WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1842.

We publish to-day the address of the Executive Committee of the Cumber land County Temperance Society to the citizens of Carlisle. This address is preparatory to the circulation of the pledge through the borough, which we understand will be done in a few days.

It was our intention to give every week a synopsis of the proceedings of the Legislature, but we have come to the conclusion that the labor would more than equal the benefit to our readers.

decisive. We look for something from them this winter of much importance, but our readers shall hear from them.

Something must be done and that speedstate debt repudiated, and she disgraced.

We stated last week that the youth our disapprobation, and we hope that it embodying much useful information, and, of our town were making arrangements for may be the last. We consider the facts be there. The young men who have got which might prove injurious to the cause up these lectures deserve infinite praise, flections on the committee, nor on the worand the best way to manifest our acknow- thy and respectable gentleman who signs lettement of their worthiness, is to show the communication. We are warm friends our faces in their lecture room.
