This may be true to a certain extent. Our na tional and political aggregation, however, if I may so speak, is made of this family of States, and you may depend upon it that other nations and posterity, will hold the government of the Union morally responsible for the character of its members, although the forms of our federative system may discharge it from a logal liability for heir engagements. Admitting the protency and the extent of the

This, my good sir, is precisely the question I am about to sk you, and I ask you in the form of a specific inquiry, whether public opinion, through the Union, may not receive such an organization by the action of Congress, popular meetings and the press, as to induce the defaulting States to hold ans this winter, comprehending those who have negotiated foreign loans, who neverthe. less have not met punctually their dividends, tha by united action they may induce the legislatures of the several indebted States to impose, and the people to bear such taxes as shall provide tha means of paying the interest, and establishing a sinking fund for the gradual entinguishment of verge of destruction? ncipal of their public debt? I cannot be the principal of their public debi? I cannot be-lieve that these appeals to State pride and Nat ion al honor would be unavailing. BANK OF ENGLAND CIRCULATING HER NOTES IN THE SOUTH!

The fact disclosed in the following paragraph s astounding and alarming, and ought to rouse very Loco Foco patrict "to arms" instantly for the safety of the country ! Where is Benton ? Who knows but this is, as he denoguinated the Bank bill last summer, a "meal-bag scheme" of i England to effect some great design which may possibly annihilate our government, and bring us the currency of the United States, furnished by a National Bank, was as sound as any in the world. Every hody knows and is familiar with what has ucceeded the loss of that institution --- the experiments with the "Pet Banks," and other schemes which but increased the public suffering. But it i an extraordinary fact that what has come to pass, all our suffering and distress, was foretold as the inevitable consequence of such an event by the far-seeing sagacity of HENRY CLAY. The following is an extrast from a speech of Mr. Clay in 1835 --- the truth of the prophecy is now before every man's eyes:

of the prophecy is now before every nan's eyes: "There being no longer any sentinel at the head of our banking establishments to warn them by its information and operations of approaching danger, the local institutions, already multiplied to an alarm-ing extent and almost daily, multiplying in scasons of propherity, will make free and unrestrained emis-sions. All the éhannels of eirculation will be gorg-ed. Property will rise extravagantly high, and con-stantly looking up, the temptation to purchase will be irresistible. Inordinate speculation will ensue, debts will be freely contracted, and when the scason of adversity comes, as come is must, the banks, acting without concert and without a guide, obeging the law of self-preservation, will as the same time call there issues: the vast number will exaggerste the sissippi." And this is the way the prophecy is ful-filled. The Bank Monster was to be put down, because it was a "British Bank," or had a numand its notes were to be superceded by gold and silver, the latter to be extracted, by the famous gold bill, from the coffers of the Bank of Eng-land. Unfortunately for the success of this scheme, we find this same Bank of England send. their users: the vast number will exaggerate the alarm and spread distress, wide-spread ruin, and an explosion of the general banking spizers, or the es-great gathering at Dayton lately; which by the tabliahment of a new Hank of the United States will way was not to be, assumed an index of public lasters," red-dog and wild cat money with which bat region was cursed.
