CONGRESSIONAL. Correspondence of the United States Gazette.

WASHINGTON, June 7, 1841. The Senate was one continued scene of interest from the opening to its close.

The select committee on the part of the Senate, to whom was referred that part of the President's Message, relating to the death of General Harrison, have made a report, more or less substantial, may be done hereafter.

Mr. Clay brought forward his protocol, embracing some five or six points, to be acted on this session.

1st. Repeal of the Sub-Treasury. 2d. The incorporation of a Bank. 3d. Provisions of adequate revenue for the wants of the Government, by an imposition of duties, and authority to contract a loan, to cover the public debt created by the last administration.

4th. The proportionate distribution of the Public Lands. 5th. Necessary appropriation Bills. 6th. Some modification of the banking system of the District of Columbia.

Thus, you see, the Bankrupt Bill is not closed in the protocol; but it is not at all improbable that the Committee on the Judiciary will report a bill for the consideration of the people, which will be acted on early at the next session.

THE REPEAL OF THE SUB-TREASURY. This measure came up as the order of the day, and on a motion to amend, by adding a section, repealing the law of 1836, relating to the deposits, except the 13th and 14th sections, provided the repeal did not impair any securities, which may have been taken for the safe keeping of the public money.

Mr. Adams carried his measure in the House, and the rule relating to the reception of abolition petitions is rescinded.

A select committee of nine is ordered in the House, to take into consideration the subject of the currency. The Chair will appoint this committee to-morrow, and also the standing committees of the House.

WASHINGTON, June 8. The House moved to reconsider the vote of yesterday, in relation to the rule concerning the reception of abolition petitions, and thus this vexed and perplexing question will be again thrown open.

The Bank Select Committee was announced by the Speaker. It is indeed a powerful committee. Mr. Sergeant, of your city, is its chairman, Messrs. Adams, Pope, William Cost Johnson, William C. Dawson, Bots, Rhet, McKean, and McKay.

After a number of ballots, the old Sergeant-at-Arms, Mr. Dorsey, was rejected, and Mr. Townsend elected.

REPEAL OF THE SUB-TREASURY. This bill, after a long debate in the Senate, was ordered to be engrossed by a vote of 30 to 16. The amendment of Mr. Clay, and the amendment to that amendment by Mr. Calhoun, ultimately fell through.

After the votes and nays had been taken, seven or eight times, Mr. Benton said he had one more amendment to offer, which he felt satisfied, would receive the undivided support of the Senate.

gent-at-arms, Mr. Dorsey, was rejected, and Mr. Townsend elected. The House then proceeded to elect a Sergeant-at-Arms, viz. Doce.

The Speaker, appointed Messrs. Fillmore, Graham, and John Thompson Mason tellers, to superintend the voting.

Mr. Benton made various efforts to reinstate the clauses in the original bill, relating to the specie clause, &c., but they were all voted down by large majorities.

After the votes and nays had been taken, seven or eight times, Mr. Benton said he had one more amendment to offer, which he felt satisfied, would receive the undivided support of the Senate.

This amendment was opposed by several Senators, as unnecessary, and not becoming the dignity of so grave a body as the Senate.

Mr. Adams reported a bill for the relief of the widow of the late Wm. H. Harrison, appropriating the sum of $10,000, which was read twice, and committed to the committee of the whole on the state of the Union.

Mr. Hunt sent to the Clerk's table a resolution, which was read, providing that the action of the several standing committees of this House, on all matters not embraced in the message of the President communicated at the present session, be suspended until the commencement of the annual session of Congress in December next.

Mr. Clifford objected to the reception of the resolution at this time. Mr. Hunt only desired, he said, that it might be laid upon the table, to be called up hereafter.

WASHINGTON, June 9, 1841. SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES. Mr. Clay, of Kentucky, gave notice that he should to-morrow ask leave to introduce a bill to provide for the distribution of the proceeds of the public lands.

Mr. Clay submitted a resolution concerning the condition in which business may be left by adjournment. Mr. Buchanan presented resolutions of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, instructing their Senators and requesting their Representatives to vote in favor of the repeal of the Sub-Treasury Bill.

Mr. Sturgeon, of Pennsylvania, presented a petition praying for an amendment of the Constitution to effect the abolition of slavery.

Mr. Buchanan presented a petition praying for the abolition of the slave trade. The question was then raised as to the course proper to be pursued on the presentation of petitions of this nature, when it was decided that the question of reference should always be considered as proper when a petition was submitted.

Mr. Morehead and Mr. Walker in favor of a Bankrupt law. Mr. Rives moved that that part of the President's Message, which relates to foreign affairs, be referred to the Committee of Foreign Affairs.

Mr. Clay moved a postponement of the consideration of this motion till to-morrow, in order that the Bill yesterday introduced be engrossed might now be read a third time.

REPEAL OF THE SUB-TREASURY. The bill to repeal the Sub-Treasury Bill was taken up on the question of its third reading. The bill was read a third time, and the question being on its passage.

Mr. Woodbury stated that his original objections to the bill had not been removed by the discussion which had since taken place. He felt himself bound, when he considered that this bill proposed to change the mode of collecting the whole public revenue, to repeat his objections.

Mr. Rives gave credit to the sincerity with which the Senator from Pennsylvania had, at his outset, disclaimed any intention of giving a party character to his remarks.

After a number of ballots, the old Sergeant-at-Arms, Mr. Dorsey, was rejected, and Mr. Townsend elected.

reference to the public printer. At the very commencement of the new Congress, on the 4th of March, it was resolved by gentlemen to turn out the public printer, who was odious to them, and to appoint another, who was a favorite, and it was organized by the body.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

Mr. Benton took the floor, and addressed the Senate at length in opposition to the repeal of the Sub-Treasury, unless a substitute was provided.

should look to the great power which ordered it. Mr. Rives did not at all concur with Mr. Buchanan in the eulogium which he had bestowed upon Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Van Buren in this affair.

Mr. Rives highly eulogized Mr. Webster's letter to Mr. Fox, which he called a very beautiful and very eloquent production.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

Mr. Rives also rebuked Mr. Buchanan's observations upon "a panic" by stating that no man had done more towards creating it than Mr. Stevenson, who had caused the Mediterranean fleet to return home.

PERPETUAL INSURANCE. BY THE North American Insurance Company, Philadelphia. CAPITAL $600,000.

NEW LUMBER YARD. At the Old Stand 300 yards above the Harrisburg Bridge.

Partnership Dissolved. THE CO-PARTNERSHIP between S. D. BACH and M. MEELY, of Mechanicsburg, in the business of selling and repairing of watches, was dissolved by mutual consent on the 6th of April, 1841.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

PERPETUAL INSURANCE. BY THE North American Insurance Company, Philadelphia. CAPITAL $600,000.

NEW LUMBER YARD. At the Old Stand 300 yards above the Harrisburg Bridge.

Partnership Dissolved. THE CO-PARTNERSHIP between S. D. BACH and M. MEELY, of Mechanicsburg, in the business of selling and repairing of watches, was dissolved by mutual consent on the 6th of April, 1841.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.

Pharmaceuticals. The subscriber, thankful to his friends for past favors, feels disposed to do his part to secure again their patronage.