SULLEADED TACKED

THE YOUNG DISCIPLE.

She gave her young pure heart to God, Ere it had known earth's wiles: Ere she had heard the tempter's voice, Or seen his luring smiles.

She stood before her chosen shrine, God's own most holy alter ; And left the world's gay scenes behind With faith that would not falter,

She turned from its gny halls of mirth ; Its mockery and prides.
And sought from heaven the endless rest That nought could give beside. She cast the world's bright gifts away

And chose that better part That lives beyond all earthly change, Or e'en the human heart. With prayers and tears, and sacred vows.

That priceless gem was given, To shine before God's holy throne, A morning star of Heaven.

PRESERVATION OF THE CHURCH

BY REV. JOHN MASON.

Church would be pronounced, upon common principles of reasoning, impossible.-She finds in every man a natural and in veterate enemy. To encounter and overcome the unanimous hostility of the world, she boasts no political stratagem, no disciplined legions, no outward coercion of any These are thoughts that come over us kind. Yet her expectation is that she will live forever. To mock this hope, and to and anxiety. Belief and unbelief wrestle blot out her memorial from under heaven, for the mustery over us, and we lose ourthe most furious efforts of fanaticism, the selves in the mist of doubt and speculation most ingenious arts of statesmen, the con- There is but one way in which these centrated strength of empires, have been doubts are ever solved, and that is by an frequently and perseveringly applied - implicit reliance on the goodness of the The blood of her sons and her daughters mysterious Power, in whom we live and has streamed like water: the smoke of the scaffold and the stake, where they were the crown of martyrdom in the cause of Je- mands and faith in the method by which sus, has ascended in thick volumes to the he provides access to himself. The tyrants have True Sim. long since gone to their own place; their names have descended upon the roll of infamy; their empires have passed, like shadows over the rock; they have succes-

But what became of the Church ! She rose from her ashes fresh in beauty and might; celestial glory beamed around her 'she dashed down the monumental marble of her foes, and they who hated her fled before her. She has celebrated the funeral of kings and kingdoms that plotted her destruction; and, with the inscriptions of their pride, has transmitted to posterity the records of their shame. How shall this phenomenon be explained? We are, at the present moment, witnesses of the fact; struction; and, with the inscriptions of the present moment, witnesses of the fact; but who can unfold the mystery? The book of truth and life has made our wonder to cease. "The Lord HER God IN THE MIDST OF HER IS MIGHTY." HIS presence is a fountain of health, and his protection a "wall of fire." He has betrothed her, in eternal covenant, to himself. Her living Head, in whom she lives, is a bove, and his quickening spirit shall never depart from her. Armed with divine virtue, his Gospel, secret, silent, unobserved, 'enters the hearts of men, and sets up ar 'everlasting kingdom. It eludes all the vigilance, and baffles all the power, of the adversary. Bars, and bolts, and dungeons · are no obstacles to its approach: bonds, and tortures, and death cannot extinguish its influence. Let no man's heart tremble, then, because of fear. Let no man despair (in these days of rebuke and blasphemy) of the Christian cause. The ark is launched, indeed, upon the floods; the tempest sweeps along the deep; the billows break over her on every side. But Jehovah-Jesus has promised to conduct her in safety to the haven of peace. She cangeot be lost unless the pilot perish.

THE WORLD OF SPIRITS.

The human mind is occasionly led off, In spite of its active employment in this world of bustle and care, to the contemplation of its future destiny. No man has Aived to years of discretion without considering at times what is to be his future condition, when he has "shuffled off his mor-'tal coil.', His existence in some other state of being seems to be certain, but what that state is he cannot determine.-All the world believe there is something beyond the grave, to which we are hastenling, and some look upon it with tranquility, if not satisfaction. The only revelation of that future condition of man is found in a work of great and unrivalled antiquity, the Bible, and in it we learn that the father of our spirits will in some way or other, reveal himself to us hereafter, more perfectly than he has seen fit to do in this life.-In that future state we shall learn more of the Divine character than has yet been made known to us. No one can look around him without observing the traces of an Almighty power-They are seen in the heavens where the starry multitude are sustained in their appropriate spheres, and on the earth, where every blade of grass is a mystery, and every flower perfection. They are seen in the origin and growth of our mortal frames, so nicely adjusted and flitted to contain an immortal spirit, or so curiously disarranged as to permit that spirit to disconnect itself from its tabernacle, and referant from the case where less amperatly detained. In setting forth the virtues of this truly great medicine, we have no desire to deceptioned who are laboring under affliction, nor do we wish to culogise it more than it justly deserves. Yet when we look around and see the vast amount of suffering and distress occasioned by many of the discases in which this medicine has proved so highly successful, we feel that we cannot urge its claims too strongly, or say too much in its favor.

Various remedies it is true have been offered and puffed into notice for the cure of diseases of the Lungs, and some have no doubt been found very useful, but of all that have yet been discovered, it is admitted by physiciaus and all who have witnessed its effects, that none has proved as successful as this. THE EXTRAORDINARY SUCCESS Attending the use of this medicine in discusses of the Lungs, and the many singular cures it has ef-ceted, having naturally attracted the attention of many physicians, (as well as the whole fraternity of packs) various conjectures and surmises have arisen especting its composition; some physicians have upposed it to contain lodine, other ignorant preten-lers say it must contain . Mercury, and to some such substance they each attribute its singular efficacy.— As such opinions are altogether erroncous, and cal-culated to prejudice many persons against it, we PLEDGE OUR HONOR
