LIFE. Oh ! what is life ? a waste of years, Of ioy and sorrow, smiles and tears, A catalogue of change ; (a set Yea, while we look around, and scan What happened in our own brief span, Things, which occurr'd since life began, Ey'n to ourselves, seem strange.

Then, what is life ?-- 'tis like a flower That blossoms through one sumy hour : A bright illusive decam ; A wave that melts upon the shore ;

A lightning flash that straight is o'er ; A phantom seen --- then seen no more--A bubble on the stream ! Look on the church-yard's yellow skull ----

Is not the contemplation full Of sectors thought and deep? "I'is ownerless---but yet are fied The spirit, Love unheld that head, And friends hung round a dying bed, To hide their eyes and weep.

Thus generation pass away---Tis renovation and decay---"Tis childhood and old age ;---Like figures in the wizard's glass, In long succession on we pass, Act our brief parts---and then, alas? Are swept from off the stage.

WHAT IS LIFE!

. How soon are the most striking events and solemn admonitions forgotten ! The excitement which is produced in us, how-ever strong, is for the most part transient and momentary. A strange sort of dela-sion seizes and stupifies the mind, and at settles down upon the lage of earth and cor-settles down upon the lage of earth and corsettles down upon the lees of carth and car-called a short period? I answer, Certainly it is, when compared with eternity. The life even of Methuselah was bitt to endless duration, what a drop of water is to the ocean, an atom to the universe. In the flush of youth, while fancy forms a thousand glittering pictures, and sports amidst the delights of sense and sin, this representation is wholly disregarded. I me then seems slow in its movement; and life presents a vast and varied field, illuminated with all the gay visions of hope and happiness. But the gray-headed senior, who is just finishing his mortal race, has widely different views. With him the enchantments of a delusive imagination have sucments of a delnsive imagination have suc-cessively vanished away, in the progress of sober experience. The similes and articles contrasted to his care, the most satisfactory figures used in Scriptores, to set forth the rapidity and shortness of life, are remarkaby apt and striking. It is a tale, a dream, a flower, a flood, a vapor. These are ob-cjects with which we are all familiar; but how few, alas ! revive the monitory les- be given sons they teach ! The tale is soon told; the dream with which we are tumultuously occupied, vanishes with the morning light, and not a fragment nor trace remains; the nower opens its rich tints to the sun, but Sucoros for for Source ner. even its bloom begins to fade, and shrink, and wither; the flood caused by a tempest rolls down the mountain-channel, and is swallowed up in the sea; the vapor gilds whith going and particle the events and disap-while we gaze and admire, melts and disap-him in the line of his profession, Carlisle; April 12, 1843, and full of trouble? In this critical condition, given up by friends, and expecting for my-sell, relief only in death, I was by the timely inter-position of a kind Providence, furnished with your, to me, invaluable Sarsaparilla. A single bottle gave me an assurance of health, which for twenty years had not once felt. Upon taking the second my en largement diminished, and in invelve dupy from the 8th of October, when I commenced taking your Sar esparilla, I was able to enjoy sleep and rest, by night This is to certife that my little son, about eight years old, had suffered for a long time from exten-sive sores on the right knee and leg, supposed to have been white swelling, which I found impossible to heal, even by the aid of the most respectable medical advice, until I was recommended to use MP. Oakeley's Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, 8 bot-tles of which not only healed the sores, but perfectly restored the child's health, which had suffered much in consequence of this affection.

The above case was presented to me both before and after the use of Mr. Oakeley's Syrup of Sarsa-parilla, and I have no hesitation in believing that it was the agent of his restoration. JOHN P. HIESTER, M D

DOUGLASSVILLE, April, 19, 1843, Mr. Onkeley:--My son Edmund Leat, had the serofula in the most dreadful and distressing man-ner for three years, during which time ho was de-prived of the use of his limbs, his head and neek were covered with ulcers. We tried all the differ-ent reimedies, but to uo effect until recommended by Dr. Johnson, of Norrist wa, and also Dr. Isaap Iliester, of Reading, to use your Depurativ Syrup of Sarsaparilla, of which I obtained several bottlec, the use of which drove the disease entirely out of his system, the sores healed up, and the child was restored to perfect health, which he has enjoyed un-interruptedig ever since, to the astonishment of ma-ny persons who seen him during his affliction. I have thought it my duty, and send you this certifi-cate, that others who have a like affliction in the family may khow where to obtain so valuable a med-cine. Yours, truly. A. D. LEAF.
