The bill tras passed both Houses. Now

The sayings and doings in Congress are of no sort of importance to any body Better they would adjourn and go home. We may say the same thing of our State Legishtture.

Our new associate judge, Thos. C. Miller, performed his first judicial act on Saturday last, and gave evidence of his determination not to allow the laws to be trampled upon. Judge Miller issued a habeas corpus to a Lieutenant commanding the United States Dragoons at the Carlisle Barracks, in the absence of Capt. Summer, requiring the officer to bring before his Honor the body of a soldier who sought to be discharged. The military gentleman neglected to obey the writ, when the Judge promptly issued against him an attachment for contempt. When brought before Judge Miller, the officer declaring that he had not been aware "of the importance of the matter," was permitted to go upon payment of the costs of the attachments
