

NOTICE OF THE STEAMSHIP CALIFORNIA.

The Calcutta arrived at Boston, about a quarter past nine o'clock, A.M., on Wednesday. We give below, in a condensed form, the substance of all the news of importance by this arrival.

Mr. Webster has received information that the Amherst Treaty was ratified by the British Government on the 14th October.

Fanny Elleray had arrived at Vienna, and is much fitter in her own country, as she was in the United States.

Mr. Leatherlough, one of the Commissioners who explored the Northwestern Boundary on the part of Great Britain, in 1810, undertook, after dinner speech at Plymouth, on last week to defend the treaty so timidly concluded between England and the United States. He expressed it as his opinion that the settlement that had been made was the best for both parties that could be made.

He strongly condemned the attacks made upon the terms of the treaty by the English press.

The American Chamber of Commerce at Liverpool have addressed a memorial to Sir Robert Peel, urging the necessity of a reduction of the enormous duty upon tobacco.

No answer has yet returned to the memorials we have.

The American Tariff and the Amherst Treaty continue to be prominent subjects of discussion in the Paris journals.

The Emperor of China has at length been heard of. He boasts, in an imperial edict, that a great officer called Chihiu, in a recouvre with the English forces, "put to death all the white barbarians, and saved alive many of the black rebels."

A good deal of public attention has during the last ten days been directed against the Chartists taken prisoners during the recent disturbances in the manufacturing districts. Special commissions have been held in the counties of Chester, Lancashire, and Stafford.

Great Defalcation in the Bank of Manchester.—The Manager Absconded.—Wilm's News Letter says—During the last ten days, the utmost excitement and alarm has prevailed in consequence of the absconding of Mr. Edmund Burdett, late manager of the Manchester Bank.—Various and conflicting statements have been freely circulated as to the probable amount which he has carried away, but as yet no accurate idea can be formed.

The annual meeting of the shareholders in the Bank, was held in Manchester on Friday last, a report of which stated that the liabilities by mismanagement were in the round numbers of £280,000.

The box of specie which left Liverpool on the 24th for the Virginia, for New York, and said to be part of the plunder, is it is pretty well ascertained not to be the case. The specie in question, £20,000, is represented on good authority, as being a real mercantile transaction, the specie being sent out for the purpose of purchasing cotton, and sent on as being the best mode of making payment for that article.

All sorts of Paragraphs.

Mutual forbearance is the touchstone of domestic happiness. The angel of the marriage covenant bears the inscription on each wing, which she folds in sorrow when the admonition is unheeded. Alas! how often is she doomed to stand like a morning dove, with her bright pinions furled and her heart heavy within her.—Boz.

The inveterate joker of the Boston Post, now calls Whig gatherings, "Conventions."

To enable a lady to mount a horse in Peru a knot is tied in the horse's tail, into which the lady introduces her foot as into the stirrup.

An exchange paper asks—"Why should a poor widow go to heaven? Because there are good spirits there."

Adam Fonnin, Adam's "Apple," a prominence in the fore part of the throat, most developed in man, is so called from an idle notion that a piece of the forbidden apple stuck in Adam's throat. It is the convex part of the first cartilage of the larynx.

The following toast was given at a dinner in the nutmeg-producing state of Connecticut—"The Nutmeg State. Where shall we find a prater?"

Robert Tannahill, a Scotch poet, is the author of a pretty little epigram on wopwart!

"Nature, impotent in her works,
When she made man the strongest,
In justice then, to make amends,
Made woman's tongue the longest."

The Haxton.—The little I have seen of the world and know of the history of mankind, teaches me to look upon the errors of others in history, not in anger. When I take the history of one poor heart that has sinned and suffered, and represent to myself the struggles and temptations it has gone through—the pulsations of joy; the fervish inquietude of hope and fear; the pressure of want; the desertion of friends; the scorn of the world that has little charity; the desolation of the soul's sanctuary, and threatening vicissitudes within—gone, happiness gone, even hope that remains longest gone. I would fain leave the erring soul of my fellow man with Him from whose hands it came.—Longfellow.

The PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—(Old School).—We learn from the Presbyterian Almanac for 1842 that there are attached to this branch of Presbyterians, 1329 Ministers, 140,463 Communicants (exclusive of 4, Presbyteries not reported), and 2925 churches.

The wedding ring is put upon the fourth finger of the woman's left hand, because in the original formulæ marriage it was placed first on the top of the thumb, with the words "in the name of the Father" then on the next finger, with the words "and of the Son" then on the middle finger, with "and of the Holy Ghost" and finally on the fourth with the "Amen."

Temperance should be encouraged by all who regard their present happiness or future welfare. It is the poor man's friend and the rich man's comfort. The joy of the widow, and the consolation of the orphan.

"Time is Money,"—so Franklin observed. It is very true, and some people take plenty of time to pay their debts.

In reflections upon the absent, go no further than you would if they were present. "I resolve," says Bishop Beveridge, "never to speak of a man's virtues before his face, nor of his faults behind his back." A rule, the observance of which would, at one stroke, banish from society both flattery and defamation.

He that clothes the poor, clothes his own soul. He that sweetens the cup of afflictions, sweetens his own heart. He that feeds the hungry, supplies our hunger for himself; more sweet and refreshing than honey, than milk, than wine.

The young man, like the sound of bells, runs past me over the steeple, and finds nothing to do tomorrow. Only the red berries of that holly tree seem as if they would still remind us of something cheerful, and the measured beat of the thrush's fatal call, and the thoughts that "in the dry and fallen ear lies so much of nourishment and life."—Gordon.

A learned young lady asked at a tea-table if the used sugar, replied, "have a dollop of inviolable repugnance to sugar, for whom insensible spectators must be the greatest of the suggestives, like the glances of love, and renders it vastly obnoxious."

HIGHWAY ROBBERIES.

A number of noted highway robbers have lately been committed in our neighborhood. The last Badger, Inquier, May, &c. have been informed that a Dray returning home from the East, was robbed of a day or the since on the Covo Mountain, by a Highwayman, who presented a pistol, and demanded his money. He had about $2000, in a bell round his person, and about $25 in his pocket book. The latter sum he handed to the robber, who, failing to search him further, very coolly pocketed it, and started off walking. This fact, connected with the recent attempt in that same neighborhood to rob the stage, induces us to believe that the country must be infested by a gang of rogues, who should in some way or other be ferreted out. The traveling public must be on their guard.

More lately than the above, an attempt of a most villainous character was made in Washington county, Maryland, of which Hagerstown papers has the following account. It says—"Our town was thrown into great excitement yesterday, upon learning that Mr. John Funk, Grocer of that place, had been way-laid about 3 o'clock in the morning and robbed of $675. It was understood that Mr. Funk intended leaving town about that time for Baltimore, to purchase his Fall supply, and passing from his house to the Stage Office, when opposite an alley, near the square, he was arrested by three villains, who inflicted a blow upon the back of his head, and a wound with a dirk or some sharp instrument, upon his left breast; after which he was gagged, tied hand and feet, and robbed of the above sum. This is the most daring piece of villainy that has ever occurred in our town."

WHAT IS A GENTLEMAN?—By the application of a gentleman, it is not meant to draw a line that would be individual between high and low, rank and subordination, riches and poverty. The distinction is in the mind. Whoever is open, loyal, and true—whichever is of humble and affable demeanor—whether he be eligible in himself, and in his judgement of others, and requires no law but his will to fulfil an engagement—such a man is a gentleman, and such a man may be found among the titlers of the earth. His birth and distinction, however, for the most part, ensure the high sentiments which is denied to poverty and lower professions.

The idea of a woman standing over a kettle of boiling water, cooking her own tail, is rather incongruous. In such a case we think she must be reduced to the last extremity.

A Yankee has invented a new machine for taking the noise out of thunder!

PEASES CANDY.

This pleasant Medicine is formed by a combination of twenty different ingredients, all calculated for the cure of Colds, Coughs and Pulmonic Complaints; and by its combination, if one of these articles should be used separately and afford no relief, the other will furnish an engagement—such a man is a gentleman, and such a man may be found among the titlers of the earth. His birth and distinction, however, for the most part, ensure the high sentiments which is denied to poverty and lower professions.
