HERALD & EXPOSITOR

CARLISLE, PA.

Wednesday Morning April 24, 1844.

First Page.

☞On our first page will be found a spirit-stirring Clay Song to a favorite American air, and an extract from a powerful story in 'Blackwood,' on the French Revolution.

☞We have received from the National Clay Club, "Fifty Reasons why Henry Clay should be elected President," in a neat pamphlet of some forty pages. From a hasty glance, we should pronounce the 'reasons' good and sufficient for those who are not already convinced.

☞The New-York Tribune, probably the very best Whig journal in the country, has been considerably enlarged and improved in its typographical appearance.

☞We are indebted to Mr. Sullivan, of our State Senate, for a copy of the Report of the Judiciary Committee of the State Senate in support of the authority of the Legislature to tax Judges' salaries, and also to reduce to the same amount as they received at the time of their appointment the salaries of those Judges to whom an increase has been granted since their commissions were issued. The doctrine of this Report says the York Republican, is in opposition to the opinion of the Supreme Court as delivered by Justice ROGERS in May last; but in our poor judgment the Senate Committee have far the best of the argument.

A Change!

☞The "Herald" will be sent this week and hereafter to our subscribers in Shippensburg and Newville through the Post-offices of those places. We are led to this course by the solicitations of several of our subscribers, and the irregularity with which the papers have been received when carried on the rail-road cars.

Balloon Ascension!

☞We learn that our young townsman, Mr. J. A. CREVER, contemplates making a Balloon Ascension from this borough, some time during the ensuing month, if sufficient encouragement is given to the enterprise by our citizens. Mr. Crever is a gentleman of decided mechanical genius, and being a native of Carlisle deserves encouragement. He has already made two successful ascensions in Virginia, and would without doubt be as fully successful in any future attempt. Those who remember the balloon ascensions of Mr. Wise, last summer, cannot but desire the repetition of a performance so gratifying and exciting. We hope some energetic means will be promptly taken to ensure the accomplishment of the design.

Our Candidate!

☞An address to the People of Pennsylvania, detailing the most prominent incidents in the public life and character of Gen. JOSEPH MARKLE, the Whig candidate for Governor, will be found on our first page, to which we invite the special attention of our readers. It is the free and voluntary testimony of his neighbors—those who live around him and know him—and who cheerfully bear testimony to his private worth, his unblemished integrity, his great decision and energy of character, and though last not least, to the soundness of his political principles Let the public read it and then judge whether the character and services of Gen. MARKLE have not rendered him worthy the confidence of the Convention which placed him before the people as a candidate for the highest office in the State.

The great Whig Convention.

☞The young men's National Convention at Baltimore, on the 2d of May, will, without doubt be one of the most magnificent popular assemblages that has ever been held in the United States. We hear of preparations in every quarter—from the North, the South, the East and the West, delegates are taking up the line of march by thousands! Who can doubt the success of Henry Clay with such evidence of the enthusiasm and determination of the Whigs in every section of the Union?

Conveyance to Baltimore.

☞We invite the attention of gentlemen who intend going to the Young Men's National Convention, to the report of the Committee of the Central Clay Club, of Harrisburg, and the arrangements made by Messrs. J. & P. Martin of that borough for conveying delegates to Baltimore. It will be found in another place in this paper.

Death of Judge Baldwin.

☞The Hon. Henry Baldwin, one of the Judges of the U. S. Supreme Court, died at the Merchant's Hotel in Philadelphia on Sunday evening last. Judge Baldwin was appointed to the bench of the Supreme Court by Gen. Jackson, and was one of the ablest members of that high tribunal. His death was caused by a severe stroke of paralysis. He was in the sixty-fifth year of his age.

Several persons have already been mentioned as his successor, among whom are Chief Justice Gibson, Hon. G. M. Dallas, Horace Binney and James M. Porter.

The Texas Treaty.

☞Oliver Oldschool, in the U. S. Gazette of Monday, says that the treaty for the annexation of Texas is daily looked for in the Senate, and affirms his belief that it cannot be ratified by the Senate. Failing to succeed in the Senate it is said that the measure will be brought before both Houses of Congress as a joint resolution, which will require but a bare majority! The administration it seems is determined to force the annexation through, whether the people are in favor of it or not! Is this a free government?

The Cause is Onward.

☞The meeting of the friends of Clay and Markle at Sterrett's Gap on Saturday evening last we understand was well attended and the right spirit manifested. Another meeting, it will be seen by their proceedings, is to be held on Saturday the 18th of May, to organize a Clay Club. This is the true course. We hope our friends will wake up and form an active and efficient Club in every township in the County. Friends of Clay, wake up! there is work to be done!

Fire at Landisburg, Pa.

☞We learn from the Perry Freeman that on Thursday night, the 11th inst., the extensive Tannery of Parkinson Hench and Samuel Black, in Landisburg, was consumed by fire. Their loss is about $4,000, of which $3,000 is covered by insurance.

☞The Philadelphia Inquirer says, Professor Dunlap's work on Europe is now in the press of the Harpers. Its appearance will no doubt produce a sensation. The author gives his opinions with great freedom on a variety of interesting subjects. A chapter devoted to Louis Philippe, France and the fortifications of Paris will we venture to predict, be read with special interest.

Delegates to Baltimore.

☞The delegates from Cumberland county to the Young Men's National Convention at Baltimore, on Thursday the 2d of May, are requested to meet in a body at Barnum's Hotel in Monument Square, in that city, at 8 o'clock in the morning of that day, to organize and take such place in the great Procession as shall be assigned to them. The Convention will be held at Canton, a beautiful place at some little distance from the city.

We are glad to learn that some hundreds of the Young Whigs of this county have determined on being present on this glorious occasion. We hear of a large number who intend going from our borough, and Shippensburg and Mechanicsburg, as well as almost every township in the county, we understand will contribute their full quota towards giving Cumberland county a worthy representation in the great Convention.—From the note of preparation we hear in every quarter, we incline to the opinion that Pennsylvania will be the successful claimant of the banner!

Native Americanism.

☞Our neighbour of the 'Volunteer' got into a regular fury last week about the defeat of the Locos in the city of New York, and gave his readers nearly two columns of matter to prove that the new party of Native Americans and the Whigs are identical. The Locos are very anxious to make this appear, for the purpose of exciting the hostility of adopted citizens against Mr. Clay. But it is not true. The "Native American" party had its origin in the dissatisfaction created in the Locofoco ranks a year or two since, by their distribution of the spoils, when they took possession of the city government. Their avowed object was to prevent fraudulent voting, and to abridge the facility with which foreigners obtain the privilege of voting, and share in the emoluments and honors of office, as they alledged to the prejudice of native citizens. By active and persevering efforts, they succeeded in enlisting large numbers, of all parties and no party, in their cause; and now, a general wish and determination to overthrow the corrupt and tyranical Locofoco Administration of the city Government, brought a large accession to their forces, and swelled the vote for their candidates to more than all those cast for both the Whig and Locofoco tickets. Although the originators of this new party were Locofocos, a large portion of their votes were cast by Whigs, as they adroitly managed to take up for Mayor James Harper, a moderate Whig, and an unexceptionable man, which induced many Whigs to desert their own candidate, Morris Franklin, Esq. and vote the 'Native' ticket, as we said before, for the sole purpose of defeating the Locofocos.

The Legislature.

☞A sketch of one day's proceedings in the House pending the bill providing for the sale of the Main Line and the three mill Tax, will be found on the opposite page.

A resolution has passed both Houses to adjourn sine die on Monday the 29th instant.

The APPROPRIATION BILL has finally passed the Senate with numerous amendments, and will have to undergo a thorough revision in the House before it is finally passed.

The bill to sell the Main Line of the Public Works, and levy a State Tax of three mills, for the payment of the interests on the State Debt and the necessary expenses of Government, passed the House of Representatives, on Wednesday by the decisive vote of 55 to 28.

The following are the yeas and nays on the final passage of the bill:

YEAS—Messrs. Adams, Anderegg, Bennet Blair, Boal, Brackenridge, Brady, Bright, Brooke, Brush, Butler, Carson, Connor, Cooper, Cummins (Mifflin) Dickey, Edson, Farrell, Fatzinger, Gould, Hall, Herr, Hinchman, Ireland, Jordan, Kerr, Knox, Laning, Lawrence, Linton, Long, Maemanus, Musser, McEwen, McFadden, McKinley, Nicholson, Parke, Porter, Sankey, Shattuck, Shaw, Shindel, Smith of Clearfield, Smith of Lancaster, Snyder, Straub, Thompson, Toland, Trego, Tustin, Whitaker, Whitman, Snowden Spk'r.—55.

NAYS—Messrs. Ambrose, Bachman, Carpenter, Cumming of Fayette, Cummins of Butler, Dotts, Dunlap, Eckels, Elliott, Evans, Hammer, Heck, Hineline, Kauffman, Kugler, Metzger, Moore, Morgan, McCaslin, O'Bryan, Picking, Smith of Berks, Smith of Monroe, Smith of Wyoming, Strauss, Urban, Weber, Wilson.

The bill extending the charter of the Carlisle Bank has passed the Senate. It contains the clause making the stockholders individually liable.

The Convention.

☞Great preparations, says the Baltimore American, are being made by the Whigs of Baltimore for the reception and accommodation of the delegates to the National Convention. A grand Triumphal Arch is to be erected at the corner of Calvert and Baltimore streets, and another at the entrance of the place of meeting. Other smaller ones will be erected in various parts of the city. It is in contemplation to illuminate Monument square with the celebrated Drummond light, on the evening of the Convention.

The Whigs of Fell's Point are preparing a beautiful model ship, which will be drawn in the procession on a car fitted for the purpose. The affair will be one of the most brilliant and heart-cheering spectacles ever witnessed.

State Sabbath Convention.

☞We observe a call in the Harrisburg papers, signed by gentlemen from several counties, for a State Sabbath Convention, to be held in that borough on the 30th day of May next.

☞We learn from the Richmond (Va.) Whig that Micajah Pendleton died in Nelson county on the 9th of February, aged 86. He is believed to have been the foremost leader in the present great Temperance Reformation in Virginia, if not in the Union. Before the year 1800 it is known that he signed a temperance pledge, and carried it about, soliciting and obtaining signatures. His own pledge he kept faithfully till his death; extending it to wine and cider, which he considered as achoholic drinks, differing from whiskey only in strength. When drinking was common among professed Christians, he once said, "I hope to see the day when no Methodist will drink whiskey," and great was his joy to behold the movement, which commencing in 1827, has nearly fulfilled his wish.

The Thirteenth District.

☞The following is the official vote in the election for Congress, in the thirteenth district of this State, on Friday week:

	Pollock.	Snyder.
Union,	2086	1989
Lycoming,	1513	1358
Northumberland,	1425	1420
Clinton,	500	589
	5523	4656

Pollock's majority 859!

☞The New Bedford (Mass.) Bulletin states that it is in contemplation to have the New Bedford Whaling District characteristically represented at the Baltimore Ratification Convention, in part, by a crew of old salts, who are to take with them a beautiful specimen of a whale boat, in which they will take their station in the procession, as at the Bunker Hill gathering on the 10th of September, 1840.

☞We learn from the Richmond Enquirer, that Mr. V. B. Palmer, [on the advertising newspaper agent and Real Estate Broker, Philadelphia, has established a branch of his newspaper agency in New York. Office Tribune Building.

Notes by a Stranger.

☞Mr. Richards, of the Reading 'Journal,' who paid our town a flying visit a short time since, has we perceive been treating his readers to some 'pencillings' concerning the 'lions,' ladies, literati, etc. of our goodly borough. We republish his letter, not because we coincide in its opinions or endorse its conclusions, but to gratify the curiosity of our readers. The writer we believe is a lawyer as well as editor by profession, and an Episcopalian in religion, which will explain some of his remarks. As to the resemblance of our town to ancient or modern Athens, the writer would have been assisted in determining, had he been here yesterday to decide whether the Circus which occupied the public square was an exhibition of as noble a character as the Olympic games of the ancients! His remark upon female intelligence here is very much like that of the English cockney at Niagara, who sagely observed as he looked at the avalanche of waters, "Very neat—'pon honor!" But to the letter:

Correspondence of the Reading 'Journal.'

CARLISLE, April 17, 1844.

DEAR SIR:—Having heard from some of the citizens of this place, that it was called the Athens of Penn'a., I concluded to pay the Borough a visit; but have not as yet had time to ascertain whether the title was given on the principle of lucus a non lucendo, or whether Ancient or Modern Athens was referred to, when the epithet was applied. From a day's visit, I should however, infer the existence of a pleasant and intellectual circle of society and considerable taste in literature and the fine arts.

You will of course suppose that I devoted a due share of attention, to the 'lions' of the place. The College has much the appearance of a Cotton factory, the buildings being rather of the useful, than ornamental character. The institution is understood to be in a flourishing condition and ample facilities afforded for acquiring a thorough education. Professor DURBIN, the President of the College, is deservedly popular, and appears to be in every way qualified for the important and responsible position he occupies. He is understood to be preparing a book of travels for the press. His work is looked for with much interest, and will no doubt add greatly to our means of information, in reference to the countries which he visited.

Carlisle, itself, is rather a pretty place,—of course not to compare with Reading, nor indeed Harrisburg; still, it is an agreeable place of residence; in a fertile country; and much praised—by its citizens. The college libraries afford excellent means for mental improvement,—means which we may hope are not entirely neglected. In fact some of the ladies are said to be decidedly intelligent. Our means of observation were limited, but we saw no reason to doubt the assertion.

The United States has a company of flying Artillery, or something of the kind here. I did not visit the Barracks, having little taste for the kind of display to be anticipated. I understand the officers, or at least some of them, are quite popular—among the ladies.

I was more interested in the Courts of justice now in session. The Court house has no great claims—either to external magnificence or internal comfort. It is rather a poorer affair than the old Berks County Court House: the accommodations for the Court, the Bar, and the public are wretched. I was struck with the number of jurors and witnesses who "swear" by the uplifted hand "—an oath rarely, if ever administered in Berks, but said to be the favorite mode of swearing among the Scotch-Irish, the descendants of whom make up a large portion of the population of Cumberland County.

Judge Hepburn presides with much dignity, and though probably the youngest Judge in the State, has already gained a high reputation as an accomplished jurist. He is a gentleman of fine intellect and logical mind. The legal profession in Cumberland embraces much talent. I observed Messrs. Biddle, Reed and Watts—names known to many of your readers.

Among the Churches of Carlisle, I may mention the Episcopal—Old and New School, or First and Second Presbyterian—and Methodist. The Presbyterian church divided some years ago, while under the care of Mr. Duffield, and now makes two respectable congregations. There is much dissatisfaction in the Episcopal church, in consequence of the Puseyism of their Rector. Many of the oldest and most intelligent families of the denomination do not enter the church. I attended on Sunday morning and heard a sermon, which for mysticism would have done honor to Dr. Pusey himself. As a specimen of this peculiar style, it was of no little interest—to me rather more interesting than edifying.

The Churches of Carlisle have no great claims to admiration. I hesitated some time in front of the Methodist church, before I could decide whether it was a jail or bank. With the expectation of hearing Professor Durbin, I attended there on Sunday evening and was disappointed, but had the satisfaction of hearing it announced that he would preach next Sunday. On this occasion the Conference preacher, Mr. Davis, gave us an old fashioned Methodist sermon. It is only of late years that this worthy denomination patronize colleges.

A good portion of my time was spent in visiting the Common Schools. I find an excellent system of grading in operation, as established, when the law was first accepted in 1836. There are two High Schools, Male and Female, with schools of two grades below. The Male High School is admirably conducted, and affords an English and Mathematical education of the best character. The Female High School is also creditable to the borough. The other schools are neither above nor below the average of schools in other places. I was indebted to Mr. Hamilton, the Secretary of the Board, for various facilities in acquiring information in regard to the schools, and must congratulate the citizens of Carlisle, upon having secured the services of so efficient a friend of education.

On the whole, Carlisle is a pleasant place, with pleasant people, indigenous and exotic. "May their shadows never be less." R.

MARRIED,

✓On the 18th inst. by J. N. Hoffman, Mr. ADAM SENSEMAN to Miss MARY ANN GOULD, both of Carlisle.

The Regimental and Battalion trainings for inspection, will take place under the command of their respective Field Officers as follows, viz:

The First Battalion of Cumberland Volunteers under the command of Col Samuel Alexander, on Monday the 13th day of May next.

The 197th Regiment P. M under the command of Col Armstrong Noble, on Tuesday the 14th day of May next.

The First Battalion of the 23d Regiment P M under the command of Col John Wynkoop, on Monday the 20th of May.

The First Regiment of Cumberland Volunteers under the command of Col W. H. Woodburn, on Tuesday the 21st of May.

The Second Battalion of the 23d Regiment P M under the command of Col John Wynkoop, on Wednesday the 22d day of May.

The Second Battalion of the 196 Regiment P M under the command of Col Henry B Rebuck, on Thursday the 24h of May.

The Mount Rock Independent Light Infantry Company, under the command of Capt Rhoads, on the same day and same place.

The Union Guard Company under the command of Capt David Wherry, on the same day and at the same place.

The First Battalion of the 196th Regiment P M under the command of Col Henry B Rebuck, on Friday the 25th of May.

Captains in command of Militia Companies, or the enrolling officers, will be required (under the penalty of receiving no pay for their services) to make the enrolment of their respective companies in the manner directed by law. To be legal, none must be enrolled but such persons as are actually subject to militia duty within the bounds of the company. Exempt Volunteers are not the subject of enrollment. The too common practice of merely copying from old rolls is not the meaning or spirit of the law, nor is it the plan by which to arrive at the true strength of the company. A new and personal enrollment must be made—or there will be no pay for the service.

Brig Insp 1st Brig 11th Div P M.
