ELEGANT EXTRACT .- "I have seen an end of all perfection. I have seen Man in the glory of his day and in the pride of his strength. He was built like the tall cedar that lifts its head above the forest trees; like the strong oak that strikes its roots far and deep into the earth. He feared no danger-he felt no sickness. His mind was vigorous like his body; he was perplexed at no intricacy; he was daunted at no difficulty; into hidden things he searched, and what was crooked he made plain. He went forth fearlessly upon the face of the mighty deep; he surveyed the nations of the earth; he measured the distance of the stars, and called them by their names : he gloried in the extent of his knowledge, in the vigor of his understanding, and strove to search even into what the Almighty had concealed. And when I looked on him I said, "What a piece of work is man; how noble in reason! how infinite in expression! in form and moving, how express and admirable! in action how like an angel! in apprehension how like a God!"

I turned-his look was no more long like some ruined tower; his hairs were white and scattered; and his eyes gazed vacantly upon what was passing around him. The vigor of his intellect was wasted, and of all that he had gained by study. nothing remained. He feared when there was no danger, ane when there was no sorrow he wept. His memory was decayed and treacherous, and showed him only broken images of the glory that was departed. His house was to him like a strange land, and his fairn. land, and his friends were counted as enemies; and he thought himself strong and healthful while his foot tottered on the verge of the grave. He said of his sonthe is my brother; of his daughter-I know her not; and enquired what was his own name. And one who supported his steps, and ministered to his many wants, said to me'as I looked on the melancholy scene-" let thy heart-receive instruction, for thou hast seen an end of all earthly perfection."

Thave seen a beautiful female treading the first stage of youth, and entering joyfully into the pleasures of life. The glance of her eye was variable and sweet, and on her cheek trembled something like the first blush of the morning; her lips moved, and there was harmony; when she floated in the dance, her light form like the aspen seemed to move with every breeze. Next followed upon my limbs, ulcers, painful beyond description. For years, both in summer and winter, the only intigation of my suffering was found in pouring upon those parts cold water. From my limbs the pain extended over my whole body. There was literally for me no rest, by day or by night. Improvement in whatever regards the happiness and welfare of our race is constantly on the march to perfection, and with each succeeding day some new problem is solved, or some profound secret reealed, having an important and direct bearing over man's highest destinies. If we take a retrospective view over the past twenty years, how is the mind struck with wonder! What rapid strides has science made in every department of civilized life! parti-cularly in that which relates to the knowledge of the human system in health and disease. How valuable and indispensable are the curative means recently liscovered through the agency of chemistry! How does the imagination kindle and our admiration glow t the ingenuity; the near approach to the standard f perfection, of the present time! Through the laborate investigations of Physiology, or the science of Life, and the Pathology of prevalent diseases, uch valuable practical knowledge has been gained consequence of becoming acquainted with the ormization, the elements of the various tissues and ructures of the system, remedies have been sought fter and discovered exactly adapted to combine with, eautralize and expel morbific matter, the cause of case, and substitute healthy action in its place .-The beautiful simplicity of this mode of treatment not only suggested by the pathology of diseases, not only grateful to the sufferer, but perfectly in cononance with the operations of Nature, and satisfactory to the views and reasonings of every intelligent, fleeting mind. It is thus that Sand's Sarsaparilla, scientific combination of essential principles of the nost valuable vegetable substances operates upon the stem. The Sarsaparilla is combined with the most llutary productions, the most potent simples of the egetable kingdom; and its unprecedented success n the restoration to health of those who had long pined under the most distressing chronic maladies, has given it an exalted character, furnishing as it loes evidence of its own intrinie value, and recommending it to the afflicted in terms the afflicted only can know. It has long been a most important desideratum in the practice of medicine to obtain a remedy similar to this -one that would act on the liver, stomach and bowels with all the precision and potency of infacral preparations, yet without any of their deleterious effects upon the vital powers of the Sands & Co.—Sins: Most gratefully do I embrace this opportunity for stating to you the great relief I obtained from the use of your Sarsaparilla. I shall also, be happy, through you, to publish to all who are affected, as I lately was, the account of my unexpected, and even for a long while despair of cure. Mine is a painful story, and trying and sickening as is the narrative of it, for the sake of many who may be surely relieved, I will briefly yet accurately state it.

During these almost twenty years I have consulted a many physicians. These have called my disease—a many physicians. These have called my disease—a sit was attended with an obstinate cough and a steady and active pain in my side—a dropsical consumption; and though they have been skilful practitioners, they were only able to afford my case a partal and temporary relief. I had many other difficulties too complicated to describe. I have also used many of the medicines that have been recommended as infallible cures for this disease, yet these all failed, and I was most emphatically growing worse. In this critical condition, given up by friends, and expécting for myself, relief only in death, I was by the timely interposition of a kind Providence, furnished with your, to me, invaluable Sarsaparilla. A single bottle gave me an assurance of health, whitch for twenty years had not once felt. Upon taking the second my en largement diminished, and in trætve days from the 8th of October, when I commenced taking your Sar saparilla, I was able to enjoy sleep and rest, by night as refreshing as any I ever enjoyed when in perfect health. Besides, I was, in this short time, relieved from all those 'exeruciating and unalleviated pains that had afflicted my days, as well as robbed me of my night's repose. The ulcers upon my limbs are healed, the Erysipelas cured, and my size reduced nearly to my former measure.

Thus much do I teel it a privilege to testify to the Thus much do I feel it a privilege to testify to the efficacy of your health-restoring Sarsaparilla. A thousand thanks, sir, from one whose comfort and whose liope of future health are due, under God, to your instrumentality. And may the same Providence that directed her to your aid, make you the happy and honored instruments of blessing others, as diseased and despairing as your much relieved and very grateful friend. DR. LEIDY'S SARSAPARILLA

DAILY are the effects of this meparation be-coming more apparent. Numerous persons assert they have derived more benefit from using one bottle of it, than three of snychler. This is easily accounted for, as Dr. Leidy's Sarsaparilla is a much stronger preparation than any other, and near twice as much is contained in one bottle as of any other (and sold at the same price). Let the public remem-this—it is no vain boast but the real fact.

Insetting forth the virtues of this truly great medicine, we have no desire to deceive those who are laboring under affliction, nor do we wish to culogise it more than it justly deserves. Yet when we look around and see the vast amount of suffering and distress occasioned by many of the diseases in which this medicine has proved so highly successful, we feel that we cannot urge its claims too strongly, or say too much in its favor.

Various remedies it is true have been offered and puffed into notice for the cure of diseases of the Lungs, and some have no doubt been found very useful, but of all that have yet been discovered, it is admitted by physicians and all who have witnessed its effects, that none has proved as successful as this. Such, indeed, are the Sun, inuces, are the Superior of this Balsam, that even in the advanced stage of Consumption, after all the most esteemed remedies of physicians have failed to effect any change, the use of this medicine has been productive of the most astonishing relief, and actually effected cures after all hopes of recovery had been despaired of.

In the first stages of the disease, termed "Catarrhal Consumption," originating from neglected Colds, it has been used with undeviating success, and hundreds acknowledge they owe the restoration of their health to this invaluable medicine alone. In that form of Consumption, so prevalent amongst delicate young females, commonly termed debility, or "GOING, INTO A. DECLINE,"

a physician of extensive practice in Huntingdon county:
Dear Sir—I procured one bottle of Dr. Wistar's Balsalm of Wild Cherry, from Thomas Reed, Esq. of this place, and tried it in a case of obstinate Asthma on a child of Paul Schwebie, in which many other remedies had been tried without any relief. The Balsalm gave sudden relief, and in my opinion the child is effectually cured by its use.

Yours, &c. JACOB HOFFMAN, M. D. December 22d, 1541.
