SUNDAY READING. THE BIBLE. No 3 81 15

BY WILLIAM LEGGETT. This little book 12 rather own That eler in monarch's coffers shone Thigall their diadems, an Nay, were the seas one thrysolite, The earth a goliden ball, And diamonds all the stars of night, . This book were worth them all. How baleful to ambition's eye His blood-wrung spoils must gleam, When death's uplitted hand is high. His life a vanished dream. Then hear him with his gasping breath For one poor moment erave Fool ! would'st thou stay the arm of death i Ask of thy gold to save !

No. no! the soul ne'er found relief In glittering hoards of wealth ; Gems duzzle not the eye of grief, Gold cannot purchase health ; But here a blessed balm appears, To heal the deepest woe ; And he that seeks this book in tears, His tears shall cease to flow. Here he that died on Calvary's tree Hath made that promise blest : 'Ye heavy laden come to me."

And I will give you rest. A bruised reed I will not break, A contrite heart despise ; My burden's light, and all who take My yoke shall win the skies !?

Yes, yes, this little book is worth All else to mortals given-For what are all the joys of earth Compared to joys of Heaven? This is the guide our Father gave To lead to realms of day-A star whose lustre gilds the grave-

'The light-the Life-the Way,' INFIDELITY IN YOU'TH.

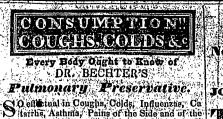

Many an infidel in youth, is a Believen in old age. There is no fact authenticated by more numerous examples than this.----Young blood is daring. In mere wantonness of supposed strength, it often seeks to overturn the truth of religion; because, as it would seem, there is nothing more daring than to brave Almighty power.-Advancing years cure this. They cool the passions and bring reflection, and no reflective man will remain an infidel. We have a case in point. A late paper from England states that " Richard Carlysia, notorious for his infidelity, but subsequently converted to Christianity," died in London recently. Carlysle was a man of considerable talents, and much ingenuity .---He both wrote and lectured in favor of infidelity, and not without some effect. His fame, or rather his infamy, reached even this country ; indéed we are not sure but at one time he came among us bodily. Be that as it may, he was a most determined unbeliever. If we mistake not, fines and imprisonment were more than once meeted out to him for his blasphemies. Yet, as age advanced upon him, the passions

A GR nine years this medicine has stood ünrivaled for the cure of Coughs, Pain in the side, diffe-cilly of breathing, Bronchitis, and all those affec-tions of the Throat, Lungs and Liver, which are a source of so much suffering and which unarrested so often terminato in Consumption. So extensively has this remedy been used and in so many cures has it proved successful; the proprietor feels no hesi-tancy in recommending it to all who unfortunately have occasion to resort to some means of recovery. Multitudes who have experienced its happy effects, can testify to its utility, and very many rescued from can testify to its utility, and very many rescued from a premature death, point to it as the means of their restoration. The originator of this remedy was well versed in the science of medicine, and a skilful practicioner. In setting forth the virtues of this truly great me-dicine, we have no desire to deceive those who are laboring under affliction, hor do we wish to eulogise it more than it justly deserves. Yet when we look around and see the vast amount of suffering and dis tress occasioned by many of the discusses in which this medicine has proved so highly successful, we feel that we cannot urge its claims too 'strongly, or say too much in its favor.' Various remedies it is true have been offered and puffed into notice for the cure of discusses of the Lungs, and some have no doubt been found very useful, but of all that have yet been discovered, it is admitted by physicians and all who have witnessed its effects, that none has proved as successful as this. Such, indeed, are the Such, indeed, are the BONAPARTE'S OPINION OF CHRIST .---- A foreign journal lately published a conversation, related by Count de Montholon, the faithful friend of the Emperor Napoleon. Without being responsible for the truth of this conversation, as reported, I will copy it literally ; and as it, may have been really uttered by the Emperor, it deserves to be read with attention :

"I know man," said Napoleon; " and I tell you that Jesus is not a man ! The religion of Christ is a mystery which subsists by its own force, and proceeds from a find in it a marked individuality, which o-riginated a train of words and maxims un-known before. Jesus horrowed and known before. Jesus borrowed nothing from our knowledge. He exhibited in himself a perfect example of his precepts. Jesus is not a philosopher, for his proof are miracles ; and from the first his disciples adored him. In fact, learning and philosophy are of no use for salvation; and Jesus came into the world to reveal the mysteries of Heaven and the laws of the Spirit. Atoxander, Caser, Charlemague, and mysell founded empires ; but upon what did we rest the creations of our gonius ?-Upon force. Jesus Christ alone ; founded

For Goods for Cash-at Auction prices.

FINHE subscribers have determined to THE subscribers have determined to conduct their business upon the CASH System, and will sell their Goods as low, if not at a lower grade of profit, than has heretofore been done in Philadelphia—not one article reduced very low, in the expectation of making it up on other Goods— but their prices shall benl corresponding low. Their prices will be governed by the Auction rates—sell-ing at the same prices, net Cush, as the Auctions do on time—contenting themselves with the Interest for the time as their Profit. This cannot but present a strong inducement for buyers, especially from the Country, to call on them in preference to purchasing at Auction, where transaus do not get the time dis-count, unless their bills reach a certain amount, to which amount it is not always convenient for Coun-try. Bayers to purchase; and it will also avoid the disadvantage of large lots, and afford more time to select.

select. They design to avail themselves of every facility, in both the New York as well as the Philadelphin Auctions, in procuring their goods at the lowest pos-sible-rates. We now respectfully invite our friends and the public to the Test of Experience in this matter, be-ing the best way to convince them of the trath of our promise. JOHNSTON, BURK & CO. Phila.
