Joys are like summer flowers, And soon the blossoms of their beauty fall ; Clouds gloom o'er both; brief are of both the hours Death ends them all!

This is a world of strife, Of feverish struggles, and satiety, And blighted enterprise--what then is life ? Let the strong die !

All luiman love is vain. And human might is but an empty sound; Power both of mind and body bringeth pain--Death is its bound !

This is a world of wo. Of heaviness, and of anxiety; Why cling we then to evils that we know & Let the old die !

Wrestlings with fell disease, Vain lamentations o'er departed years ; Is not age rife with these ? Death dries all tears !

This is a world of pain : There is a "better land" beyond the sky ; A humble spirit may that portion gain-Let the just die !

But let those shrink with dread, Whose days have been of evil, lest they find; When all their earthly hopes are withcred, Despair behind !

Let them implore for aid, A fitter record for their years to give ; And lean on Him who mercifully hade The sinner live !
