THE REPOSITORY.

NOT ON A PRAYERLESS BED.

Not on a prayerless bed, not on a prayerless bed,
Compose thy weary limbs to rest;
For they alone are blest
With balmy sleep,
Whom angels keep.
Not, though by care oppressed,
Or thought of anxious sorrow,
Or thought in many coil perplexed
For coming morrow—
Lay not thy head
On prayerless bed!

For, who can say when sleep thine eyes shall close
That earthly cares and woes
To thee may e'er return?
Rouse up, my soul,
Slumber control,
And let thy lamps burn brightly;
So shall thine eyes discern
Things pure and lightly;
Taught by the spirit-beam
Never on a prayerless bed
To lay thine noblest head.

Bethink thee, slumbering soul, of all that's pro- [mised
To faith in holy prayer!
Lives there within the breast
A worm that gives unrest?
Ask peace from Heaven—
Peace will be given:
Humble self-love and pride
Before the Crucified,
Who for thy sins has died;
Nor lay thy weary head
Upon a prayerless bed!

Hast thou no pining want, nor wish, nor care
That calls for holy prayer?
Has thy day been so bright,
That, in its flight,
There is no trace of sorrow?
And art thou sure to-morrow
Will be like this, and more
Abundant? Dost thou lay up store
And still make place for more?
Thou fool! this very night
Thy soul may wing its flight!

Hast thou no being than thyself more dear,
Who tracks the ocean deep,
And when storms sweep
The wintry skies,
For whom thou wak'st and sleep'st?
Oh! when thy pangs are deepest
Seek there the covenant ark of Prayer,
For He that slumbereth not is there!
His ears are open to thy cries:
Oh! then on prayerless bed
Lay not thy thoughtless head!

Hast thou no loved one than thyself more dear,
Who claims a prayer from thee?
Some who ne'er bend the knee
From Infidelity?
Think, if by Prayer they're brought—
Thy prayer—to be forgiven,
And making peace with Heaven,
Unto the Cross they're led!
Oh! for their sakes, on prayerless bed
Lay not thine unblest head!

Arouse thee, weary soul, nor yield to slumber,
'Till in communion blest,
With the elect ye rest—
Those souls of countless number;
And, with them, raise
The note of Praise
Reaching from Earth to Heaven,
Chosen, redeemed, forgiven:
So lay thy happy head,
Prayer-crowned, on blessed bed!

LIFE, DEATH AND RELIGION.

A SKETCH OF REAL LIFE.

We were not a little pained a day or two ago on meeting a young friend in the street. About a year had intervened since we had seen him before, and then he was all youth, life, cheerfulness, and hope.—Health seemed to impart energy to every limb, and his prospect was abundantly promising. His business was active and good, and the future as regarded the things of this life had a sunny and gratifying aspect. But what a change had a year effected! Disease had seized upon his frame, his every movement was languid, every breath he drew was a source of pain, and the sands of life are rapidly passing away. We inquired as to his health; he shook his head mournfully, and in a feeble voice observed; 'You see my condition. A little longer and like the smoke that passes upward and mingles with the clouds, I shall pass from the earth and be forgotten.' No, no—we responded, not forgotten—though young your brief life thus far has not been without its uses.—You have done much to make you remembered; but why despond? The sky is overcast, and your spirit of despondency borrows its shadows from the external world—'Well,' said he with a faint smile, 'it may be so.' Sometimes I fancy that I may yet recover, and although I am resigned and philosophic as I may be under the circumstances, it is but fair to confess that when I hear glad voices around me, feel the rich breath of summer stealing to my forehead, see the pure blue sky above and find so many friends who were boys with me, bounding forward, animated by life and hope, I feel reluctant to pass away so early. We took the arm of our feeble friend, and as he walked leisurely along, the spirit seemed to get the ascendent, and he indulged in a thousand vague but beautiful speculations as to life and destiny.—Beautiful we say—for our friend is a Christian in the full sense of that term; his life has been a blameless one, and though he still clings with human feelings and affections to those of his kindred whose hearts have grown warmer, and whose voices have been touched with a kindlier tone since his illness, he has no fears of death, no gloomy apprehensions as to the world beyond. It is in such beings, so situated and with a faith so firm and Heavenward that the Christian religion shines forth as the radiant bow of promise, amid the storms and tempests which surround the grave. It is, it must be, a sad thing to part from the companions of our boyhood, the beings of our love, the friends we have tried and confided in, even before manhood has lost its vigor and its fire, even as we tread upon the threshold of our useful existence. But still as the bubbles of this life burst and disappear from the view, as we feel the world rolling as it were, from beneath our feet, how glorious the consolation to hear even in the spirit, angel voices ringing in the distance, to see pleasures that are perennial, and to exchange time and its mutations, its visions and its weakness, for the hope, the treasures and the joys of eternity!

From the Lady's Book.

THE HOUR OF PRAYER.

BY MISS M. A. FARMAN.

I love to steal awhile away
From every cumb'ring care,
And spend the hours of parting day
In humb e, grateful prayer.

How quietly the still hour of twilight steals upon us. The sun's last golden ray, which lingered so long upon the eastern mountains as 'if parting were sweet sorrow,' has disappeared. The last rosy tint is fading from the evening cloud. A deeper shadow settled over the valley.—One by one 'night's unwearied watcher's' shine out in the 'far off depths.' The bird folds its weary wings within its little nest. 'The busy hum of man' is hushed. It is the hour of prayer and meditation—the Sabbath of the day.

"All is so still, so soft in earth and air,
You scarce would start to meet a spirit there;
Secure, that nought of evil could delight
To walk in such a scene, on such a night."

It breathes its own blessed quiet over the christian's spirit, and disposes him to deep and earnest communing with himself, and with his Father. The world loses its hold upon the heart—wealth, pleasures, earth's vain array seem now but what they are—illusions, fleeting shadows, cares and vexations, which, perhaps, too much occupied his mind and ruffled his temper during the day, now sink into real insignificance. He lifts his eyes to the magnificent firmament above him, and feels he is but a speck, an atom, in the vast creation; he thinks of his immortal spirit, and the priceless ransom paid for it, and knows it outweighs the worth of worlds.

Then serious, but pleasant thoughts possess his mind; the rapid flight of time—how soon its last hour shall have struck for him: and his ransomed spirit breathing its last prayer, and dropping his frail tabernacle, shall rise to its blissful home in Heaven. Oh, what a light breaks upon the tomb!—what an effulgence of glory beams beyond it. His is indeed the common lot "ashes to ashes, dust to dust," and the clods of the valley piled upon his once living, breathing form. But what then! It is only the senseless clay which moulders there; death cannot touch the immortal spirit; that is not shrouded in the grave.

But twilight fades, darkness gathers, a deeper silence pervades all nature. It is to him the "still small voice" of his Father, and he "wraps his face in his mantle," and bows down in prayer.

There is a power in the voiceless eloquence of the hour even for the worldling. Its gentle influence, like a messenger from Heaven, breathes on his unquiet spirit, and his warring elements within are hushed. Unwonted thoughts press on his mind. The bubbles he has just been so eagerly pursuing, seem now but bubbles. He throws back a hasty glance to wasted weeks, months, years, that are gone like a vision never to be recalled.

Life, life, oh! what a very vapor 'tis; a quickly passing dream: toil and care, jealousy and strife, hopes, and fears, a weary struggle from unsubstantial good, have made up almost its sum. Ah, how seldom are its early promises fulfilled; even if the world spread all its gifts before men, yet they are transient as the morning. Yes, the christian has chosen 'the better part;' his hope shall not fade away. Well, well, when I reach that envious elevation, when I have gathered a little more wealth, when I have brought a few more worldly schemes to a susceptable termination, then my affections shall lose their hold upon the world: I will be a christian.

Ah, how many have such promises, and such reasonings, beguiled of Heaven!

BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENT.—The following extract is taken from an address delivered at Urbana, Ohio, by J. A. Bryan, Esq.

"A mother's love! How thrilling the sound. The angel spirit that watched over our infant years, and cheered us with her smiles! O, how faithful does memory cling to the fast fading mementos of a parent's home, to remind us of the sweet counsels of a mother's tongue. And oh! how instinctively do we hang over the scenes of boyhood, brightened by the recollection of that waking eye that never closed while a single wave of misfortune or danger sighed around her child. Like the lone star of the heavens, in the deep solitude of nature's night, she sits the presiding divinity of the family mansion, its delight and its charm, its stay and its hope, when all around her is overshadowed with the gloom of despondency and despair. The cherished object of her affection has risen to manhood's years, and exchanged the sportive morn of being for the busy and stirring adventures of the world; and yet, wherever he may wander, to whatever clime or country inclination or duty may invite his footsteps; whether facing the wintry storm, or buffeting the mountain snow—the undying prayer of a mother's love lingers on his path, and sheds its holiest incense upon the pillow."

☞There is nothing on earth can resist the energy of determination. With it for our weapon, we can conquer all obstacles—we can set the heel upon all difficulties—we can triumph over our own defects—we can supply our own wants—and can gain strength from our own weaknesses.

DR. GUETTICH, HAAS & CO.'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES

THE OLIVE BRANCH PILLS for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Liver Complaints, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Dyspepsia, Shortness of Breath, Pains in the Side, Breast, Back and Shoulders, Ague and Fever, an infallable cure, and all Scarlet and Bilious Fevers, and all diseases arising from exposure and debility, no matter how long standing—in fact all diseases to which the human family are subject to.

These pills are unsurpassed by any medical compound ever offered to the public as a general renovator and family medicine. They are very gentle in their operation, causing neither pain, sickness nor debility by the use of them; but on the contrary they strengthen the stomach and bowels in a wonderful manner, and soon restore nature to its former course and vigor. The person using the Olive Branch Pills soon forgets that he was sick—which is very easily accounted for: there is not that prostration of strength in these pills as in many other remedies of the day, because the materials used in manufacturing them are in harmony with the powers of life and act in concert with the opinions of Dr's. Brown, Bush, Armstrong, Montgomery, Hersey, Kendrick, Shepper and the celebrated Dr. Waterhouse, formerly Lecturer on the theory and practice of Physic in Cambridge University, Massachusetts. Purchase of them, and give them a fair and impartial trial, and you will find that permanent relief, upon which the proprietors depend to make them the most universal family medicine used, and which will stand unrivaled by any other in the known world. Price 25 cents per box.

RHEUMATIC MEDICINE

Is one of the most certain and affectual cures for all rheumatic, chronic and inflammatory Rheumatisms that has ever yet been discovered; and in numerous cases has eradicated that dreadful disease from persons afflicted entirely. All sour drinks and victuals are strictly forbidden, and spiritous liquors must not be taken inwardly by any means whatever, or it will be of no use to take this medicine, as it will destroy the good effects of the medicine entirely. Price $1,50 per package.

AUGSBURG LIFE TINCTURE.

These celebrated drops have acquired the highest recommendations in this country, as well as in Europe for its most valuable proprieties for all inward weaknesses, cramps, colds, agues and fever; and when used with the Olive Branch Pills, never fails to cure the fever and ague. Price 25 cents per bottle.

PECTORAL ELIXIR

A certain cure for all Scalds, Bruises, Burns, and the most effectual cure for the piles—it will cure the person afflicted in a very short time, if used according to directions. Price 25 cts. per vial.

SPIRIT DE MEXICO.

This spirit is highly recommended for all sprains, swelling of the limbs, or leaders, sinews, joints and rheumatic; as an outward remedy, it has no equal, and when used with the Rheumatic Medicine, will greatly facilitate the cure. TOOTHACHE DROPS,

An infallable cure if used according to directions. Price 25 cents per vial.

READ WHAT IT HAS DONE.

AND if you have a friend, a relation, or know any one that is afflicted with that distressing disease, "CONSUMPTION," persuade them without delay to try that famous and unrivaled medicine, the

"Balsam of Wild Cherry,"

which has cured thousands of this complaint after everything else had failed. Read the following undoubted proofs of its efficacy:

ROXBOROUGH, Sept. 10 1841.

DEAR SIR:—Please send me two more bottles of your Balsam of Wild Cherry, like that you sent me before. I have taken nearly all of the first two, and confidently believe this medicine will cure me. I have used a great many remedies within the last year, but have never found any thing that has relieved me so much. It has stopped my cough entirely, checked my night sweats, and I sleep better at night and feel better in every way, than have for many months. Yours, respectfully,

JAMES KELLY.

HOLMESBURG, Sept. 12, 1841.

FRIEND WISTAR:—I must again trouble thee to send me two bottles more of thy invaluable Balsam. I have now taken three bottles in all, and can assure thee that it has done more good than all the medicine I have ever taken before. Send by the stage as soon as possible, and oblige thy friend,

JOSEPH HOLLOWAY.

BRISTOL, Sept. 8, 1841.

DEAR DOCTOR:—Hearing so many people talk of the wonderful cures your Balsam of Wild Cherry has made in Consumption, I sent to one of your Agents the other day for a bottle, and have found it to have relieved me so much, that I want three bottles more sent soon, as I believe it will cure me too. I have used Jayne's Expectorant and other medicines besides, but nothing has done me as much good as yours has. Send by the steamboat Bolivar. Yours, truly,

WILLIAM THOMAS.

☞Besides its astonishing efficacy in Consumption, it is also the most effectual remedy ever discovered for LIVER COMPLAINTS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, &c., as hundreds will testify who have been cured by it after all other remedies had failed.

DRUGGISTS and DEALERS will find this medicine a valuable addition to their stock, and should always keep it on hand, as it is universally acknowledged to be one of the most useful family medicines now in use.

CONSUMPTION OF THE LUNGS,

Affections of the Liver, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains or weakness of the Breast or Lungs, Chronic Coughs, Pleurisy, Hemorrhage of the Lungs, and affections of the Pulmonary Organs.

NATURE'S OWN PRESCRIPTION.

This compound Balsamic preparation of the Prunus Virginiania or "Wild Cherry Bark," combined with the Extract of Tar, prepared by a new chemical process, approved and recommended by the most distinguished physicians, and universally acknowledged the most valuable medicine ever discovered.

NO QUACKERY!!! NO DECEPTION.

In setting forth the virtues of this truly great medicine, we have no desire to deceive those who are laboring under affliction, nor do we wish to eulogise it more than it justly deserves. Yet when we look around and see the vast amount of suffering and distress occasioned by many of the diseases in which this medicine has proved so highly successful, we feel that we cannot urge its claims too strongly, or say too much in its favor.

Various remedies it is true have been offered and puffed into notice for the cure of diseases of the Lungs, and some have no doubt been found very useful, but of all that have yet been discovered, it is admitted by physicians and all who have witnessed its effects, that none has proved as successful as this. Such, indeed, are the

SURPRISING VIRTUES

Of this Balsam, that even in the advanced stage of CONSUMPTION, after all the most esteemed remedies of physicians have failed to effect any change, the use of this medicine has been productive of the most astonishing relief, and actually effected cures after all hopes of recovery had been despaired of.

In the first stages of the disease, termed "Catarrhal Consumption," originating from neglected Colds, it has been used with undeviating success, and hundreds acknowledge they owe the restoration of their health to this invaluable medicine alone. In that form of Consumption so prevalent amongst delicate young females, commonly termed debility, or

"GOING INTO A DECLINE,"

A complaint with which thousands are lingering, it has also proved highly successful, and not only possesses the power of checking the progress of this alarming complaint, but also strengthens and invigorates the system more effectually than any medicine we have ever possessed.

Besides its surprising efficacy in Consumption, it is equally efficacious in Liver Complaints, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all affections of the Lungs, and has cured many of the most obstinate cases, after every other remedy had failed. ☞For particulars see Dr. Wistar's Treatise on Consumption, to be had of the Agents.

THE EXTRAORDINARY SUCCESS

Attending the use of this medicine in diseases of the Lungs, and the many singular cures it has effected, having naturally attracted the attention of many physicians, (as well as the whole fraternity of quacks) various conjectures and surmises have arisen respecting its composition; some physicians have supposed it to contain Iodine, other ignorant pretenders say it must contain Mercury, and to some such substance they each attribute its singular efficacy.—As such opinions are altogether erroneous, and calculated to prejudice many persons against it, we

PLEDGE OUR HONOR

That it contains nothing of the kind, or any thing the least injurious; on the contrary, it is composed of the most simple substances, the principle of which are the extracts of TAR and Wild Cherry Bark, and the whole secret of its efficacy consists in the mode by which they are prepared.

As we have already published numerous certificates from the highest authority, which prove its virtues beyond all doubt, we consider it unnecessary to exhibit a long list of them in this place, and will only mention a few cases, to show what it has done:

WHILE LIFE REMAINS

WE HAVE STILL SOME HOPE.

A SURPRISING CURE.—Among the many singular cures which this medicine has effected, there is perhaps none in which its powers are so fairly shown as in the case of Mrs. Austin.

This lady had been consumptive for several years, and during the greater part of this time had received the best medical attention, and tried all the most valuable remedies, yet nothing could be found to arrest its progress. She became subject to violent fits of coughing, expectorated large quantities of matter occasionally tinged with blood, and step by step this fearful disease continued its course, until all hope of a recovery was entirely despaired of.—While in this distressing situation, lingering upon the very verge of the grave, she commenced the use of this Balsam, which, to use her own expression, operated almost like a charm. In a few days she expectorated freely, the cough was gradually suppressed, and every day appeared to add fresh vigor to her looks, and now, in the place of that emaciated form withering to decay, she is seen mingling in society, in better health than she has enjoyed for years.

DISINTERESTED TESTIMONY.—Having witnessed the surprising efficacy of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, in the case of Mrs. Austin, I cheerfully acknowledge the above statement to be true and correct. J. C. WALTERS, M. D.

Woodstown, Sept. 4, 1841.

Dear Sir—Although your invaluable medicine has already found hundreds of powerful advocates, it may still be gratifying to you to receive a communication from any one that has been relieved by it. Such, Sir, is truly my case. I have been a victim to that terrible disease Consumption, for many months, and have suffered so much, that I had become almost weary of my life. Hearing your Balsam so highly praised, I began taking it a few weeks back, and can assure you it has relieved me more than any thing I have ever used before, and I confidently believe it will cure me effectually. Please give the bearer the worth of the enclosed, and oblige Yours Respectfully, JOHN PEARSON.

Friend Wistar—It gives me much pleasure to inform thee that my wife's health has improved very much since she has been using thy Balsam of Wild Cherry, and we think there is no doubt but that it will cure her. She has taken the two bottles I purchased from thee a short time since, and her cough is much better, she also sleeps well at night, and says she has found nothing to give her so much relief. Thee will please give the bearer two bottles more for Thy Friend, EDWARD HOLMES.

Lancaster county, July 18, 1841.

Dear Sir—Please send me two bottles of your genuine Balsam of Wild Cherry. I have been afflicted with Consumption for the last two years, and suffered very much with a severe cough, pains in my breast, difficulty of breathing, night sweats, &c., and having tried numerous remedies, and also been under several doctors, yet I could not find any thing to relieve me until I used some of your Balsam. I got one bottle from a neighbor of mine who is using it, and have found such wonderful relief from it that I have no doubt it will cure me effectually.

Very respectfully yours, &c.,

ROBERT HOMMAN.

☞Read the following from Dr. Jacob Hoffman, a physician of extensive practice in Huntingdon county:

Dear Sir—I procured one bottle of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, from Thomas Reed, Esqe of this place, and tried it in a case of obstinate Asthma on a child of Paul Schwebie, in which many other remedies had been tried without any relief. The Balsam gave sudden relief, and in my opinion the child is effectually cured by its use.

Yours, &c. JACOB HOFFMAN, M. D.

Dear Sir—Your Balsam of Wild Cherry has affected some astonishing cures here. One of which is an old lady, Mrs. Russell, who had been suffering for a long time with shortness of breathing, and general weakness, until she was finally obliged to keep her bed. After various other remedies had been resorted to in vain, she commenced using your Balsam, and after taking two bottles, was so far recovered as to be able to attend to all the duties of her house, and on taking two bottles more was entirely cured. Respectfully, &c.

JOHN S. C. MARTIN.
