SUNDAY READINGS.

For the following lines, extracted from a poem by John Quincy Adams, possess much beauty and depth, as well as lofty sentiment:

INFINITE WISDOM.

Who ever studies the historic page,
And reads the record of departed time,
Still finds in every realm in every age,
The same return of errors, vice, and crime—
The same dramatic persons on the stage;
—Or varied only by the name or clime;
Shall still behold the fair and candid face,
Disgraced, the sinful victims of the base.

And yet, man, coming from his Maker's hand,
Cannot exchange his nature if he would;
The dark and cunning thus must ever stand;
Prone to all evil, and averse to good.
The villain's heart can never lose its band;
The honest heart can never take a hood;
Oh! must it prove until the judgment day,
That all mankind was born the others prey?

Yet let not hence presumption dare to scan
The scope and compass of Almighty mind;
Or scrutinize with impious doubt the plan
Of wisdom and of goodness still combined;
Born from the clod of earth, immortal man
To this poor wretched world is not confined;
Though but in part this system bounds his view,
There is an eye that looks creation through.

And if there be a Ruler of the skies,
Justice, eternal justice is his law—
And whatsoe'er of justice earth denies,
Angelic hands in heaven shall mend the flaw.
Rise then on Hope's seraphic pinion rise!—
From worlds beyond the grave thy comfort draw;
And deem the wrongs that virtue here sustain,
Proofs that on high a God of justice reigns.

ANTICIPATION OF THE BIRTH OF CHRIST.

BY H. STOCKTON.

It was the object of hope for four thousand years. This is a wonderful fact, to begin with. There never was a generation in which his birth was not expected. It was the comfort of Adam and Eve, when they turned, into the fire guarded gate, from their last look on Eden, to go down into the world where the curse smoked before them. It was the selectest subject of the communion when Enoch walked with God, and hallowed the hour of his ascension into heaven. It was the brightest lamp in the sky when it rocked on the waves of the ocean world, beneath a sky that knew no noon or dawn. And when the flood had subsided and the patriarch from the old world came out upon the misty mountains of the new, worshipped his Deliverer at the altar which glistened with the hues of the first rainbow—and his household became many families, and these families many tribes, descending from the summits and filling the lowlands—still, dearer to hope than the lost paradise to memory, bloomed around the tents of the holy, the promise of the coming Messiah. It was this expectation that charmed Abram in the house of Idolatry, and led his pilgrim steps from the plains of Ur to the heights of Hebron. It was this, that shone in the serene imagination of Isaac, brighter than the evening star, when he went forth into the fields to meditate in the quiet eventide. It was this, that supported the dying Jacob better than his staff, and made his eyes flash with the visions of faith and the glory of the latter days. It was this that caused Joseph to turn away from the royal mausoleums—the magnificent pyramids of Egypt—and crave, as the resting place of his honored bones, some sylvan haunt in the land of the redeemed. It was this that shortened the centuries of toil to the chosen of the Lord, and cheered the house of bondage with the song of freedom. It was this that tarnished the wealth of a kingdom, and mocked the might of Empire when the princely Moses made his choice of affliction and his reckoning of the incomparable preciousness of reproach. No degradation of caste, no chains of thraldom, no pressure of toil, no searching visitation of the tyrant's sword among the cradles of infancy, could impair its certainty or check its power. It was the torch in the hand of the Angel in the cloud, with all its beams turned downward and onward, shining on the sands, and sea-weeds, and rocks, as the heirs of the promise escaped through the parted waters—while their wrathful foes in the frenzy of folly urged their wheels along the darkness of the rear-ward abyss and were swept from their chariots by the hurricane surges. It was this that constituted the Gospel of the desert, which so many disbelieved, and perished. So

"When manna fell through soft nocturnal hours
Till desert trees where white as almond flowers!"

it was the pure and wholesome symbol of that better "Bread of Life," which was to come down from heaven" in after days. When the heart of the rock melted, and its fissured surface flowed with refreshing streams, "that rock was Christ," and those streams were gushing tokens of a free and full salvation. When the Shekinah appeared in its radiant rest, on the mercy seat, it was only a faint dawning of the "Brightness of the Father's Glory" and an indistinct hymning of the "Express Image of his person." And so, when the tide of Jordan was severed by the first touch of the feet of the priests, who bore the ark and the tabernacle of the Lord passed over to their glorious inheritance, the ark itself was the depository of their common and blessed hope, and like Leader of the flock in type and office, the type of Jesus—Emmanuel—God with us. And so, when the [illegible] more cheering than the "new wine," more nourishing than the "finest of the wheat," more glorious than the trophies of victorious war, and more blessed than the Sabbath quiet of uninterrupted peace, when the bow slept in its case, and the arrow slumbered in its quiver, and the sword had no dream of the battle and the spear no remembrance of blood, and the wounds of the shield were closed, and the heart of a child, as his little one lay with the lamb, or leaned on the neck of the ewe, or smiled in its mother's arms, in the rosy flush of the sunset hour—more joyous than all, more constant and triumphant in its joy, was the brightened prospect of this wondrous advent. And so, during the time of the Judges, and in the days of the Kings. It was the band of the national union—the boast of national pride—the badge of national distinction. "The wilderness and the solitary place," were made glad by it; and because of it "the desert rejoiced and blossomed as the rose." Nay, "the glory of Lebanon" was made glorious as this voice was heard among the sounding cedars; "the excellency of Carmel and Sharon" was made more excellent as this promise was whispered to the gales from the great sea, and breathed a celestial fragrance among the perfumes of the flowry plain. Lebanon saw in this revelation "the glory of the LORD;" and Carmel and Sharon beheld "the excellency of our GOD." And so the dewy steeps of Hermon, and the towering cone of Tabor, and the morning cliffs of Gilead, and the evening wells of Beersheba, and purple vintage of Eschol—all around the land on the hither side of Jordan, North, South, East and West—in the seasons of the early and latter rain, and in the burning summer-tide, and the freezing winter-tide, with the sun shining in his strength, as the noon-day symbol of his divinity; and the moon beaming in her beauty, as the twilight symbol of his humanity—deriving its loveliness from the Godhead, as the moon borrows its beauty from the sun, and the stars sparkling in their greater and lesser light, as the multitudinous symbols of saintly seed, collected first about the mellowed grandeur of his humiliation as soon to be irradiated by the returning splendor of his divine exaltation—within the whole land and under the whole sky of that honored nation, every where and at all times, this supreme expectation was known and cherished.—But as the election at first expanded from a family to the world, and then again narrowed from a world to a family—and then again expanded from a family to the world, and then again narrowed to one family, and then again expanded to a nation, and then again narrowed to one of its tribes and one family of this tribe, within the borders of that tribe it exerted a greater influence—and within the tents of that family its chief power. Judah exulted on the heights of Zion, and the house of Jesse was glad on the hill side of Bethlehem. It fired the heart of David, while he sat on his throne, and caused the throne itself to tremble beneath him and the palace, and the tabernacle, and Jerusalem, and Judah, and all Isreal, to triumph, while the harp of inspiration—a richer gift than empire—was swept by his raptured fingers, and the living anthems flew, like angels from the chords, filling heaven and earth with perpetual praise. It was this that enhanced the glory of Solomon, when the sovereignty of Isreal was most extended and imposing, when kings sent tribute, and queens brought it, when caravans came from far lands, and fleets from far seas, and silver was as dust, and gold as the stones, and the City of the Great King led forth its streets of palaces from hill to hill, and the temple of Moriah grew up, in silent magnificence, to be the worship-wonder of the world, and He, whom the heaven of heavens cannot contain, came down in a cloud of glory to sanctify its Most Holy Place—it was this that heightened the pomp and confirmed the power;—and when the king became a curse, and the wise man a fool, and the smoke of idol-altars floated over the shrine of the Highest, it was this that lingered, in pale and saddened splendor, on all the empire, like the changed and feeble day, when the sun is in eclipse. And so when the ten tribes, were carried into irreclaimable captivity—and so when the Jews sat weeping by the streams of Babylon, with their harps hung, moaning, on the willows—and so when these latter returned to rebuild the wall of their beloved metropolis—and so when the second temple was opened and dedicated, and so down to the very time of his actual appearance, during all the changes of four thousand years, was this birth the object of HOPE!

PROTECTION AT LOWEST RATES.

THE CUMBERLAND VALLEY MUTUAL PROTECTION COMPANY, having been incorporated by an act of the Legislature of the present session, and fully organized and in operation under the direction of the following board of Managers, viz: Thomas C. Miller, Cyr. Cummins, John Moore, David Wm. McCullough, James Weakly, George Martin, William Moore, Samuel Calwell, James Gracey, Thomas Lyster, Wm. Bard, Joseph Culver and A. G. Miller, call the attention of the inhabitants of Cumberland Valley to the cheapness of their rates and the many advantages which this kind of insurance has over any other.

1st. Every person insured becomes a member of the company and takes part in the choice of officers and the direction of its concerns.

2d. For insurance no more is demanded than is necessary to meet the expenses of the Company and indemnity against losses which may happen.

3d. The inconvenience of frequent renewals is avoided by insuring for a term of five years.

4th. Any person applying for insurance must give his premium note for the cheapest class at the rate of five per centum, which will be $50 on the $1000, for which he will have to pay $2,50 for five years, and $1,50 for survey and policy, and no more unless loss be sustained to a greater amount than the funds on hands will cover, and then no more will be required than a pro rata share. These rates are much cheaper than those of other companies, except such as are incorporated on the same principles.

Insurance is effected in the following manner: A person applying for insurance for property of the cheapest class of risk for $1000 will be charged 5 per cent for five years, a note amounting to $50 must be given by him, on which he will be required to pay 5 per cent $2,50, and $1,50 for surveying and policy, and will have no more required of him unless losses occur and the funds on hands are not sufficient to meet them.

Agents will be appointed as soon as possible in different places to attend to insurances, and any persons wishing immediately to apply can do so by signifying their wish to the officers of the company.

A CARD.

HENRY L. ELDER, No. 493, Market street, above 13th, North side, Philadelphia, having reduced his prices of HARDWARE, to the lowest rates for CASH, and in his advertisement named some of the articles with the prices annexed, he finds that others in the same line of business, have offered those particular articles at the same prices, saying they sell as low as ELDER. Now the object of this Card is to invite purchasers to ascertain the lowest prices for which they can purchase every description of Hardware elsewhere, and then enquire at his store, and they will be convinced that he is selling all his goods at similar low prices,—and that he is doing what he professes to do—buying only for Cash, and selling only for Cash, which enables him to do business at such rates as cannot fail to make his store the depot for those who wish to get the most for their money.

☞ He has added to his large stock of Hardware, a complete assortment of which he will sell at a scale of prices corresponding with the reduced prices of his Nails, Scythes and Hardware generally, at wholesale and retail.

WHOLESALE
DRY GOODS STORE,
No. 77½ Market st.—North Side—above Second

☞ Goods for Cash—at Auction prices. ☜

THE subscribers have determined to conduct their business upon the CASH System, and will sell their Goods as low, if not at a lower grade of profit, than has heretofore been done in Philadelphia—not one article reduced very low, in the expectation of making it up on other Goods—but their prices shall be all corresponding low. Their prices will be governed by the Auction rates—selling at the same prices, neit Cash, as the Auctions do on time—contenting themselves with the interest for the time as their Profit. This cannot but present a strong inducement for buyers, especially from the Country, to call on them in preference to purchasing at Auction, where persons do not get the time discount, unless their bills reach a certain amount, to which amount it is not always convenient for Country Buyers to purchase; and it will also avoid the disadvantage of large lots, and afford more time to select.

They design to avail themselves of every facility, in both the New York as well as the Philadelphia Auctions, in procuring their goods at the lowest possible rates.

We now respectfully invite our friends and the public to the Test of Experience in this matter, being the best way to convince them of the truth of our promise.

FOR THE

CONSUMPTION OF THE LUNGS,

Affections of the Liver, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains or weakness of the Breast or Lungs, Chronic Coughs, Pleurisy, Hemorrage of the Lungs, and Affections of the Pulmonary Organs.

NATURE'S OWN PRESCRIPTION.

A compound Balsamic preparation of the Prunus Virginiana or Wild Cherry Bark, combined with the Extract of Tar, prepared by a new chemical process, approved, and recommended by the most distinguished physicians, and universally acknowledged the most valuable medicine ever discovered.

NO QUACKERY!!! NO DECEPTION!!!

In setting forth the virtues of this truly great medicine, we have no desire to deceive those afflicted under affliction, nor do we wish to ascribe to it more than it justly deserves. Yet when we look around and see the vast amount of suffering and distress occasioned by many of the diseases in which this medicine has proved so highly successful, we feel that we cannot urge its claims too strongly, or say too much in its favor.

Various remedies it is true have been offered and puffed into notice for the cure of diseases of the Lungs, and some have no doubt been found very useful, but of all that have yet been discovered, it is admitted by physicians and all who have witnessed its effects, that none has proved as successful as this. Such, indeed, are the

SURPRISING VIRTUES

Of this Balsam, that even in the advanced stage of CONSUMPTION, after all the most esteemed remedies of physicians have failed to effect any change, the use of this medicine has been productive of the most astonishing relief, and actually effected cures after all hopes of recovery had been despaired of.

In the first stages of the disease, termed "Catarrhal Consumption," originating from neglected Colds, it has been used with unbounding success, and hundreds acknowledge they owe the restoration of their health to this invaluable medicine alone. In that form of Consumption so prevalent amongst delicate young females, commonly termed debility, or

"GOING INTO A DECLINE,"

A complaint with which thousands are lingering, it has also proved highly successful, and not only possesses the power of checking the progress of this alarming complaint, but also strengthens and invigorates the system more effectually than any medicine we have ever possessed.

Besides its surprising efficacy in Consumption, it is equally efficacious in Liver Complaints, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all affections of the Lungs, and has cured many of the most obstinate cases, after every other remedy had failed. ☞ For particulars see Dr. Wistar's Treatise on Consumption, to be had of the Agents.

THE EXTRAORDINARY SUCCESS

Attending the use of this medicine in diseases of the Lungs, and the many singular cures it has effected, having naturally attracted the attention of many physicians, (as well as the whole fraternity of quacks) various conjectures and surmises have arisen respecting its composition; some physicians have supposed it to contain Iodine, other ignorant pretenders say it must contain Mercury, and to some such substance they each attribute its singular efficacy.—As such opinions are altogether erroneous, and calculated to prejudice many persons against it, we

PLEDGE OUR HONOR

That it contains nothing of the kind, or any thing the least injurious; on the contrary, it is composed of the most simple substances, the principle of which are the extracts of TAR and Wild Cherry Bark, and the whole secret of its efficacy consists in the mode by which they are prepared.

As we have already published numerous certificates from the highest authority, which proves its virtues beyond all doubt, we consider it unnecessary to exhibit a long list of them in this place, and will only mention a few cases, to show what it has done

WHILE LIFE REMAINS

WE HAVE STILL SOME HOPE.

A SURPRISING CURE.—Among the many singular cures which this medicine has effected, there is perhaps none in which its powers are so fully shown as in the case of Mrs. Austin.

This lady had been consumptive for several years, and during the greater part of that time had received the best medical attention, and tried all the most valuable remedies, yet nothing could be found to arrest its progress. She became subject to violent fits of coughing, expectorated large quantities of matter occasionally tinged with blood, and step by step this fearful disease continued its course, until all hope of a recovery was entirely despaired of.—While in this distressing situation, lingering upon the very verge of the grave, she commenced the use of this Balsam, which, to use her own expression, operated almost like a charm. In a few days she expectorated freely, the cough was gradually suppressed, and every day appeared to add fresh vigor to her looks, and now, in the place of that emaciated form withering to decay, she is seen mingling in society, in better health than she has enjoyed for years.

DISINTERESTED TESTIMONY.—Having witnessed the surprising efficacy of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, in the case of Mrs. Austin, I cheerfully acknowledge the above statement to be true and correct. J. C. WALTERS, M. D.

Woolstown, Sept. 4, 1841.

Dear Sir—Although your invaluable medicine has already found hundreds of powerful advocates, it may still be gratifying to you to receive a communication from any one that has been relieved by it. Such, Sir, is truly my case. I have been a victim to that terrible disease Consumption, for many months, and have suffered so much, that I had become almost weary of my life. Hearing your Balsam so highly praised, I began taking it a few weeks back, and can assure you it has relieved me more than any thing I have ever used before, and I confidently believe it will cure me effectually. Please give the bearer the worth of the enclosed, and oblige

Yours Respectfully, JOHN PEARSON.

Chester County, Sept. 6, 1841.

Friend Wistar—It gives me much pleasure to inform thee that my wife's health has improved very much since she has been using thy Balsam of Wild Cherry, and we think there is no doubt but that it will cure her. She has taken the two bottles I purchased from thee a short time since, and her cough is much better, she also sleeps well at night, and says she has found nothing to give her so much relief. Thee will please give the bearer two bottles more for Thy Friend,

EDWARD HOLMES.

Lancaster county, July 18, 1841.

Dear Sir—Please send me two bottles of your genuine Balsam of Wild Cherry. I have been afflicted with Consumption for the last two years, and suffered very much with a severe cough, pains in my breast, difficulty of breathing, night sweats, &c., and having tried numerous remedies, and also been under several doctors, yet I could not find any thing to relieve me until I used some of your Balsam. I got one bottle from a neighbor of mine who is using it, and have found such wonderful relief from it, that I have no doubt it will cure me effectually.

Very respectfully yours, &c.
ROBERT HOFMAN.

☞ Read the following from Dr. Jacob Hoffman, a physician of extensive practice in Huntingdon county:

Dear Sir—I procured one bottle of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, from Thomas Reed, Esq. of this place, and tried it in a case of obstinate Asthma on a child of Paul Schwebel; in which many other remedies had been tried without any relief. The Balsam gave sudden relief, and in my opinion the child is effectually cured by its use.

Yours, &c. JACOB HOFFMAN, M. D.
December 22d, 1841.

Dear Sir—Your Balsam of Wild Cherry has effected some astonishing cures here. One of which is an old lady, Mrs. Russell, who had been suffering for a long time with shortness of breathing, and general weakness, until she was finally obliged to keep her bed. After various other remedies had been resorted to in vain, she commenced using your Balsam, and after taking two bottles, was so recovered as to be able to attend to all the duties of her house; and on taking two bottles more was entirely cured. Respectfully, &c.

JOHN S. O'MASTER.
Pottsville, Pa.

☞ CAUTION.—As there is a counterfeit Balsam called Syrup of Wild Cherry, purporting to be prepared by some individuals in Baltimore, be sure you call for WISTAR'S BALSAM of Wild Cherry, and observe his signature on the bottle.

THE OLIVE BRANCH PILLS for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Liver Complaint, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Dyspepsia, Shortness of Breath, Pains in the Side, Breast, Back and Shoulders, Ague and Fever, Intermittent fever and all Scarlet and Bilious Fevers, and all diseases arising from exposure and debility, no matter how long standing—in fact all diseases to which the human family are subject to.

These pills are unsurpassed by any medical compound ever offered to the public as a general restorative and family medicine. They are very gentle in their operation, causing neither pain, sickness nor debility, by the use of them, but on the contrary they strengthen the stomach and bowels in a wonderful manner, and soon restore nature to its former course and vigor. The person using the Olive Branch Pills soon forgets that he was sick—which is very easily accounted for, there is not that prostration of strength in these pills as in many other remedies of the day, because the materials used in manufacturing them are in harmony with the powers of life and act in concert with the opinions of Drs. Brown, Bush, Armstrong, Montgomery, Hersey, Kendrick, Sheppard and the celebrated Dr. Waterhouse, formerly Lecturer on the theory and practice of Physic in Cambridge University, Massachusetts. Purchase of them, and give them a fair and impartial trial, and you will find that permanent relief, upon which the proprietors depend to make them the most universal family medicine used, and which will stand unrivaled by any other in he known world. Price 25 cents per box.

ROXBOROUGH, Sept. 10 1841.

DEAR SIR:—Please send me two more bottles of your Balsam of Wild Cherry, like that you sent me before. I have taken nearly all of the first two, and confidently believe this medicine will cure me. It has stopped my cough entirely, checked my night sweats, and I sleep better at night and feel better in every way, than have for many months. Yours, respectfully,

JAMES KELLY.
