The Tariff Again!

The Volunteer forget when it published o opinions of Mr. Clay and Mr. Buchanan, upon the Tariff, to add those of Mr. Van Buren and Mr. Calhoun !- We subjoin them, and ask the particular attention of our Locofoco friends of the Tariff to their language. The first is Mr. Van Buren's, which, as the New York election is over, " ALBANY, Feb. 28, 1843.

in respect to the principle upon which it is founded, as to its details. In good time you will have views in respect to that and other subjects ore the public. In the mean time, believe me Very sincerely, Your friend and obit. servit.

M. VAN BUREN."

The second is Mr. Culhoun's answer to a conmittee of his friends, who addressed him the Representatives. question-" are you the advocate of a Tariff for the protection of manufactures?" He replied as

"FORT HILL, July 28, 1843. Gentlemen :- I had supposed that I would be the last man to whom the questions you put to me would be proposed. I had supposed that my subject were known to all; but s you desire an answer I will give it. I am decidedly opposed to a Tariff for the pro-tection of manufactures, both on the grounds of expediency and constitutionality; and, as far as I know, the party which supports my election are opposed to it also.

With great respect,

I am, &c. &c. J. C. CALHOUN." Now, what says Harry of the West? Before he resigned his scat in the Senate, he made the following frank and decisive declaration. Read it, Farmers, Manufacturers, Mechanics! and learn who is the true friend of American industry. "I have lived (said he) and shall die, in the conviction of the wisdom of the protective policy.

I have regretted during life, and shall when I die, the prevalence of those causes—I respectfully believe mistaken causes—which make some of my fellow citizens unwilling to adhere to it, el believe the day is not far distant, when a great majority of the whole nation will call upon the General Government for protection.

TWo observe by the last Volunteer, that Captain Sanderson was Chairman of the Committee on resolutions at the Buchanan meeting, on the 13th instant. If he wrote them, Capt. Sanough. Every friend of Harry of the West is carderson as Editor and Captain Sanderson as reso lution writer-must-he very different personages. It will be recollected that the Volunteer has been engaged for the last two weeks in an attempt to over 1000! prove that Mr. Clay is not in favor of any higher or more protective Tariff than is Mr. Buchanan, Mr. Van Buren or Mr. Calhoun. But in the re solutions of the inceting, we find Mr. Clay denounced as in favor of a High Prohibitory Tariff Such a Tariff, it is said, would be one of the measures of his Administration if elected. And this resolution is published in the Volunteer almost side by side with an article on "the Tariff again," n which Mr. Clay's letter is placed in parallel with an extract from Mr. Buchanan to show that both are in favor of incidental Protection only! And this after accusing us of trying to throw dust n the eyes of the people! Is it possible "the deocracy" can be duped and deceived in this way ?

The Banner Prize!

The committee of Whig young men in Bal imore, appointed to prepare a splendid Banner to be presented to the State delegation which shall have the largest number in attendance at the Whig Young Men's National Mass Convenion which meets in Baltimore in May next, to ratify the decision of the National Convention, have published a correspondence lately had with Jenry Clay. Use of the Beard. 3:7A friend, who has a flowing beard that would excite the envy of Mahomet were he alive tion. It is from a late number of the Roston Medical and Surgical Journal: .

"By recurring to the customs of the ancients both previous and for a long period subsequent to the time of our Saviour, it will be seen that it was analagous complaints, were of a very rare occur-rence among them. Indeed, we believe it to be a fact which cannot be controverted, that, with those nations where the hair and beard are worr long, the people are more hardy and robust, and much less subject to diseases, particularly of a pulmonary character, than those who shave. The Turk, the Russ, the Greenlander, the Persian, &c. American. Nor can this be attributed to any o atmospheric changes than the inhabitants of those Northern regions.

"The fashion of shaving the beard, like many other foolish and injurious customs of civilized life, has often originated from absurd and ridicu-lous causes. Among the first who practised shaving the beard, were the soldiers of Alexander the Great, who were commanded to remove their beards, in order that they might not serve as han-dles to their enemies in battle. When Louis XIII. ascended the throne of France, in 1656, it was the custom of the inhabitants to allow their faces to remain as their Creator made them. This mon-arch, however, was a beardless youth, and thus, in order to ape royalty, was shaving introduced and beards proscribed. In Spain, also, was the fashion introduced in a similar manner. Philip

A Tariff and Specie.

These two together. Without a tariff this country cannot retain a large amount of either gold or silver. The reason is plain enough .-Were there no tariff we would buy more from England than she would buy from us, and we to see it, has handed us the following for publica- would have to balance the account in specie; as, for instance-

In 1836 we imported goods from $118,000,000 abroad to the amount of In 1842 only to the amount of 36,000,000

Difference, ₹31 $82,000,000

The result is, we keep our gold and silver a ome new instead of sending it to England. But this is not all. England is obliged to purchase sixty or eighty millions of dollars' worth of our products every year. Formerly, she paid for them with broad-cloths, calicoes, &c. Now, however, we make these articles, to a very considerable extent, ourselves. The result is, she is obliged to send us thirty or forty millions of dollars in specie every year. Of this amount over seven millions were received in Boston alone, between January 1st and September 30th, of the present year. This fact we learn from the official records. How can hard money men oppose the tariff?-Rochester Democrat.

The Connecticut Courant says, the remark which we have seen in several Whig papers that Mr. CLAY's prospects for the Presidency at this time are better than were General Harrison's during the fall previous to the election, is one which may be made with great truth. Although it may startle some of our readers who do not keep election results in their minds, it is nevertheless true, that in the fall of 1839, there were My Dear Sir:—I thank you very kindly for your friendly letter. Tennessee which was then against us, Governor (2556 majority) and Legis. lature, has now chosen a Whig Governor by 4000 Briggs, (Whig,) 57,419; for Morton, (Locofoco) majority, and a Whig Legislature. Guorgia, which then elected a Van Buren Governor by najority of 1827, and a Legislature, in which was a Van Buren majority of 36 on joint ballot and the Locos 7. There are 21 vacancies from has now chosen a While Governor by about 4000 majority, and a Legislature in which the Whigs have a majority on joint ballot of from 50 to 60. North Carolina, which was then against us, is have been elected, and 119 Locofecos, leaving a now for us. In Maryland, in 1839, the popular Whig majority of 54! There was no choice in vote exhibited a Van Buren majority of 1154, and 115 towns, a part of whom may yet elect mem. his friends had a majority of 11 in the Legislabers. A majority of these towns are favorable to ture; now the Whigs have the popular vote and both branches of the Legislature. In Ohio, the Locos then had majority in the two Houses of 40; now the Whigs have a majority. Notwithstanding our lisasters in the above enumerated States in 1839. they all went for us at the Presidential election in 1840, and the result of their recent elections indicates that they will be found on the Whire side in 1844. Whig Prospects-1839 and 1843. | Progress of John Quincy Adams!

Mr. Adams arrived at Erie, Pennsylvania, on Tuesday the 31st ult., and was received with distinguished honors. He left that place on the same day, and arrived rather unexpectedly to the citizens, at Cleveland, Ohio, on the 1st. He addressed the citizens of the place in the church. He spoke of the growing prosperity of the West, and f the reception he had everywhere met with in the most enthusiastic terms. He was greeted with three cheers when he sat down. His progress is like a triumphal march. He left the same afternoon and expected to be in Columbus on Saturday the 4th, and in Cincinnati on the We learn by the Cincinnati Gazette, that, he

Ac. cordingly, on Friday at 10 o'clock, A. M., the citizens of Cincinnati formed a procession and escorted Mr. Adams to the Wesley Chapel, which was crowded. Not one half of those who desired to get in were able to do so, and we learn from the Cincinnati Gazette that thousands were unable either to see or hear the venerable speaker. Judge Burnet addressed Mr. Adams, and intro. duced him to the audience in a very happy and appropriate manner; and when he alluded to the honesty and disinterestedness of their guest, the Chapel was made to ring with cheers. When he had concluded, and the applause had ceased, the venerable Patriot rose and spoke for an hour and three quarters. His opening remarks were merely in response to the address by Judge Burnet, and the remainder was confined to the subject requested by the invitation he had received. The whole is soon to be published by the Astronomical Society of Cincinnati. Suicide and Confession.

A man named Sorick, who was su witness in the case of Adam Horn, about to b tried in Baltimore for the murder of his wife, committed suicide at Reisterstown, Maryland, by cutting his throat on Monday week. In conse quence of some confessions relative to the murder. which it was said he had made, he was taken into oustody; but succeeded in escaping from the room in which he was confined on Sunday morning, and when found he was lying behind a barn, with his threat cut, as above mentioned. Sorick, it may be remembered, is the person to whom Horn was about to make over his property when he was ar rested in Philadelphia. It is said the deceased acknowledged that he went into Horn's house when he was engaged in cutting up the body of his wife-that Horn told him he had killed her with a fire shovel, and promised, if he would not reveal the dreadful deed, he would make over to him his property.

WHEREVER PEASE'S HOREHOUND CAN-DY has been introduced and appreciated for its angistrates of the country, from the haughty and proud aspiring prince, to the inmate of the one-sta ry cabin-all have united in favor of the most splen did triumph in medical science; and it may be es tablished without fear of contradiction that although hundreds of quacks have palmed upon the community their worthless compounds, time has swept them into oblivion: Pease's Candy has stood the test, and ron for itself the name of the "True Panacea" for he cure of colds, coughs, &c. Among the ingredients is Sarsaparilla, which at the symmer season of the year nots as a purifier of the blood and cleanser the system by its mild and innocent operations.
