

R. WHITE MIDDLETON, EDITOR & PROPRIETOR.

CARLISLE, PA.

Wednesday, July 13, 1842.

FOR PRESIDENT GEN. WINFIELD SCOTT.

Gen. Scott on the Tariff.

Gen. Scott on Removals.

Y. B. PALMER, Esq., at his legal office and Coal Office, No. 104, South Third Street, Philadelphia, is authorized to act as Agent, for procuring subscriptions and advertisements for the Herald & Expositor.

Single Copies.

Of this paper can be had on application at the office.

We are compelled, although in type, to lay over until our next, our Harrisburg correspondence.

The fourth of July matters take precedence over all others this week.

Valuable Property.

We ask attention to the very valuable property advertised in this paper by the Sheriff and others, both in town and country.

President Biscoe.

We regret to learn that President Biscoe will not be able to fulfill his engagement to deliver the Annual Address before the Literary Societies of Dickinson College. Since he accepted the invitation, the Trustees of Transylvania University, of which he is President pro tem, have decided to engage the Justices, for the same purpose, of which, Dr. Biscoe is now in the necessity of returning immediately to Lexington and entering upon the duties of his office.

This information having arrived too late to procure a substitute, there will be no address delivered on the occasion, this year.

Valuable Work.

A Synopsis of the Moral Theology of PETER DENIS, as prepared for the use of Roman Seminars, and students of Theology. Translated from the Mediaeval edition of 1835, by J. W. F. BANA, formerly Professor of Latin and Greek in Marshall College.

A large volume with the above title has been presented to us by the translator. The work is highly spoken of, is said to be of great value, and possessing much information, to Students of Theology and others—copies of which can be had of Mr. A. W. ANDREWS, and at the Book Stores of Carlisle.

French Novel.

The Bachelors of Ghent, or El Macstro Del Campa, a Romance of the Reign of Philip II.

This very interesting novel is for sale at Gray's news office. Price 25 cents. Call in time if you wish to secure a copy.

The Wealth.

Mr. SMITH requests us to say: That if his Temperance friends are desirous to see The Wealth, they must send in their names as early as possible; and that the second number will be printed and the paper continued, as soon as subscribers enough are obtained to pay the expenses of its publication. Will the friends of Temperance give a helping hand!

Military Appointments.

The following appointments have been made in the 19th Regiment, 1st and 2d Battalion of P. W. under the command of Col. ANASTASIO Nantz:

Adjutant—PETER F. BOE, Esq. Surgeon—DR. GEO. D. FOULKE. 1st Asst. Surg.—DR. SNOWDEN. 2d Asst. "—DR. WM. BRISBANE.

The Apportionment Bill.

The apportionment bill reported in the Senate provides that "Franklin and Cumberland counties, with the townships of Toboyne, Tyrone, Skilton, Juniata, Madison and the borough of Bloomfield, of Perry county, shall be the twelfth district, and elect one Representative—Population 80,223." And that Adams and York shall be the 13th district and elect one Representative—Population 70,054.

Have our members employed the blackguard of the Harrisburg Gazette to defend them? or is it the fellow's free act? His defence is something like 'brushing flies off a dead carcass with the tail of one's neighbour's polecat!'

Ladies!

The Somerset Herald states that two young Ladies—Miss ELIZA CARLISLE and Miss ELIZABETH BOWEN—at the house of Mr. Daniel Beighley, near Myers' Mills, spun each eight hanks, making thirty-two cuts, equal to four days' spinning, from half after five in the morning to half past seven in the evening. This is far more commendable than spinning "street yarn!"

The Locos of Allegheny county have nominated the Hon. William Williams as their candidate for Congress; and Alexander Breckinridge, William Kears, John Stevenson and John Andross for the State Legislature.

EXCELLENT MEMORY.—The United Service Journal, published at Calcutta, does not recollect whether President Jackson came into office on the death of Gen. Taylor or Gen. Harrison.—(See change paper.)

The Editor's memory is almost as good as that of our neighbour! He can't remember for a week whether he is for or against taxation! The corporal is always defining, but "never a finding" his position!

Convicted.

The youth who "shot at" the Queen of England, has been tried and convicted, and sentenced to be hung, drawn and quartered!

The Hon. THOMAS W. VEAZIE, formerly Governor of Maryland, died on the 1st inst. in the year of his age.

DOINGS IN THE FOURTH IN CARLISLE.

The glorious Anniversary of our Independence was celebrated in this place in a highly professional and patriotic manner. The day was ushered in by the firing of cannon and the playing of drums, and parading of the military.

Presentation of a Banner.

At 9 o'clock, a large concourse of persons gathered in front of Mr. Ely's store, to witness the presentation of a splendid Banner, by the Ladies of Carlisle, to the Union Total Abstinence Society.

The flag is really a beautiful one, is made of green and white silk, neatly and tastefully trimmed—having a painting on one side of a BEE HIVE, with appropriate background, and the motto: "Temperance and Industry Pay Debts."

On the reverse: "Presented to the Union Carlisle Total Abstinence Society by the Ladies of Carlisle."

The painting by Mr. WILLIAMS of this place, reflects the highest credit upon his talents as an artist, and was throughout the day the topic and admiration of all who saw it.

This testimonial of woman's best feeling in a cause so near and dear to her, was presented, on behalf of the ladies, by the Rev. Mr. TARRISON, Pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, whose address on the occasion was most eloquent and—a short sketch of which will be found attached to the following.

CORRESPONDENCE.

CARLISLE, July 9, 1842.

Rev. HENRY TARRISON—Dear Sir: We, the undersigned, a committee of the Union Total Abstinence Society, respectfully request a copy of your very able and appropriate address to the Society, on the occasion of the presentation of the Banner by the Ladies of Carlisle, on the 4th inst. In making this request on behalf of the Society, we are very sure that we do not speak for every individual present upon the occasion. We hope, therefore, that you may gratify the wishes of the Society, and that you may not deem it beneath your dignity, as we do, to address the most extended publicity, and also that the general public will have a beneficial effect in furthering the great and glorious cause of Temperance.

With sentiments of unfeigned respect, we remain, Dear Sir, your sincere friend and friend, H. W. GOULD, J. W. COUGLASS, J. W. GIBB, W. L. HARRNESS.

CARLISLE, July 9, 1842.

GENTLEMEN.—The substance of the brief address delivered on the morning of the 4th inst. when the BANNER was presented by the Ladies of Carlisle, is hereby furnished in compliance with your request, so far as such depends upon your judgment may dictate.

Yours truly, H. TARRISON, To Messrs. R. ANGEY, Wm. Gould, J. D. GORRIS, J. W. EBY and Wm. HARRNESS.

Mr. TARRISON'S REMARKS.

Mr. TARRISON—I have the honor of being deposited by the LADIES of Carlisle to present to you this BANNER, which you will please accept as a testimonial of the respect they tender for you as a Society—the importance they attach to the cause in which you are engaged, and the deep and heartfelt solicitude they cherish for the success of your enterprise, and the triumph of your principles.

In presentation, permit me to assure you, is not quenched nor by any feelings of regard to empty civility, nor is it the result of mere conventional form in which the emotions of the heart have no participation—but it is the effusion of woman's heart and purest feelings, called forth by a regard to interests as dear to the sex as life itself.

We readily concede, Sir, that it is not proper that the Ladies should patronize to the full extent of their power, the cause of Temperance, involving as it does interests so much more important to them, and vitally connected as it is with all that they hold dear on earth. For verily the drunkards of the earth are as a fearful blight upon the heart and hopes of woman; erasing into one vast ruin all the fabrics of her domestic and social happiness, withering up the joys of her kind, her fond and glowing heart, and spreading cheerless and gloom over all her earthly prospects, while, at the same time, her degrading business, and filled the land with the wails of the sad fate, the melancholy destiny awaiting a husband, a brother, or a son.

Receive, then, Sir, as from the fair hands of the Ladies of your borough, this BANNER; and go forth beneath its waving to meet the dark, the sullen and malignant foe, whose death-dealing career has forced so many tears from woman's eyes, wrung her heart with bitter anguish, and filled the land throughout its length and breadth with her wailings and her woe! Yes, Sir, with this memento of the confidence of the Ladies in your prowess, and of their confidence for your success, go forth as philanthropist and patriot, as lovers of your wives, as lovers of your sisters, mothers and daughters! Go, battle with this enemy of our happiness and of yours; and let victory attend you, by your conquering the field of this banner, until your triumph be completed! If you are ever tempted to desert it, let the recollection of the hands and the hearts that made it yours, repel the lust suggestion.

Desert it, did I say? Methinks I hear you respond: NO! NEVER! You will, then, rally around it, and cling to it as the ensign of your glorious cause, while a drop of blood is propelled from your hearts, or a shred of muscle quivers on your bones!

The Banner was received from the hands of Mr. TARRISON, and at a meeting of the Union Total Abstinence Society, held at the house of Maj. J. Bretz, on the evening of the 8th inst., it was, on motion, "Unanimously Resolved, That the thanks of the members of the Society are due and are hereby tendered to the LADIES of Carlisle, for the gift of a splendid Temperance Banner, presented to the said Society on the morning of the 4th of July, 1842."

It was also Resolved, That the different Editors of the borough be requested to publish the above, and also the correspondence had with the Rev. Mr. TARRISON, as well as the copy of said Gentleman's address on the occasion of presenting the Banner. If Attest, H. MOORE, Secretary.

The Washington Banner.

Immediately after the conclusion of the above remarks, the Washington Temperance Society met in the Court House, President Pendergrass in the Chair—Some remarks were made by Mr. J. W. MOORE, of Baltimore, and others—when a handsome Banner, painted also by Mr. WILLIAMS, in a splendid manner for the Society, was produced, a midst great applause. The Banner is of blue black silk, with, on one side, a full length portrait of Gen. WASHINGTON in his private costume, and the inscription "Our Country's Welfare our Aim."

At the foot of the figure: "Washington Temperance Society."

On the reverse: "Taste not, lest thou come to Poverty."

The Procession.

At 10 o'clock, the procession was formed by the Chief Marshal, the Rev. Mr. TARRISON, and moved off somewhat in the following manner:

Baroque Band, Martial Music.

Dragon Temperance Society, with Banners, Orator of the Day and the Reader of the Declaration of Independence.

Committee of Arrangements, Reverend Clergy, Juvenile Temperance Societies of the Borough, numbering about 300 members, with a large number of Banners bearing different mottoes, some of which we annex:

First, a white banner—motto: "Make way for the Junior Washingtonians." Next, a white banner—motto: "Touch not, lest thou come to Poverty." Next, a blue banner—motto: "Make way for the Cold Water Army."

Next, a white banner—on one side: "Alcohol is liked!" On the reverse: "Always in order to sign the Pledge!" Then came a flag raised on a pole, both ends knocked out, labelled, on both sides: "Rum!"

Motto: "We can see through it!" Next came a white banner—motto: "Pure water for Me!"

Next, a green banner—motto: "Junior Washingtonians!" Next, a banner, blue on one side, and brown on the other—on one side, the motto: "We go for Cold Water."

On the reverse: "Cold Water." "Good Health."

Next, came a white banner, trimmed with blue, the top of the pole surmounted by a miniature Pump, with a small tin bucket hanging from the spout—motto: "Hurray for the Temperance Banner!"

On the reverse: "We come the drunken man to save, And snatch him from an early grave!"

Next came a white banner, (neatly trimmed and decorated, by Mrs. TARRISON,) bearing for its motto: "Success to the Cold Water Army!"

Then followed a beautiful small white silk banner, with blue hank and spangled stars—the work of Mrs. JOHN MOORE—and the motto in a half circle: "Temperance, true Independence."

Next, a white banner—motto: "Water better than Rum!"

Another, with the motto: "Temperance for Youth!"

Another banner with: "Whiskey beggars children!"

Another: "Temperance brings Prosperity."

Another: "Cold Water Boys, make Strong Men!"

There were a large number of other banners in the procession of the Juveniles, but although nearly all printed in the Herald office, we cannot now recollect their different mottoes. Suffice it to say, here, that this portion of the Cold Water Army was the most cheering to the heart of the parents, and the manner in which they behaved and marched is deserving of the highest praise.

After the Juvenile Societies came the Kingstown Temperance Society, with red hedges and a 3rd colored flag, with an Eagle and the words: "Kingstown Temperance Society."

Next came the Hogestown Temperance Society, carrying a blue and red flag, with an Eagle having a scroll in its beak, on which were the words: "Hogestown Delegation."

And underneath: "Our Motto: Total Abstinence from all that Intoxicates!"

Another banner—on the red side: "Our banner to the breeze we fling." On the blue reverse: "Cold Water!"

Next came, the Dickinson Temperance Society, with a white banner—on one side: "Dickinson Total Abstinence Society." On the other: "We bring Glad Tidings of Peace."

Then followed the Mechanicsburg Temperance Society, with a blue-black silk banner—motto: "We come our fellow men to save, And rescue from the drunkard's grave." On the reverse: "Cold Water is our Drink."

"All who go with us must prosper."

They followed the Societies of the Borough—the Washingtonians bearing the Banner above described, and another of blue black silk, neatly trimmed with silk fringe, both painted by Mr. WILLIAMS. The latter having on one side: "Every man is our brother." On the reverse: "Away the Bowl!"

Then came the Union Total Abstinence Society with a white banner—motto: "Dickinson College."

After marching through several of the streets, the procession took its course towards "the Rocks." At the end of town, Several Hundred Ladies joined the procession, and proceeded in company to the place of holding the celebration.

Organization of the Meeting.

Having arrived on the ground, the mass was organized by the appointment of the following officers of the day:

PRESIDENT, Hon. THOMAS CRAIG MILLER.

VICE PRESIDENTS, FRANCIS ECKLES, GEORGE HORNING, SAMUEL REED, JOHN O'LENDENNIN, JOHN HARMAN, A. D. TREBS.

SECRETARIES, Dr. JACOB WEAVER, WILLIAM B. MULLIN, CHARLES HARDY.

The officers having taken their seats, an appropriate and feeling prayer was made by the Rev. Mr. MOORE, of the Second Presbyterian Church. The Declaration of Independence was then read by S. DONLAP ANDERSON, Esq. preceded by some eloquent and well-timed remarks. After which a truly eloquent and appropriate Oration was delivered by Professor MCCLINTOCK. After the conclusion of the Oration and a few remarks by JOHN D. MAHOE, Esq., the multitude was called from Mr. LIZON to Refreshment. In the afternoon Mr. MILLER and Mr. ZOO, of Baltimore, each addressed the audience, and there were several very short remarks accompanied with appropriate sentiments, and by Professor CATWELL, Rev. J. V. E. TARRISON, and others whose names we do not now recollect. The whole proceedings were interspersed with music by the Baroque Band, and enlivened with Temperance Songs by members of Dickinson College Choir. Several toasts were given, but the following is the only one which has been deposited with us: "By the Multitude: Messrs. NOBLES, Proprietors of this beautiful Grove—For their kindness and Temperance and Prosperity attend them through life."

The Meeting broke up at an early hour—the citizens returned to town and our country friends to their homes—nothing occurring to mar the assembling of the day. It is computed there were assembled on the occasion about THREE THOUSAND AND persons. What a glorious feat! Three thousand at a fourth of July celebration, and not an accident of any kind, nor a drunken man to be seen the whole day!

The Marshal of the Day.

Great praise is due to the gentleman (the Rev. Mr. TARRISON,) who officiated as Marshal of the Day. We have seen many large bodies formed into procession, but never witnessed one so large as that on the 4th, formed with so much dispatch, so correctly, and with so little trouble. Mr. TARRISON won much applause from the manner in which he discharged his duties on the 4th, as well as for his activity in the matter from the moment it was determined to have a temperance celebration. His zeal and efficiency in so glorious a cause is deserving of the highest commendations; and we accord our share most cheerfully.

Sabbath School Celebration.

Connected with the celebration of the 4th of July, were the festival of the Sabbath School of the M. E. Church of this place, on Saturday the second, and the examination of the classes on Sunday the third. Both had been designed for the fourth; but the Temperance movement claimed and possessed, for that day, all the interest of all the inhabitants of the borough.

On Saturday afternoon, after spending several hours in recitation, the school proceeded, at five o'clock, from the church to the College Campus, where a delightful entertainment had been provided. The day itself was all that could have been desired. The dinner and somewhat threatening clouds in the West and North West, really contributed to the pleasure of the day. The rays of the sun were intercepted, a delightful breeze sprang up, and every thing seemed to have been given from above, to make happy spirits happier still! When Scholars, Teachers and Friends had partaken of the collation, a circle was formed and some minutes were spent in singing. With this, the festivities of the day were concluded.

In the exercises of the Sabbath, there were of course less exhilaration, but they were not less gratifying. Rather they were more so—for they were evidences of progress.

The classes of small scholars were examined upon an appropriate passage of scripture, and upon the catechism. The answers were given with promptness and accuracy.

The classes of advanced scholars then recited, by alternate responses, the first twenty-four verses of the fourth chapter of Proverbs, marking distinctly those parables which form so striking a feature of Hebrew Poetry. The same classes were then examined on the fourth chapter of John; the subject: Our Lord's conversation with the woman of Samaria.

In the course of the exercises hymns were sung by the scholars, and two addresses delivered; one to the scholars, by the Pastor of the Church, the Rev. H. TARRISON; the other to the Parents, by the Rev. President BROWN.

The result of the whole was entirely satisfactory; and the congregation retired impressed with the sentiment, that if the truths of religion are ever attested, it is when they are enumerated by the young, and uttered in their songs.

Society Anniversaries.

The 50th Anniversary of the Union Philosophical Society of Dickinson College was celebrated on the evening of the 4th, in the Methodist Episcopal Church. Addresses were delivered by C. P. WILKINS, of Pittsburgh; A. B. ANTHONY, Madison; R. H. PATTERSON, Cambridge; M. P. R. LUKATEL, Fayette, Me.; and W. LEE, Wyoming, Pa. In the same place, on the evening of the 6th, the Eighth Anniversary of the Oratorical Society of Dickinson College was also celebrated. The speakers on this occasion were: J. B. KELLER, Carlisle; F. J. GOFFINSON, Cape View; A. S. GROSS, M'Ghee's Ville, Va.; J. D. HANSON, Washington, D. C.; and S. C. WINGARD, Petersburg.

The exercises on both occasions were much applauded by large audiences.

Whig Celebrations.

A number of Whigs of the Borough and neighborhood met on Henderson's Island, and celebrated the day—a sketch of their proceedings appears on the opposite page. No liquor of any kind was used, and the day was a happy one.

The Young Men.

At 10 o'clock a large number of young men assembled, and proceeded to the Meeting House Springs, where they celebrated the day in union and harmony, free from spirituous liquors. Their proceedings will be found on the opposite page.

Loce Foco Celebration.

Our Loce Foco friends celebrated the day at Wonderlich's Grove. Their proceedings in part—and such proceedings—will be found in our neighbour's paper of last week—the balance in tomorrow's number. We regret that we cannot add of this, what we have of the two preceding celebrations—viz: the non-appearance of spirituous liquors. Our friends permitted the intoxicating liquor to pass from lip to lip, and their toasts to be washed down with "liquid fire!" We regret this; but are pleased to learn that no accidents, saving the bursting of the McCoben bomb, occurred to spoil their sport.

Rev. Mr. Slicer.

This fearless advocate of the Temperance cause was invited to attend the celebration on the 4th by the Total Abstinence Society, of which he was the founder, but declined. In his letter of declination, he thus eloquently refers to the Ladies and their Banner:

"It would be particularly gratifying to me to witness the pleasant countenances and approving smiles of the Ladies, when they present their Banner to the Union Temperance Society. It is right that the Ladies should be the patrons of this cause—for the drunkards of our sex has fallen as a terrible blight upon the heart and the hopes of woman, withering up her heart's joys, and clouding her path with gloom; while she sits in the arms of the sad fate awaiting a brother, a father, a son, or the Father of her children!"

He also forwarded the following capital sentiment: "Resistance to Tyrants is obedience to God."—So thought our noble sires of the 4th of July, 1776. We shall prove ourselves the noble sires of these noble sires, if on the 4th of July, 1842, we strike for freedom against a domestic foe—by striking the rich man's WHISKEY JUG against the poor man's WHISKEY JUG—pulling out the spigot of the cider barrel, and striking out the bung of the beer keg—and declaring ourselves now and forever independent of all that can intoxicate!"

Methodist Convention.

The Federal portion of the Loce Foco in town holding a Buchanan Street Convention at Harrisburg on the 8th of January last. These friends were early prospects—while the friends of the Temperance cause, on the 4th of March, "Old Cup" will "kick" them both, if they are in the field, quite equal!

Don't Forget!

But keep it before the friends of the Old Hero of New Orleans: that James Buchanan; the Federal candidate for the Presidency, voted against rescinding the fine imposed upon him by Judge Hall during the late war! Let the former friends of the Old Soldier, who stopped the British bill at New Orleans, when Buchanan was making speeches against the war and the Democratic party—vowing if he "thought he had one drop of Democratic blood in his veins, he would let it out with a knife!"—we say, let Old Hickory's friends keep this uncalled for INGRATITUDE of Mr. Buchanan, and he will get about as many of their votes as he will American Laborers at ten cents a day! Even our neighbor dare not defend this base act of Mr. Buchanan!

Cold, but Excellent Robuke!

On the 4th of July at Philadelphia, it was announced at the Loce Foco table that a toast had been presented to them by a committee from the Tyler party, which was read as follows: "OUR DEMOCRATIC FELLOW CITIZENS DIVING AT PARAGUAY.—We hail then on the anniversary of our National Independence as worthy disciples of the father of democracy."

Col. Page was authorized to reply to the sentiment, which he did as follows, and which was adopted by the meeting and ordered to be sent to the dinner party of Mr. Tyler's supporters: "THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.—A fair and honest support of all such measures as appear to be a sacrifice of the principles of democracy, and tend to the welfare of the Union; but as a party our course is independent and onward; we seek an alliance, but not to the justice of our cause for success. Truth is mighty and will prevail."

This is about as cool a rebuke as we have seen for a long time, and which we think Mr. Tyler must feel most sensibly.

We think it is but just to the opposition party to say, that thus far, notwithstanding all the seductive advances that have been made to them, they have maintained their integrity honorably, disdaining to give Mr. Tyler any other countenance or support than what may conduce to their own political interest as a party. They will "kick" and "ab" with him. They may use him and that's all.

Pittsburg Advocate.

The Pittsburg Advocate, a mongrel Masochist-Loce Foco Whig, and pretended Clay party, is very abusive of Gen. Scott and his friends. It is entirely wrong, and will be productive of no good.

However, the Advocate is only pursuing the same course that did Gen. Harrison. It is not worth the trouble of the people. It is then declared: "It is folly to talk of the Whig training Herald." NO ONE OUT OF AN ISSUES HOSPITAL WOULD EXPECT ACCESS! Yet the worst example was whipped by the people into the support of "Old Tip." Take care, if it is not again compelled to defend the man it is now abusing, or where it should have gone years ago—over to the Loce Focos. Its present and past course justifies every one who understands the true state of our country. Let the Pittsburg Advocate belong to a clique paid by the Loce Focos and sailing under a piratical colour, the more effectually to distract and divide the Whigs and Anti-masonic of Allegheny!

Severe, but Just.

During the debate upon the Presidential Vote of the Provisional Territory Bill Mr. COOPER, of Pa., handled "Tyler too" pretty severely. Mr. Cooper spoke also of the teachers of the President to his old friends, and of his alliance with the Opposition. "There was no excuse for this," said Mr. Cooper; "and if James Kearney was here, and they were compared, he should apologize to him who betrayed his master, for mentioning him in the same breath with John Tyler. If Mr. Tyler expected any elevation hereafter, he thought he could not really justify himself as Judge." Severe, indeed; but well deserved!

OBITUARY RECORD.

At Freedom, Carlisle county, Md., a few days since, Mr. NATHAN COVINGTON GORE, aged about 22 years, late a Student of Dickinson College. Mr. Gore was one of the Graduates of the present session. The following testimonial speaks highly in his favor:

Whereas, it hath pleased Divine Providence to deprive us of our worthy and beloved fellow member, NATHAN COVINGTON GORE, therefore, resolved,

That we have heard with feelings of deepest regret and sorrow, the sad intelligence of his death; and we deeply sympathize with the relatives and friends of the deceased.

That we wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days; and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased.

That these resolutions be published in the Christian Repository and Carlisle Herald.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the Christian Repository and Carlisle Herald.
